Katanga Secession Over

TORNADO DEALS LETHAL BLOW IN GALVESTON — The staggering backlash of Hurricane Carla spawned a lethal tornado in Galveston, Texas, causing extensive damage, death and injury. Here are some of the homes torn and twisted by the storm. Police, digging in the mounds of collapsed homes, said they saw what they believed were six bodies. Between 50 and 60 persons suffered injury. (AP Wirephoto)

Carla Debris May Yield More Bodies

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP)—Texas and western Louisiana areas in watery ruin turned today to a staggering task of rebuilding left by Hurricane Carla, one of the mightiest ever to roar out of the Gulf of Mexico.

With a possibility more bodies yet may be found, the death toll stood at 15 along 250 miles of coastline laid waste by hurricane gales up to 175 miles per hour, raging seas and a rash of tornadoes. Damage which may take months to compute ran into hundreds of millions.

Health Another Problem

Added to the mammoth recovery chore were problems of polluted water supplies and companion health threats in scores of towns and cities, a few still under as much as eight feet of water.

Flood threats posed by heavy rains in Carla's wake were another factor.

Also ahead was the return home for most of an estimated half million people who moved inland as Carla approached, a mass migration averting much heavier loss of life.

Ten of the deaths occurred as the dying winds of Carla hurled back tornadoes after the hurricane's center was many miles inland. Finally shorn of its vicious gales, remnants of the giant tropical storm moved northeastward out of Texas toward Missouri.

OCDM Head Going

In a telephone conference Tuesday night, President Kennedy told Texas Gov. Prince Daniel that the director of the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization, Frank B. Elliis, would arrive in Houston Thursday to inspect storm-ravaged areas.

Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson prepared to fly back to his home state with other federal officials. Daniel said the President may come to Texas later.

The governor said Galveston and inundated Texas City, on the mainland nearby, "right now appear to have the greatest need for additional state help from the standpoint of food, health and the protection of property."

Rolling toward the coast was a 38-car special train taking 122 men and 80 vehicles to restore 100,000 telephones knocked out by the hurricane.

New Storm Moves In Atlantic, Is Called Dangerous

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Esther, with peak winds at 130 miles an hour, churned on a west-northwest course today as the tropical Atlantic tossed out hurricanes in Roman candle fashion.

Betsy, Debbie and now Esther have sprung in the past two weeks from the tropical storm nesting grounds off Africa's west coast.

Moves at 12 MPH

A hurricane hunter airplane from San Juan, P.R., penetrated the storm early today and estimated the center about 1,400 statute miles east of San Juan. The hurricane was moving west-northwest at about 12 m.p.h.

Esther was labelled a "dangerous hurricane" and shipping in her path was warned to exercise caution.

The peak winds cover a small area near the center. Hurricane force winds extend outward 135 miles in the northern semicircle and 65 miles in the southern semicircle. Gale winds extend outward 230 miles in all directions.

The hurricane was expected to maintain its course and speed for the next 12 hours with little change in size or intensity.

Forecaster Elbert Hill said the course, if unchanged, would carry

Art Exhibit Is Slated at Bank

Ulster County Art Association will hold its second annual exhibition of paintings by its members in the lobby of the Ulster County Savings Institution, Wall Street, next week. The public is invited to view the exhibit.

The exhibit will be on view during banking hours from Monday, Sept. 18 through Friday, the 29th. Viewers may cast their ballot for the painting of their choice and awards will be made at the close of the exhibition.

Last year more than 1,500 persons viewed the display.

Know All Facts About College Voters Are Urged

An Ulster County Community College will come into being only through the informed efforts of every qualified voter, Richard M. Kalish said in a talk before the weekly meeting of The Kingston Lions Club today.

Kalish cited the need for an informed citizenry on this very important topic because The Ulster County Board of Supervisors is placing a resolution before the voters of the county in November. In his talk, the speaker drew upon a rich background of study and active participation in the efforts of the Citizens Advisory Committee of which he has been a member since its organization in 1958.

In urging every qualified voter to study and digest the facts on the subject, Kalish pointed out that the board of supervisors has already delayed the start of the college, though the need for one grows greater each year. Drawing from the studies conducted by the advisory committee, county educators, and the university of the State of New York, Kalish cited the fact that county high schools are educating potential college students in increasing numbers. This year, approximately 1,000 young people were graduated from the high schools in Kingston, Saugerties, Onteora Central and Rondout Valley Central. Many more completed their high school training in other county high schools.

Kalish told his audience that Ulster County already sends 173 students to community colleges in nearby Dutchess and Orange Counties, with the number increasing yearly. He urged consideration of the little known fact that Ulster County taxpayers, by law, share the cost of educating its citizens' children in other county colleges of this type. The County of Ulster's bill for this item rose from $25,665 to $36,680 in the past two years, and it is expected that this bill will top the $50,000 mark within a year or two. He compared this figure with the cost of amortizing the capital expenditure on a college of our own, along with the added convenience to our own students if they were able to attend a college in their own home county. He felt that it would be a much more attractive investment for Ulster County citizens to own their college rather than to help nearby counties pay for theirs.

According to the speaker, the capital expenditure made by a county for its community college is matched by state funds. The operating expenses are shared equally by The State of

Tshombe Claims He Is Tricked

U.N. Troops Down Armed Resistance

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—The United Nations announced today a forceful end to Katanga's secession from the Congo. U.N. troops downed military resistance in a blood-spilling fight of several hours at Elisabethville, the provincial capital.

President Moise Tshombe fled, denouncing the attack, and the Leopoldville central government appointed an administrator to take over the mineral-rich province.

"The Katanga secession is over," U.N. headquarters here was told by its Elisabethville represenative, Conor Cruise O'Brien. "Katanga is now a Congolese province."

End to Independence

This would mean an end to the independence of the lush, copper-laden plateau land proclaimed by Tshombe 14 months ago.

It also would mean diversion of millions in tax revenues from Katanga's $980-million annual production to the treasury of the deficit-run central government.

Casualties among Elisabethville defenders were undetermined.

Swedish sources said one U. N. soldier, a Gurka in Indian ranks, was killed. They reported five Swedes and seven Indians wounded. U. N. headquarters here said two U. N. soldiers were killed and five or six wounded.

U. N. Asked to Take Over

Premier Cyrille Adoula announced the Katanga army — stripped of its 500 or so white mercenaries by another show of U. N. force Aug. 28—will be integrated with troops of the central government's commander in chief, Gen. Joseph Mobutu.

Adoula told newsmen he had asked the United Nations to take over all essential services in Katanga and his government has declared a state of emergency in the province.

Tricked, He Says

A radio report picked up from Elisabethville said Tshombe, after reaching a safe hideout, issued a statement.

"The United Nations tricked me right to the end. Only last night they gave me a solemn promise that they would not go against the Katanga government. Nor would they disarm Katanga's troops, they said," the statement said.

"Early today they told me they were arresting three of my ministers and wanted to take me to Leopoldville."

Boys Cause Rash, So She'll Attend All-Girl School

LOUGHTON, England (AP) — Jane Reeve, who breaks out in a rash when she mixes with boys, has won her battle to save her schoolgirl complexion.

She gaily skipped off today to an all-girl school where there'll be no boys to bring out those ugy blemishes.

Jane, 11, is allergic to boys. Boys make her nervous. That brings on the rash.

Finishing at her girls' school, Jane was threatened with a rash of rashes when she was assigned to a coed high school in this town just outside London.

Her father, Leslie Reeve, protested to the local educational authorities. He told them about the rashes.

The authorities turned down his request that Jane be allowed to attend the local girls-only school. That school, they said, is full.

Even a doctor's certificate, pointing out Jane's strange ailment, wouldn't budge them.

Until Tuesday, that is, when the authorities, after thinking things over, decided that in the interests of her health Jane should go to a girls' school.

An education official said: "It is felt that, in view of Jane's extreme nervousness, there is justification for her to be allowed to attend a single-sex school."

He said a place had been found at a girls' school a few miles out of Loughton.

Three Area Men Become Troopers, Graduate Today

Three area men are among 92 scheduled for graduation today from a school to train state troopers at the State University College of Education in Oneonta.

One of them is Robert H. Houghtaling, formerly a two-year provisional officer on the Kingston Police Department. The two others are Francis H. Stelner, also of this city, and Wayne G. Lawrence of Accord.

State Police Superintendent Arthur Cornelius was to address the recruits making up the largest class in the State Police Division. They began a 12-week training course last June.

Earlier this year 150 men were added to the force which numbers 1,630.

Today's graduates will be assigned to posts in various parts of the state.

Man on Bridge Changes Plea, Says Innocent

John W. Slater, 32, of 132 Clinton Avenue, charged with seriously disturbing the peace after his reported attempt Saturday to jump from the Esopus Creek bridge, today changed his plea from guilty to innocent and City Judge Aaron E. Klein set Oct. 9 for trial.

A driver booked for speeding as a third offender was sentenced today and seven charged with vehicle and traffic violations paid $50 in fines Tuesday night.

Charges Dismissed

Charges against one of two men booked after an alleged car theft Sept. 1, were dismissed last night, and the other is due to be dealt with Sept. 21.

Freed from involvement in the car theft and discovery of a revolver in the vehicle was Isidro Torres Garcia, 21, of Middle Hope, and due for appearance Sept. 21 is Jorge Figueroa, 27, who has no permanent home.

They were arrested shortly after 2 a. m., Sept. 1, after they were allegedly found in the car near the Rondout Creek bridge by Sgt. Carl Janasiewicz. The car, police said, was owned by Joseph Lurie, of 33 Hone Street. Insufficient evidence was cited as the reason for dismissing the charges against Garcia.

Removed by Police

Attorney Ward Ingalsbe appeared for Slater, who, police said, caused crowd-gathering and a traffic jam in his reported attempt to jump from the bridge. Bail, fixed at $500, was not posted. Slater was taken from the bridge by officers George Barringer, Louis Sapp, Anthony Turck and Frank Monte.

Alfred Kauffman, 21, of Ashokan, charged with speeding as a third offender, was given the choice of paying a $100 fine, or spending 50 days in jail. The

Nuclear War Is Not The End: Scientist

EDITOR'S NOTE — By taking the necessary measures now, a world-famous nuclear scientist says, the nation can either avoid atomic war or win it if it comes. Dr. Edward Teller believes 90 per cent of the U.S. population could survive the holocaust. This is the first of three articles on the subject.

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The date is some dreadful tomorrow.

The holocaust of nuclear war suddenly sweeps the United States.

But 90 per cent of Americans could actually survive, declares Dr. Edward Teller of H-bomb fame.

And in three to four years, they could rebuild desolated industries, cities, schools, homes. Democratic institutions would function again.

Lingering radiation would be a problem, but not insuperable, he says. The human race would not perish. Nor would future generations be destined to be born misshapen monsters.

Dr. Teller is convinced this country and other nations could survive despite the "doomsday" fear which grips and paralyzes millions of people in the face of nuclear war.

Indeed, he regards this attitude and lack of defense as a temptation for a well-prepared nation to launch thermonuclear war.

It is an invitation to panic and wholesale, needless loss of life if bombs ever fall, says the famous physicist of the Lawrence Radiation Laboratory of the University of California.

Names Three Steps

Three steps could create the defense for insurance against war, or for national survival if it comes Dr. Teller said in an interview challenging many general conceptions:

1. Building shelters against fallout and against the blast and fire from nuclear bombs.

2. Stockpiling surplus food, ma-

Recovery In Ocean Underway

40 Miles Short Of Impact Area

Capsule Recovered

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The United States took a long stride toward manned orbital flight today by rocketing a Mercury space capsule into orbit and recovering it after one sweep around the earth.

The two-ton capsule, which carried an "artificial astronaut," was fished from the Atlantic Ocean 161 miles east of Bermuda by the destroyer USS Decatur at 12:14 p. m.—just over three hours after it roared away from Cape Canaveral on the nose of an Atlas missile.

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The United States sent an "artificial astronaut" on a one-turn orbital ride around the earth today and brought the space vehicle back to a landing in the Atlantic.

The Project Mercury space capsule went up at 9:04 a.m. from this missile test center on the nose of a mighty Atlas rocket.

Ships, Planes on Way

An hour and 46 minutes later, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration reported the space traveler had been lowered on its parachutes.

The intended impact area was 230 miles east of Bermuda.

Recovery ships and planes hastened to the area to attempt recovery.

An airplane spotted the floating capsule minutes after it landed.

The capsule is identical to the one a man is expected to ride on a three-turn orbital flight in a few months. The robot spaceman—a small gray box of instruments — was designed to "breathe, sweat and talk" just like a human astronaut.

Would Be Big Stride

Full success for the trial would be a long leap forward in the program aimed to match or surpass Russia's manned orbital flights.

NAS Aofficials spotted the landing point as 160 miles east of Bermuda, some 40 miles short of the planned impact point.

That created some delay in the recovery operation.

The USS Decatur, a destroyer, was the closest ship. It was expected to arrive about noon EST.

Helicopters also were dispatched from the USS Plymouth Rock, an LSD which is the flagship of the recovery fleet.

Reverse rockets were set off as the space traveler sped over the Mexican west coast, to slow it for a descent into the Atlantic east of Bermuda. There an attempt was to be made to recover the Project Mercury capsule, just as would be done if a spaceman were aboard.

1961 Attempt Uncertain

A fully successful operation would be a long stride toward the time, hopefully—but not certainly within this year—when a real

3 Americans Die In Rabat Crash Taking 77 Lives

RABAT, Morocco (AP) — A French jet airliner crashed into a ravine near Rabat Tuesday night and burst into flame, killing all 77 persons aboard.

Three U.S. citizens, an Arabian prince, the Australian ambassador to Cairo, a Moroccan diplomat and two Soviet citizens were among the victims, said a spokesman for Air France, operator of the plane.

Coming From Paris

The twin-jet Caravelle airliner was coming in from Paris for a landing in a heavy fog and was in radio contact with the Rabat control tower.

Suddenly the radio cut out. A few minutes later the plane crashed.

Flames towered from the ravine as firemen raced for the crash scene, about a half mile from the airport.

The victims were 71 passengers and 6 crew members.

Among the passengers listed by Air France were three Americans: Neville Fowler, a Navy officer from Pittsburgh; John Brown, a Navy officer from Bayside, Va., and W. Paige, an engineer whose home address was unavailable.

Other Victims

Other victims were: John Quinn, Australia's ambassador to the United Arab Republic; Moham-

Dominican Clashes Kill 4, Scores Hurt

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Tanks and troops restored order today after rioting by opposition political groups left four dead and more than a score injured.

The violence was sparked by the arrival of a four-man team from the Organization of American States Tuesday. They are investigating the possibility of lifting some of the diplomatic and economic sanctions on the Dominican regime that took over after the assassination of Generalissimo Rafael L. Trujillo last May. The opposition fears this would entrench Trujillo's heirs in power.

There were conflicting versions of what happened near Duarte Bridge over the Ozama River around noon Tuesday, when a crowd of about 5,000, mostly from a nearby working class neighborhood, gathered to greet the OAS delegates.

Opposition eyewitnesses claimed that a car filled with armed forces and plain clothes police jumped out of their unmarked car and fired pistols and automatic rifles into the crowd.

But Col. Marcos Jorge, chief of the national police, said an air force sergeant, Victoriano Cruz Hernandez, was angered when the crowd stoned his car, emptied his revolver into the demonstrators and then fired his automatic rifle. Cruz Hernandez was turned over to civilian authorities for investigation, Jorge said.

The OAS caravan was chased about a mile toward the city by the crowd. Demonstrators chanted "liberty" and "brutality" and beat on the cars. Some carried placards deriding the U.S. representative, deLesseps Morrison, for accepting a medal from Trujillo. He has said the State Department advised him to accept it.

Some of the opposition leaders claim the police have provoked numerous riots—killing more than a dozen demonstrators in past weeks—and are trying to weaken the opposition by branding it as pro-Communist.

While President Joaquin Balaguer is the nominal head of the nation, the real power is generally considered to rest in the hands of Gen. Rafael L. Trujillo Jr., chief of the armed forces and son of the slain dictator.

Red Feather Drive Will Start October 2

The Ulster County Community Chest Campaign for 1962 will begin on October 2, with a goal of $177,000. Making the announcement was W. Henry Halterman, president of the Chest executive board, who stated that the figure had been arrived at only after careful study of all agency requests, by the budget committee under the chairmanship of William Hobbs.

This year's goal is a marked increase over last year's total of $125,000. President Haltermann stated that among the reasons for the increase, were the addition of two new agencies and the expansion of area coverage.

The two new agencies that have been added are Cerebral Palsy and Gateway Industries. CP is a major health agency which provides rehabilitation for physically handicapped children. Palsy, muscular dystrophy and speech and hearing defects are but some of the handicaps treated, Gateway Industries gives handicapped people the opportunity for gainful employment. Training under experienced supervision has restored their will to work and become productive members of their community.

Expansion of the Ulster County Chest area reflects inclusion of New Paltz, Rosendale, and Saugerties. As a result of this expansion, one drive will replace the individual drives formerly conducted in these towns by the following organizations: Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, AHRC, USO, Salvation Army, Cerebral Palsy, Gateway Industries.

In the Kingston area the above Agencies and Boys' Club, YMCA, YWCA and Jewish Community Center are included in the area appeal, due to their services to this particular area.

Three Area Men Become Troopers, Graduate Today

Three area men are among 92 scheduled for graduation today from a school to train state troopers at the State University College of Education in Oneonta.

One of them is Robert H. Houghtaling, formerly a two-year provisional officer on the Kingston Police Department. The two others are Francis H. Stelner, also of this city, and Wayne G. Lawrence of Accord.

State Police Superintendent Arthur Cornelius was to address the recruits making up the largest class in the State Police Division. They began a 12-week training course last June.

Earlier this year 150 men were added to the force which numbers 1,630.

Today's graduates will be assigned to posts in various parts of the state.

Man on Bridge Changes Plea, Says Innocent

John W. Slater, 32, of 132 Clinton Avenue, charged with seriously disturbing the peace after his reported attempt Saturday to jump from the Esopus Creek bridge, today changed his plea from guilty to innocent and City Judge Aaron E. Klein set Oct. 9 for trial.

A driver booked for speeding as a third offender was sentenced today and seven charged with vehicle and traffic violations paid $50 in fines Tuesday night.

Charges Dismissed

Charges against one of two men booked after an alleged car theft Sept. 1, were dismissed last night, and the other is due to be dealt with Sept. 21.

Freed from involvement in the car theft and discovery of a revolver in the vehicle was Isidro Torres Garcia, 21, of Middle Hope, and due for appearance Sept. 21 is Jorge Figueroa, 27, who has no permanent home.

They were arrested shortly after 2 a. m., Sept. 1, after they were allegedly found in the car near the Rondout Creek bridge by Sgt. Carl Janasiewicz. The car, police said, was owned by Joseph Lurie, of 33 Hone Street. Insufficient evidence was cited as the reason for dismissing the charges against Garcia.

Removed by Police

Attorney Ward Ingalsbe appeared for Slater, who, police said, caused crowd-gathering and a traffic jam in his reported attempt to jump from the bridge. Bail, fixed at $500, was not posted. Slater was taken from the bridge by officers George Barringer, Louis Sapp, Anthony Turck and Frank Monte.

Alfred Kauffman, 21, of Ashokan, charged with speeding as a third offender, was given the choice of paying a $100 fine, or spending 50 days in jail. The

SENTENCED IN BRITAIN—Earl Bertrand Russell, 89-year-old British philosopher, and Lady Russell appear at the London court where they were sentenced to seven days in jail for declining to promise to keep the peace in his civil disobedience campaign against nuclear weapons. Nuclear War Is Not The End: Scientist

EDITOR'S NOTE — By taking the necessary measures now, a world-famous nuclear scientist says, the nation can either avoid atomic war or win it if it comes. Dr. Edward Teller believes 90 per cent of the U.S. population could survive the holocaust. This is the first of three articles on the subject.

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The date is some dreadful tomorrow.

The holocaust of nuclear war suddenly sweeps the United States.

But 90 per cent of Americans could actually survive, declares Dr. Edward Teller of H-bomb fame.

And in three to four years, they could rebuild desolated industries, cities, schools, homes. Democratic institutions would function again.

Lingering radiation would be a problem, but not insuperable, he says. The human race would not perish. Nor would future generations be destined to be born misshapen monsters.

Dr. Teller is convinced this country and other nations could survive despite the "doomsday" fear which grips and paralyzes millions of people in the face of nuclear war.

Indeed, he regards this attitude and lack of defense as a temptation for a well-prepared nation to launch thermonuclear war.

It is an invitation to panic and wholesale, needless loss of life if bombs ever fall, says the famous physicist of the Lawrence Radiation Laboratory of the University of California.

Names Three Steps

Three steps could create the defense for insurance against war, or for national survival if it comes Dr. Teller said in an interview challenging many general conceptions:

1. Building shelters against fallout and against the blast and fire from nuclear bombs.

2. Stockpiling surplus food, ma-

3 Americans Die In Rabat Crash Taking 77 Lives

RABAT, Morocco (AP) — A French jet airliner crashed into a ravine near Rabat Tuesday night and burst into flame, killing all 77 persons aboard.

Three U.S. citizens, an Arabian prince, the Australian ambassador to Cairo, a Moroccan diplomat and two Soviet citizens were among the victims, said a spokesman for Air France, operator of the plane.

Coming From Paris

The twin-jet Caravelle airliner was coming in from Paris for a landing in a heavy fog and was in radio contact with the Rabat control tower.

Suddenly the radio cut out. A few minutes later the plane crashed.

Flames towered from the ravine as firemen raced for the crash scene, about a half mile from the airport.

The victims were 71 passengers and 6 crew members.

Among the passengers listed by Air France were three Americans: Neville Fowler, a Navy officer from Pittsburgh; John Brown, a Navy officer from Bayside, Va., and W. Paige, an engineer whose home address was unavailable.

Other Victims

Other victims were: John Quinn, Australia's ambassador to the United Arab Republic; Moham-

Recovery In Ocean Underway

40 Miles Short Of Impact Area

Capsule Recovered

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The United States took a long stride toward manned orbital flight today by rocketing a Mercury space capsule into orbit and recovering it after one sweep around the earth.

The two-ton capsule, which carried an "artificial astronaut," was fished from the Atlantic Ocean 161 miles east of Bermuda by the destroyer USS Decatur at 12:14 p. m.—just over three hours after it roared away from Cape Canaveral on the nose of an Atlas missile.

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The United States sent an "artificial astronaut" on a one-turn orbital ride around the earth today and brought the space vehicle back to a landing in the Atlantic.

The Project Mercury space capsule went up at 9:04 a.m. from this missile test center on the nose of a mighty Atlas rocket.

Ships, Planes on Way

An hour and 46 minutes later, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration reported the space traveler had been lowered on its parachutes.

The intended impact area was 230 miles east of Bermuda.

Recovery ships and planes hastened to the area to attempt recovery.

An airplane spotted the floating capsule minutes after it landed.

The capsule is identical to the one a man is expected to ride on a three-turn orbital flight in a few months. The robot spaceman—a small gray box of instruments — was designed to "breathe, sweat and talk" just like a human astronaut.

Would Be Big Stride

Full success for the trial would be a long leap forward in the program aimed to match or surpass Russia's manned orbital flights.

NAS Aofficials spotted the landing point as 160 miles east of Bermuda, some 40 miles short of the planned impact point.

That created some delay in the recovery operation.

The USS Decatur, a destroyer, was the closest ship. It was expected to arrive about noon EST.

Helicopters also were dispatched from the USS Plymouth Rock, an LSD which is the flagship of the recovery fleet.

Reverse rockets were set off as the space traveler sped over the Mexican west coast, to slow it for a descent into the Atlantic east of Bermuda. There an attempt was to be made to recover the Project Mercury capsule, just as would be done if a spaceman were aboard.

1961 Attempt Uncertain

Red Feather Drive Will Start October 2

The Ulster County Community Chest Campaign for 1962 will begin on October 2, with a goal of $177,000. Making the announcement was W. Henry Halterman, president of the Chest executive board, who stated that the figure had been arrived at only after careful study of all agency requests, by the budget committee under the chairmanship of William Hobbs.

This year's goal is a marked increase over last year's total of $125,000. President Haltermann stated that among the reasons for the increase, were the addition of two new agencies and the expansion of area coverage.

The two new agencies that have been added are Cerebral Palsy and Gateway Industries. CP is a major health agency which provides rehabilitation for physically handicapped children. Palsy, muscular dystrophy and speech and hearing defects are but some of the handicaps treated, Gateway Industries gives handicapped people the opportunity for gainful employment. Training under experienced supervision has restored their will to work and become productive members of their community.

Expansion of the Ulster County Chest area reflects inclusion of New Paltz, Rosendale, and Saugerties. As a result of this expansion, one drive will replace the individual drives formerly conducted in these towns by the following organizations: Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, AHRC, USO, Salvation Army, Cerebral Palsy, Gateway Industries.

In the Kingston area the above Agencies and Boys' Club, YMCA, YWCA and Jewish Community Center are included in the area appeal, due to their services to this particular area.

Ruling Stands Against Moving Albany Station

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The New York Central Railroad has been rebuffed in a bid for Public Service Commission reconsideration of a proposal to relocate the Central's Albany passenger station.

The PSC said yesterday the railroad had failed to present "sufficient reason for granting reconsideration" of the commission's June 29 ruling, which blocked movement of the station to Rensselaer, across the Hudson River.

The Central has claimed it would save $500,000 a year by the transfer despite an initial cost of $1,132,000 for the Rensselaer facilities.

63 Are Crippled By Polio, Two Die In Central N. Y.

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — The toll from a polio outbreak in three Central New York counties stood today at 63 paralytic cases and two deaths.

Six new paralytic cases were reported Tuesday in the area, which comprises Onondaga, Oneida and Madison counties.

The cases included a mother and daughter from suburban Liverpool, who were admitted to City Hospital Monday. Each had had three shots of Salk anti-polio vaccine and had received a dose of Sabin oral vaccine last month.

The oral vaccine was administered to 400,000 persons in the three county area.

The other four persons, all from Syracuse, had been hospitalized for 10 days for observation, health officials said. They were three children and a 39-year-old woman.

The outbreak has claimed two of the five lives lost to polio this year. Last year, polio claimed 19 lives in the state.

Engineers Plan Tour of Texaco Plant at Beacon

Members of the American Society of Tool and Manufacturing Engineers tonight will tour the Texaco facilities at Beacon. About 60 local members of Chapter 151 of the society, which has a membership of more than 40,000 engineers, will board chartered buses at a local parking lot for the trip.

The Texaco plant at Beacon is the company's largest and principal laboratory maintained specifically for testing of various gasolines and lubricants. Some of the laboratory engines are forerunners of those expected in vehicles of the future.

Other research operations to be observed include chemicals research, radiation studies, fuels research, jet fuel research, product testing, lubricants research, instrumental analysis, lubricating grease testing, physical chemistry, automotive engineering, chassis dynamometer, diesel product testing, free piston engine and engineering analysis.

The tour will conclude with a question period, arranged by Kenneth G. Baldwin, Texaco's public relations associate.

The excursion, organized by Jack W. Mulholland and Kenneth W. Sandberg will leave leave Kingston promptly at 6 p. m.

Transportation and pre-trip dinner arrangements are in charge of Bernard Martin and Welding Mohr.

Local engineers with qualifications to join the chapter are invited to communicate with Richard Winchell, membership chairman of IBM, or George Berk of Graphic Techniques Inc., chapter chairman.

Democrats Back Rep. Stratton In Montgomery

FONDA, N.Y. (AP) — Rep. Samuel S. Stratton of Schenectady had the backing of the Montgomery County Democratic Committee today for the party's gubernatorial nomination next year.

Stratton, however, has not said whether he would bid for the nomination to oppose the re-election bid of Gov. Rockefeller, a Republican.

Friends and aides were busy wooing support for the Stratton cause.

The resolution endorsing Stratton was approved unanimously Tuesday night by the approximately 50 county committeemen present. Montgomery is part of Stratton's congressional district.

Stratton faces the prospect of being redistricted out of office in the fall by the Republican-controlled state Legislature.

Stratton also claims the unofficial endorsement of the Orleans County Committee. This endorsement was given by a voice vote during the committee's annual picnic.

Rewards for Victors

Rocky Assures He's For Patronage Idea

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—Organization Republicans had assurance from Gov. Rockefeller today that he is a firm supporter of political rewards for the winning side in an election campaign.

"I believe deeply in the system of patronage," the governor told a meeting of the Monroe County Republican Committee Tuesday night.

The governor said he felt that those who work in politics had a right to participate in government when their political efforts succeeded.

Rockefeller's appearance before the committee, which greeted him enthusiastically, was one of nearly 30 activities on a busy schedule during a 48-hour visit to Rochester that began Tuesday afternoon.

The governor, campaigning to help local candidates and boost his own chances in a bid for reelection next year, scheduled several activities in politically sensitive areas today.

His agenda today included a breakfast with education leaders, visits to three housing projects, a stop at the local office of the State Commission Against Discrimination, a speech to a women's group, inspection of highways, a news conference (5 p.m.) at a stop at a Jewish temple and a question-and-answer exchange at a local auditorium.

The Rochester visit is one of a series the governor is making to Upstate communities.

He is holding strategy conferences with party leaders throughout the state in preparation for the election this year and next.

In addressing the county committee Tuesday night, Rockefeller lauded politics as a high calling and essential to the preservation to democracy.

He told the GOP group that Americans should be thankful for rank-and-file workers both the Republican "and the other" party.

Rockefeller will meet Thursday with labor leaders and tour the Rochester public market an area to which farmers bring produce.

To Receive Test Reports in Case Of Chyrel Jolls

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—A court hearing will be held in a few days to receive a report by court-appointed psychiatrists in the case of 15-year-old Chyrel Lee Jolls.

Erie County Judge Jacob A. Latona Tuesday declined to reveal the contents of the report, but said he would submit copies to the district attorney and defense attorneys.

The girl was indicted on a first-degree murder charge in the kidnap-slaying last June of Andrew Ashley, 3, whose bound body was found in a park lake. She also was accused of kidnapping two other youngsters in the neighborhood. They were returned unharmed.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The luxury market is both booming and widening.

It is booming today because people have more money to spend than a few years back and a greater knowledge of and taste for quality goods. It is widening because what once was bought by the high-income class as a luxury is now being bought by the middle-income group, the fastest growing in the nation in recent years.

More Promoting Wares

And the luxury market is booming and widening because more producers are promoting wares in this field, which they once considered too small to enter.

Sales of products regarded as luxuries are growing at a much faster rate than the population. And sellers report demand is now coming from the blue collar group rather than being confined as it once was to the well-to-do.

Prices of luxuries are rising fast, too. A striking example is in the field of art—pictures so valuable now as to attract a wave of thefts—and in the rising price tags on antique furniture.

Yesterday's luxury tends to become today's commonplace. But here are a few examples of how sales of such items have grown.

Pools and Mowers

In 1954 the number of home swimming pools was estimated at 15,000, and today there are about 170,000—still regarded as luxuries by most of those who don't have them.

In 1951 power lawn mowers were vaunted as luxuries by some 1,241,000 owners. Today nearly four million are in use—and still called a status symbol.

In 1956 there were 86 Rolls-Royces on American streets and now nearly 500; and 2,157 Mercedes-Benzes then against 14,500 now. There were 5,000 owners of a MG then, compared with 12,800 now; and 3,000 Jaguar jockeys against at least 5,000 today.

More Making More

Where has the money for these things come from? Well, the number of families with annual incomes of $25,000 and over has doubled since 1950. And today some 10 million families have incomes of $10,000 or more, almost twice as many as five years ago.

All this has created the market for high quality luxury products, in the view of Albin O. Holder, board chairman of Bronzini, men's and women's accessories shops where the prices definitely aren't bargain basement.

In his belief that the market is ripe for still better and costlier products, Holder's other enterprise, Cosmetic Chemicals Corp., is bringing out a new perfume (called Ai, the Japanese word for love) at $65 an ounce. This is reported to make it the world's most expensive perfume.

Many other businessmen agree that there is an increasing demand for higher quality goods offering convenience, luxury and esthetic satisfaction.

"The upgrading in American taste has reached a dynamic stage," Holder says. "The process cannot be arrested, short of war."

So that sort of leaves it—like so many other things today—up to Khrushchev.

Ruling Stands Against Moving Albany Station

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The New York Central Railroad has been rebuffed in a bid for Public Service Commission reconsideration of a proposal to relocate the Central's Albany passenger station.

The PSC said yesterday the railroad had failed to present "sufficient reason for granting reconsideration" of the commission's June 29 ruling, which blocked movement of the station to Rensselaer, across the Hudson River.

The Central has claimed it would save $500,000 a year by the transfer despite an initial cost of $1,132,000 for the Rensselaer facilities.

63 Are Crippled By Polio, Two Die In Central N. Y.

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — The toll from a polio outbreak in three Central New York counties stood today at 63 paralytic cases and two deaths.

Six new paralytic cases were reported Tuesday in the area, which comprises Onondaga, Oneida and Madison counties.

The cases included a mother and daughter from suburban Liverpool, who were admitted to City Hospital Monday. Each had had three shots of Salk anti-polio vaccine and had received a dose of Sabin oral vaccine last month.

The oral vaccine was administered to 400,000 persons in the three county area.

The other four persons, all from Syracuse, had been hospitalized for 10 days for observation, health officials said. They were three children and a 39-year-old woman.

The outbreak has claimed two of the five lives lost to polio this year. Last year, polio claimed 19 lives in the state.

Engineers Plan Tour of Texaco Plant at Beacon

Members of the American Society of Tool and Manufacturing Engineers tonight will tour the Texaco facilities at Beacon. About 60 local members of Chapter 151 of the society, which has a membership of more than 40,000 engineers, will board chartered buses at a local parking lot for the trip.

The Texaco plant at Beacon is the company's largest and principal laboratory maintained specifically for testing of various gasolines and lubricants. Some of the laboratory engines are forerunners of those expected in vehicles of the future.

Other research operations to be observed include chemicals research, radiation studies, fuels research, jet fuel research, product testing, lubricants research, instrumental analysis, lubricating grease testing, physical chemistry, automotive engineering, chassis dynamometer, diesel product testing, free piston engine and engineering analysis.

The tour will conclude with a question period, arranged by Kenneth G. Baldwin, Texaco's public relations associate.

The excursion, organized by Jack W. Mulholland and Kenneth W. Sandberg will leave leave Kingston promptly at 6 p. m.

Transportation and pre-trip dinner arrangements are in charge of Bernard Martin and Welding Mohr.

Local engineers with qualifications to join the chapter are invited to communicate with Richard Winchell, membership chairman of IBM, or George Berk of Graphic Techniques Inc., chapter chairman.

Immediate enrollment as members will ensure potential members of somewhat less stringent qualification requirements than after Oct. 1.

Democrats Back Rep. Stratton In Montgomery

FONDA, N.Y. (AP) — Rep. Samuel S. Stratton of Schenectady had the backing of the Montgomery County Democratic Committee today for the party's gubernatorial nomination next year.

Stratton, however, has not said whether he would bid for the nomination to oppose the re-election bid of Gov. Rockefeller, a Republican.

Friends and aides were busy wooing support for the Stratton cause.

The resolution endorsing Stratton was approved unanimously Tuesday night by the approximately 50 county committeemen present. Montgomery is part of Stratton's congressional district.

Stratton faces the prospect of being redistricted out of office in the fall by the Republican-controlled state Legislature.

Stratton also claims the unofficial endorsement of the Orleans County Committee. This endorsement was given by a voice vote during the committee's annual picnic.

Rewards for Victors

Rocky Assures He's For Patronage Idea

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—Organization Republicans had assurance from Gov. Rockefeller today that he is a firm supporter of political rewards for the winning side in an election campaign.

"I believe deeply in the system of patronage," the governor told a meeting of the Monroe County Republican Committee Tuesday night.

The governor said he felt that those who work in politics had a right to participate in government when their political efforts succeeded.

Rockefeller's appearance before the committee, which greeted him enthusiastically, was one of nearly 30 activities on a busy schedule during a 48-hour visit to Rochester that began Tuesday afternoon.

The governor, campaigning to help local candidates and boost his own chances in a bid for reelection next year, scheduled several activities in politically sensitive areas today.

His agenda today included a breakfast with education leaders, visits to three housing projects, a stop at the local office of the State Commission Against Discrimination, a speech to a women's group, inspection of highways, a news conference (5 p.m.) at a stop at a Jewish temple and a question-and-answer exchange at a local auditorium.

The Rochester visit is one of a series the governor is making to Upstate communities.

He is holding strategy conferences with party leaders throughout the state in preparation for the election this year and next.

In addressing the county committee Tuesday night, Rockefeller lauded politics as a high calling and essential to the preservation to democracy.

He told the GOP group that Americans should be thankful for rank-and-file workers both the Republican "and the other" party.

Rockefeller will meet Thursday with labor leaders and tour the Rochester public market an area to which farmers bring produce.

To Receive Test Reports in Case Of Chyrel Jolls

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—A court hearing will be held in a few days to receive a report by court-appointed psychiatrists in the case of 15-year-old Chyrel Lee Jolls.

Erie County Judge Jacob A. Latona Tuesday declined to reveal the contents of the report, but said he would submit copies to the district attorney and defense attorneys.

The girl was indicted on a first-degree murder charge in the kidnap-slaying last June of Andrew Ashley, 3, whose bound body was found in a park lake. She also was accused of kidnapping two other youngsters in the neighborhood. They were returned unharmed.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The luxury market is both booming and widening.

It is booming today because people have more money to spend than a few years back and a greater knowledge of and taste for quality goods. It is widening because what once was bought by the high-income class as a luxury is now being bought by the middle-income group, the fastest growing in the nation in recent years.

More Promoting Wares

And the luxury market is booming and widening because more producers are promoting wares in this field, which they once considered too small to enter.

Sales of products regarded as luxuries are growing at a much faster rate than the population. And sellers report demand is now coming from the blue collar group rather than being confined as it once was to the well-to-do.

Prices of luxuries are rising fast, too. A striking example is in the field of art—pictures so valuable now as to attract a wave of thefts—and in the rising price tags on antique furniture.

Yesterday's luxury tends to become today's commonplace. But here are a few examples of how sales of such items have grown.

Pools and Mowers

In 1954 the number of home swimming pools was estimated at 15,000, and today there are about 170,000—still regarded as luxuries by most of those who don't have them.

In 1951 power lawn mowers were vaunted as luxuries by some 1,241,000 owners. Today nearly four million are in use—and still called a status symbol.

In 1956 there were 86 Rolls-Royces on American streets and now nearly 500; and 2,157 Mercedes-Benzes then against 14,500 now. There were 5,000 owners of a MG then, compared with 12,800 now; and 3,000 Jaguar jockeys against at least 5,000 today.

More Making More

Where has the money for these things come from? Well, the number of families with annual incomes of $25,000 and over has doubled since 1950. And today some 10 million families have incomes of $10,000 or more, almost twice as many as five years ago.

All this has created the market for high quality luxury products, in the view of Albin O. Holder, board chairman of Bronzini, men's and women's accessories shops where the prices definitely aren't bargain basement.

In his belief that the market is ripe for still better and costlier products, Holder's other enterprise, Cosmetic Chemicals Corp., is bringing out a new perfume (called Ai, the Japanese word for love) at $65 an ounce. This is reported to make it the world's most expensive perfume.

Many other businessmen agree that there is an increasing demand for higher quality goods offering convenience, luxury and esthetic satisfaction.

"The upgrading in American taste has reached a dynamic stage," Holder says. "The process cannot be arrested, short of war."

So that sort of leaves it—like so many other things today—up to Khrushchev.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, SEPTEMBER 13, 1961

HE OVERCAME DESPAIR

If the international prospect seems gloomy, Americans can take heart by pondering certain revealing words of George Washington. Our first president, though not given to idle worrying, nevertheless wrote thus to Alexander Hamilton at a dark hour of the Constitutional Convention:

"I almost despair of seeing a favorable issue to the proceedings of our convention. I do therefore repent of having had any agency in the business." If so steadfast and prudent a man could confess to occasional dismay at the outlook, we can take heart by considering that his steadfastness brought the budding nation out of its difficulties into a successful existence.

Beside the perils which Washington and Lincoln confronted, while heading a nation hardly grown to maturity, our present tribulations do not seem so unbearably great. Even men such as Washington have known despair, but they have won through by courage and wisdom.

FLOWERY SPEECH

A noble campaign for uplift and purity of speech has been launched among coal miners in Poland. Its ultimate aim is to eliminate cuss words from the miners' vocabulary. "Eliminate" is not quite the proper verb. Substitution is the idea.

Specifically, substitution of the names of flowers for swear words. A dictionary of flowery equivalents of more vigorous expressions has been issued. Thus, a man accustomed to uttering a lurid oath upon being irked is expected to come out—feelingly, one imagines—with the name of his favorite blossom.

The concept is, as was noted above, a noble one. But somehow we can't imagine a tough coal miner banging his head on a timber and yelling "Petunia!" or "Rhododendron!" or even "Gladiolus!" Sublimation has its limits.

THE STATES' TAX BITE

If you are paying out more money for taxes this year, Uncle Sam is not altogether to blame. The states and cities are charging plenty—18 billion dollars in 1960, and the amount is increasing.

At least 15 states have raised taxes in 1961. The increases are sometimes applied to sales taxes, sometimes to levies on cigarettes and liquor. Some states have income taxes, some cities are increasing the fees for such services as water and sewage disposal. Whatever the form that the new assessments take, they all come out of the taxpayer's pocket.

Heavy state levies indicate what might happen if the federal government, as is often suggested, were to turn over a number of its activities to the states. Whatever the other results of taking this step, economy is not likely to be one.

WELCOME SAFETY EFFORT

To most of us it is a fairly rare occasion when we read of a motorist trapped in a submerged automobile that has plunged off a roadway into a lake or stream. Actually, about 400 people in the United States lose their lives that way every year.

Thus it is reassuring to hear that experiments have been conducted near Lansing, Mich., to develop self-rescue techniques for motorists thus caught in deep water.

The Red Cross, the Michigan state police and highway authorities and Indiana University's health and safety department collaborated in the 10-day tests.

All deserve commendation for what seems to have been a well-prepared, elaborate effort to find answers to a substantial but little-appreciated driving danger.

SPECIOUS SPECULATION

You have to look on the bright side. Maybe Russia's exploding of four medium-sized atomic bombs in one week means she is destroying her nuclear stockpile.

Then again maybe it's just a fall clearance sale to make room for heavier merchandise.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

IT STARTS AGAIN

There can be little doubt but a strong investigation into anti-Communism in the United States Senate is developing. The General Walker Case will not down and either the Senate Internal Security SubCommittee or a public Court-Martial is essential to clean it up. Secretary of Defense McNamara's defense of the removal of General Walker from his post was insufficient because it avoided the central issue which is that pro-Communists are beginning to move about freely again.

It is interesting that the leader in the present battle against the pro-Communists is Senator Strom Thurmond of South Carolina. Senator Karl Mundt has joined but that is to have been expected because he has been active in anti-Communist movements since he has been in the Congress.

The General Walker Case is arousing interest because he has been accused of a crime which is not recognizable as such. The accusation is that his Pro-Blue Program of patriotic indoctrination was excessive. It is impossible to define excessive patriotism. It is almost impossible to understand why he should have been accused of impropriety without being given a public hearing. By avoiding a public hearing, the Defense Department has got itself into an untenable position. An organization, "The Friends of General Walker," has come into being which is circulating publications, mimeographed and printed, on the subject. Although generally, the press has not paid too much attention to the General Walker Case, the pamphleteers have been busy and they note the silence in the press.

It is experience that the suppression of a story can build it up to explosive proportions. This seems to be best pointed up in Senator Mundt's weekly report. Mundt is a Republican; Thurmond is a Democrat. Nevertheless, Mundt uses Thurmond as his authority when he says:

"In the August 17th discussion on the Senate floor concerning the memorandum submitted by Senator Fulbright to the Defense Department and the subsequent directive aimed at stopping anti-Communist seminars, Senator Strom Thurmond said: 'I think our people in uniform generally should not speak promiscuously on all subjects, but they are entitled to tell the civilian population the aims, the methods of operation, and the dangers of the enemy. The enemy today is Communism. I feel there is a censorship now being placed upon our military people with regard to expressing themselves concerning our enemy, Communism.'"

Senator Mundt attacks the censorship of public speeches by military men:

"Thus, the full impact of the recent Pentagon directive is now being felt. The 'muzzling of the military,' first appearing as an 'innocent' attempt to 'stop-war talk' by such distinguished military leaders as Admiral Arleigh Burke, becomes an all-out attack to discredit highly successful anti-Communist seminars and to eliminate any reference to the menace of Communism because it is interpreted as being of a 'political' nature."

This is the beginning of a movement and those who ignore it do not understand the strength and depth of popular movements. It is easy to ridicule the John Birch Society, but it is not easy to justify the removal of General Walker from his post in Germany on the grounds of excessive patriotism.

The excuse can be that the balance between the United States and Soviet Russia, between war and peace, is so fine that only the most elevated civilian officials should speak on policy matters. That would be President Kennedy and Secretary of State Dean Rusk. But we listen to others on lower levels discuss policy questions and they are not muzzled.

There seems to be a misunderstanding of roles and responsibilities. If no one but the President and the Secretary of State are to speak on policy, then let everybody else be silent. It is doubtful if the country would long tolerate such a one-sided silence.

General Walker is an incident in a general policy that has always heretofore failed, namely the effort to muzzle public men and the press. Such an effort always fails in this country because there are always intrepid spirits who will tell the truth as they see it. Ridiculed, abused, socially ostracized, they go ahead and the truth comes out. Such journalists as Charles Edward Russell, Lincoln Steffens, Ida Tarbell, Upton Sinclair, to go back a generation or two, were of that calibre and they broke through any conspiracy to keep the truth from the people. And they had a tough time because the truth is often such a nuisance.

Periodic Tests Will Help Prevent or Detect Cancer

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Despite some statements you may hear or read, I am compelled to tell you that we possess no miracle drug (or diet) for the cure of cancer. There is no immediate prospect that we shall have such a drug, serum, vaccine or dietary principle—possibly for decades.

However, we do have in our immediate possession sufficient information to effect a sharp reductio in the frequency of cancer and an equally sharp increase in its cure rate through surgery and radiation.

Here are things you can do to protect yourself and your family from the cruelest of human afflictions:

Twice yearly go for a cancer detection examination. For this purpose, you may go to a special cancer prevention clinic if you live in a large city or if you have a clinic devoted to this special assignment in your local hospital.

Preferably, in my minority opinion, you may go to your family physician.

My reasons for the latter preference are at least threefold: (1) the inconvenience and expense are less; (2) knowing you better, your local practitioner is in a better position to recognize slight changes in your appearance and physical findings, and (3) while examining you for cancer, he may detect early evidences of other chronic diseases — heart troubles, diabetes, glaucoma, etc.—at a time when they can be controlled or reversed by prompt attention.

In addition to the usual physical examination, you may expect your practitioner or the clinic group to explore all of your body cavities, make laboratory tests of blood, urine and stool, take routine X-rays of your chest, and special X-rays of other areas in which there are suspicious signs and make the all-important tests called Papanicolaou spreads for detection of cancer cells.

By requestiong, in addition, periodic X-rays of your breasts, you give your examiner a 17.5 chance in a thousand of discovering a cancer not otherwise detectable, according to a five-year study recently completed at Philadelphia's Albert Einstein Medical Center.

As a result of early detection, your surgeon has the opportunity to operate a a time when the chances of "ultimate survival" can almost be guaranteed.

By seeking prompt treatment when and if the tests disclose the presence of cancer cells, you can amost be assured of equal success in the treatment of malignancy of the womb, the second greatest threat to the modern female.

By heeding your doctor's advice to have your sons circumcised at birth, you can reduce the chances that your daughters-in-law will develop uterine cancer almost 20-fold.

I'm sorry there's no headline material in these suggestions for sensationalists. There is small consolation for the Micawbers who would rather sit and wait for a miracle than stretch out their hands to obtain the lesser opportunities that are theirs for the asking. But maybe there are among my readers a sufficient number of thoughtful men and women to justify these advices.

Washington News

By PETER EDSON
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — (NEA)—Post-mortems on the death of effective federal aid-to-education legislation this year reveal considerable ineptness on the part of Kennedy administration doctors who tried to save the ailing bill.

MOST O THE responsibility has been placed on the coalition of 82 Democrats — only five from the northern states— and 160 Republicans who voted against even considering such legislation in the House.

What they were opposing was the compromise package put together by Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Abraham A. Ribicoff.

He sold his bill of goods to the Democrats of the House Education and Labor Committee under its chairman, Adam Clayton Powell of New York. He even sold it to Rep. James J. Delaney of New York, whose opposition in the House Rules Committee had blocked consideration of the original Kennedy administration $2.5 billion aid-to-education program.

Ribicoff apparently thought he had the solution to break the deadlock, but it was a bad miscalculation.

Included in his package were one-year extension of student loans under the National Defense Education Act and federal aid to impacted areas. But on top of them was put a bill by Rep. Frank Thompson Jr., of New Jersey, providing $325 million in federal aid to the states for school construction in districts of dire need.

The $325 million figure was considered a magic number because that was the amount which the House had approved last year. It was made more palatable by taking out all mention of aid for teachers' salaries. But the formulas for determining the amounts of federal aid were changed, and this caused some confusion on what each state might get.

WHEN THE BILL was brought up in House Education and Labor Committee executive session on the day before it was to be offered on the floor, there was a Republican motion to have it read so that the committee members would know what was in it.

As reported by Rep. Jerry Ford, R-Mich., in a letter to his constituents, this was voted down on a straight party line roll call vote of 17 Democrats and 13 Republicans.

Then, by another 17-13 roll call vote, the committee decided to limit discussion of the bill to 70 minutes. Fifty minutes were spent on one amendment. The minority Republicans were given one hour to submit opposition views in writing for the committee report printed that day.

As Ford—who is not a member of the committee—reported in his Washington Review, "This was an unconscionable and unheard of limitation on the right of the minority to have their separate views reported."

Word of this Democratic effort to railroad their last-minute compromise circulated rapidly. It stiffened Republican opposition. Normally, about 40 Republicans favor federal aid to education. But only 6 Republicans voted with 163 northern Democrats to consider the measure. It would have taken a switch by 40 more votes to carry.

IT WAS A COMBINATION of other factors that stiffened the Democratic opposition. The southerners seldom have voted in a more solid block. Some may have felt that this was a forerunner of federal aid for integrated schools only. Others were afraid a religious issue was involved.

In a few states which may lose congressional seats under redistricting next year, there was some fear that any vote on a controversial issue might be used at home to wipe out an incumbent congressman's district.

The whole business just got too complicated. There was no compulsion to vote. National Defense Education Act does not expire till next June 30, so there will be time for another look. The old rule of, "When in doubt, do nothing!" prevailed.

Berlin Negotiations Talk Ignores Principal Issue

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — The talk of "negotiation" between the East and West persists. But there's a certain lack of realism on both sides as to what ought to be talked about.

One view, expressed by former President Eisenhower, is that there's nothing to negotiate since the rights of the Allies in West Berlin are well established. Another view is that, since the Soviets through their puppets in East Germany, have sealed off East Berlin from the other part of the city, the main objective of the Russians has been attained and that West Berlin is now isolated and seems certain to wither on the vine.

But, oddly enough, the main issue—in fact, the only issue—is conveniently ignored by spokesmen of both East and West. It is that the German people are entitled to self-determination.

This is, to be sure, a basic issue worth negotiating about. It embodies a principle which has been proclaimed around the world as a fundamental of our present-day idealism.

It is the principle that evokes Russian sympathy for the Algerians in the latter's effort to separate from France. It is the principle for which the United Nations not only has sent troops, but is spending large sums of money to get self-determination for the people of Congo. It is the principle that makes other nations eager to welcome into the UN numerous African countries, however, uneducated they may be in the art of self-government. But nobody seems to be willing to champion the cause of "Germany for the Germans."

Germans Want Freedom

The failure to do so is usually glossed over with apologetic arguments that public sentiment in Europe isn't ready for this step and that people in western countries, as well as in Russia, still fear the Germans. It is really more of an excuse than a valid reason.

The German people as a whole are inherently interested in freedom and liberty. Germans in other parts of Europe and in the United States have become as devoted to the cause of democracy as any other citizens. The government of West Germany at Bonn, time and again since the war ended sixteen years ago, has demonstrated that it knows how a democracy should operate.

Indeed, this very month, an election campaign resembling closely those held in the United States or in Great Britain is being conducted in West Germany. Yet this point seems not to be emphasized nowadays in contrast to the continued absence of free elections in East Germany and in other areas behind the Iron Curtain.

The western nations, which pride themselves on their devotion to the cause of democracy, somehow are showing a curious indifference to the need for a world-wide campaign in behalf of the cause of self-determination as it affects the German people. One would have thought that certain Asian and African countries would be the first to cry out for self-determination for the German people, too.

History Is No Drawback

Certainly the progress of the German people in human endeavors is well known, and nobody disputes that they are capable of self-government. The fact that they fell victim to a dictatorship which came about through their economic collapse should not disqualify them today from being accorded full independence.

There would have been no economic collapse in Germany, no dictatorship, and probably no second world war, if the Western nations had helped the Weimar Republic in an economic sense in the 1920s with something resembling the Marshall Plan. Instead of cancelling or reducing to manageable proportions the indemnities or reparations accruing from World War I, the western allies unwittingly helped to bring about the very economic depression that give Hitler his chance.

If the western governments which profess today to be interested in the principles of the United Nations charter are really in favor of the principle of the self-determination of peoples, then the opportunity is at hand for a reunified Germany to emerge as a peaceful partner in Europe. The Soviet Union should be required by world opinion to keep hands off East Germany, while the people there decide for themselves their future destiny. This would mean withdrawal of all Soviet troops from East Germany and giving the people there a chance to join with their fellow-countrymen in a new German republic.

Do the western allies really believe in self-determination, or do they weakly accept the theory that it is impractical because the Soviets oppose the idea? Does a spirit of revenge still prevail in Western Europe as wartime bitterness is allowed to attain an exaggerated importance in the present situation? For if Germany isn't reunited, it could happen that the German problem would become a festering sore and someday the German people might be stimulated to take measures themselves that could produce another crisis. Consistency requires that the Allies at least stand up for the self-determination of the German people or admit that the principle no longer has validity and that World Wars I and II were fought in vain.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. Sept. 12—For weeks, I have been barnstorming like an old-time actor, a Denman Thompson in "Way Down East" or a William Hodge in "The Man From Home." In Indianapolis I found myself in the same hotel with an old friend, Charles Coburn, who said he had often been mistaken for me even with his single barrel eye-glass, the only actor in the United States who had worn this device since George Arliss. He was there in a show and I indulged in my own eccentric lust for minor league baseball, which in the American Association is only a half step behind the major league standard and probably only three-eights behind the American League now that it has diluted its quality 25 per cent by admitting two more clubs, making ten, sprawled all the way from D.S. to Los Angeles, with an outpost up in Minneapolis and St. Paul. So I went out to a typical bush-league ball park, the home of the Indians as they have been called for generations, and saw them beaten by the Fort Worth-Dallas club in a ball game as good as most that I ever covered in the Polo Grounds and Yankee Stadium and better than a lot of hysterical World Series distortions, too. These parks are uniformly frowsy and the players' suits need laundering, but it seems to me that in the Coast League and the Association the margin below major league standards is accounted for by the temporary tenure of the best young players. They are always out on option or consignment from the major league firm which happens to own the outback outfit. The major firms park their best kids, who are a trifle short of their immediate needs in the several departments, and keep them on elastic leash. They snap them back abruptly. This upsets the rhythm of the minor clubs and the men can't play themselves into the harmonious combinations you see in the Yankees and Reds and the Pirates of last year and so forth. Their wives are jumpy; their domestic life unsteady. So the ball too often goes through a hole at second and the double play turns into a rally. ff they could work together as long as majors do, most of these holes would not happen, although we have seen a regular hail-storm of balls bouncing away from catchers and third basemen in this year's major league news pictures.

A few days later I looked at the paper and there was Charlie Coburn squinting through that porthole of his over a cut-line which said he had died of heart failure in New York. I doubt that life owed him anything. Twilight is lowering and good companions are thinning out.

On this journey I have been confirming my dogged insistence that America lives in the towns which have back yards instead of patios or even back gardens. Notwithstanding his professional political alliance with Eastern politicians, the New York type, which of course begot the Chicago specimens, Harry Truman might have been a great American, better and even more American than Thomas R. Marshall, who has received undeserved historical credit for a monumental homeliness which actually was tossed off by Bugs Baer long, long ago, "What this country needs is a good five-cent cigar!" Bugs wrote that in the seidlitz frenzies of his protege, Rabid Rudolph, in the old Washington Something—Times or Herald or Post when Wilson was President.

Truman was, at that, a real American in his heart. For look you, unlike F. D. Roosevelt, he did go to the '17 war when Mama's Boy was flouncing around the martinis in Wahsington. God what a President he could have been for the United States except for that beholden condition and his submission to the code! He came from around here, a place called Lamar. KINGSTON, NEW YORK, SEPTEMBER 13, 1961

If the international prospect seems gloomy, Americans can take heart by pondering certain revealing words of George Washington. Our first president, though not given to idle worrying, nevertheless wrote thus to Alexander Hamilton at a dark hour of the Constitutional Convention:

"I almost despair of seeing a favorable issue to the proceedings of our convention. I do therefore repent of having had any agency in the business." If so steadfast and prudent a man could confess to occasional dismay at the outlook, we can take heart by considering that his steadfastness brought the budding nation out of its difficulties into a successful existence.

Beside the perils which Washington and Lincoln confronted, while heading a nation hardly grown to maturity, our present tribulations do not seem so unbearably great. Even men such as Washington have known despair, but they have won through by courage and wisdom.

FLOWERY SPEECH

A noble campaign for uplift and purity of speech has been launched among coal miners in Poland. Its ultimate aim is to eliminate cuss words from the miners' vocabulary. "Eliminate" is not quite the proper verb. Substitution is the idea.

Specifically, substitution of the names of flowers for swear words. A dictionary of flowery equivalents of more vigorous expressions has been issued. Thus, a man accustomed to uttering a lurid oath upon being irked is expected to come out—feelingly, one imagines—with the name of his favorite blossom.

The concept is, as was noted above, a noble one. But somehow we can't imagine a tough coal miner banging his head on a timber and yelling "Petunia!" or "Rhododendron!" or even "Gladiolus!" Sublimation has its limits.

THE STATES' TAX BITE

If you are paying out more money for taxes this year, Uncle Sam is not altogether to blame. The states and cities are charging plenty—18 billion dollars in 1960, and the amount is increasing.

At least 15 states have raised taxes in 1961. The increases are sometimes applied to sales taxes, sometimes to levies on cigarettes and liquor. Some states have income taxes, some cities are increasing the fees for such services as water and sewage disposal. Whatever the form that the new assessments take, they all come out of the taxpayer's pocket.

Heavy state levies indicate what might happen if the federal government, as is often suggested, were to turn over a number of its activities to the states. Whatever the other results of taking this step, economy is not likely to be one.

WELCOME SAFETY EFFORT

To most of us it is a fairly rare occasion when we read of a motorist trapped in a submerged automobile that has plunged off a roadway into a lake or stream. Actually, about 400 people in the United States lose their lives that way every year.

Thus it is reassuring to hear that experiments have been conducted near Lansing, Mich., to develop self-rescue techniques for motorists thus caught in deep water.

The Red Cross, the Michigan state police and highway authorities and Indiana University's health and safety department collaborated in the 10-day tests.

All deserve commendation for what seems to have been a well-prepared, elaborate effort to find answers to a substantial but little-appreciated driving danger.

SPECIOUS SPECULATION

You have to look on the bright side. Maybe Russia's exploding of four medium-sized atomic bombs in one week means she is destroying her nuclear stockpile.

Then again maybe it's just a fall clearance sale to make room for heavier merchandise.

'These Days'

IT STARTS AGAIN

There can be little doubt but a strong investigation into anti-Communism in the United States Senate is developing. The General Walker Case will not down and either the Senate Internal Security SubCommittee or a public Court-Martial is essential to clean it up. Secretary of Defense McNamara's defense of the removal of General Walker from his post was insufficient because it avoided the central issue which is that pro-Communists are beginning to move about freely again.

It is interesting that the leader in the present battle against the pro-Communists is Senator Strom Thurmond of South Carolina. Senator Karl Mundt has joined but that is to have been expected because he has been active in anti-Communist movements since he has been in the Congress.

The General Walker Case is arousing interest because he has been accused of a crime which is not recognizable as such. The accusation is that his Pro-Blue Program of patriotic indoctrination was excessive. It is impossible to define excessive patriotism. It is almost impossible to understand why he should have been accused of impropriety without being given a public hearing. By avoiding a public hearing, the Defense Department has got itself into an untenable position. An organization, "The Friends of General Walker," has come into being which is circulating publications, mimeographed and printed, on the subject. Although generally, the press has not paid too much attention to the General Walker Case, the pamphleteers have been busy and they note the silence in the press.

It is experience that the suppression of a story can build it up to explosive proportions. This seems to be best pointed up in Senator Mundt's weekly report. Mundt is a Republican; Thurmond is a Democrat. Nevertheless, Mundt uses Thurmond as his authority when he says:

"In the August 17th discussion on the Senate floor concerning the memorandum submitted by Senator Fulbright to the Defense Department and the subsequent directive aimed at stopping anti-Communist seminars, Senator Strom Thurmond said: 'I think our people in uniform generally should not speak promiscuously on all subjects, but they are entitled to tell the civilian population the aims, the methods of operation, and the dangers of the enemy. The enemy today is Communism. I feel there is a censorship now being placed upon our military people with regard to expressing themselves concerning our enemy, Communism.'"

Senator Mundt attacks the censorship of public speeches by military men:

"Thus, the full impact of the recent Pentagon directive is now being felt. The 'muzzling of the military,' first appearing as an 'innocent' attempt to 'stop-war talk' by such distinguished military leaders as Admiral Arleigh Burke, becomes an all-out attack to discredit highly successful anti-Communist seminars and to eliminate any reference to the menace of Communism because it is interpreted as being of a 'political' nature."

This is the beginning of a movement and those who ignore it do not understand the strength and depth of popular movements. It is easy to ridicule the John Birch Society, but it is not easy to justify the removal of General Walker from his post in Germany on the grounds of excessive patriotism.

The excuse can be that the balance between the United States and Soviet Russia, between war and peace, is so fine that only the most elevated civilian officials should speak on policy matters. That would be President Kennedy and Secretary of State Dean Rusk. But we listen to others on lower levels discuss policy questions and they are not muzzled.

There seems to be a misunderstanding of roles and responsibilities. If no one but the President and the Secretary of State are to speak on policy, then let everybody else be silent. It is doubtful if the country would long tolerate such a one-sided silence.

General Walker is an incident in a general policy that has always heretofore failed, namely the effort to muzzle public men and the press. Such an effort always fails in this country because there are always intrepid spirits who will tell the truth as they see it. Ridiculed, abused, socially ostracized, they go ahead and the truth comes out. Such journalists as Charles Edward Russell, Lincoln Steffens, Ida Tarbell, Upton Sinclair, to go back a generation or two, were of that calibre and they broke through any conspiracy to keep the truth from the people. And they had a tough time because the truth is often such a nuisance.

Periodic Tests Will Help Prevent or Detect Cancer

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Despite some statements you may hear or read, I am compelled to tell you that we possess no miracle drug (or diet) for the cure of cancer. There is no immediate prospect that we shall have such a drug, serum, vaccine or dietary principle—possibly for decades.

However, we do have in our immediate possession sufficient information to effect a sharp reductio in the frequency of cancer and an equally sharp increase in its cure rate through surgery and radiation.

Here are things you can do to protect yourself and your family from the cruelest of human afflictions:

Twice yearly go for a cancer detection examination. For this purpose, you may go to a special cancer prevention clinic if you live in a large city or if you have a clinic devoted to this special assignment in your local hospital.

Preferably, in my minority opinion, you may go to your family physician.

My reasons for the latter preference are at least threefold: (1) the inconvenience and expense are less; (2) knowing you better, your local practitioner is in a better position to recognize slight changes in your appearance and physical findings, and (3) while examining you for cancer, he may detect early evidences of other chronic diseases — heart troubles, diabetes, glaucoma, etc.—at a time when they can be controlled or reversed by prompt attention.

In addition to the usual physical examination, you may expect your practitioner or the clinic group to explore all of your body cavities, make laboratory tests of blood, urine and stool, take routine X-rays of your chest, and special X-rays of other areas in which there are suspicious signs and make the all-important tests called Papanicolaou spreads for detection of cancer cells.

By requestiong, in addition, periodic X-rays of your breasts, you give your examiner a 17.5 chance in a thousand of discovering a cancer not otherwise detectable, according to a five-year study recently completed at Philadelphia's Albert Einstein Medical Center.

As a result of early detection, your surgeon has the opportunity to operate a a time when the chances of "ultimate survival" can almost be guaranteed.

By seeking prompt treatment when and if the tests disclose the presence of cancer cells, you can amost be assured of equal success in the treatment of malignancy of the womb, the second greatest threat to the modern female.

By heeding your doctor's advice to have your sons circumcised at birth, you can reduce the chances that your daughters-in-law will develop uterine cancer almost 20-fold.

I'm sorry there's no headline material in these suggestions for sensationalists. There is small consolation for the Micawbers who would rather sit and wait for a miracle than stretch out their hands to obtain the lesser opportunities that are theirs for the asking. But maybe there are among my readers a sufficient number of thoughtful men and women to justify these advices.

Washington News

WASHINGTON — (NEA)—Post-mortems on the death of effective federal aid-to-education legislation this year reveal considerable ineptness on the part of Kennedy administration doctors who tried to save the ailing bill.

MOST O THE responsibility has been placed on the coalition of 82 Democrats — only five from the northern states— and 160 Republicans who voted against even considering such legislation in the House.

What they were opposing was the compromise package put together by Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Abraham A. Ribicoff.

He sold his bill of goods to the Democrats of the House Education and Labor Committee under its chairman, Adam Clayton Powell of New York. He even sold it to Rep. James J. Delaney of New York, whose opposition in the House Rules Committee had blocked consideration of the original Kennedy administration $2.5 billion aid-to-education program.

Ribicoff apparently thought he had the solution to break the deadlock, but it was a bad miscalculation.

Included in his package were one-year extension of student loans under the National Defense Education Act and federal aid to impacted areas. But on top of them was put a bill by Rep. Frank Thompson Jr., of New Jersey, providing $325 million in federal aid to the states for school construction in districts of dire need.

The $325 million figure was considered a magic number because that was the amount which the House had approved last year. It was made more palatable by taking out all mention of aid for teachers' salaries. But the formulas for determining the amounts of federal aid were changed, and this caused some confusion on what each state might get.

WHEN THE BILL was brought up in House Education and Labor Committee executive session on the day before it was to be offered on the floor, there was a Republican motion to have it read so that the committee members would know what was in it.

As reported by Rep. Jerry Ford, R-Mich., in a letter to his constituents, this was voted down on a straight party line roll call vote of 17 Democrats and 13 Republicans.

Then, by another 17-13 roll call vote, the committee decided to limit discussion of the bill to 70 minutes. Fifty minutes were spent on one amendment. The minority Republicans were given one hour to submit opposition views in writing for the committee report printed that day.

As Ford—who is not a member of the committee—reported in his Washington Review, "This was an unconscionable and unheard of limitation on the right of the minority to have their separate views reported."

Word of this Democratic effort to railroad their last-minute compromise circulated rapidly. It stiffened Republican opposition. Normally, about 40 Republicans favor federal aid to education. But only 6 Republicans voted with 163 northern Democrats to consider the measure. It would have taken a switch by 40 more votes to carry.

IT WAS A COMBINATION of other factors that stiffened the Democratic opposition. The southerners seldom have voted in a more solid block. Some may have felt that this was a forerunner of federal aid for integrated schools only. Others were afraid a religious issue was involved.

In a few states which may lose congressional seats under redistricting next year, there was some fear that any vote on a controversial issue might be used at home to wipe out an incumbent congressman's district.

The whole business just got too complicated. There was no compulsion to vote. National Defense Education Act does not expire till next June 30, so there will be time for another look. The old rule of, "When in doubt, do nothing!" prevailed.

Berlin Negotiations Talk Ignores Principal Issue

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — The talk of "negotiation" between the East and West persists. But there's a certain lack of realism on both sides as to what ought to be talked about.

One view, expressed by former President Eisenhower, is that there's nothing to negotiate since the rights of the Allies in West Berlin are well established. Another view is that, since the Soviets through their puppets in East Germany, have sealed off East Berlin from the other part of the city, the main objective of the Russians has been attained and that West Berlin is now isolated and seems certain to wither on the vine.

But, oddly enough, the main issue—in fact, the only issue—is conveniently ignored by spokesmen of both East and West. It is that the German people are entitled to self-determination.

This is, to be sure, a basic issue worth negotiating about. It embodies a principle which has been proclaimed around the world as a fundamental of our present-day idealism.

It is the principle that evokes Russian sympathy for the Algerians in the latter's effort to separate from France. It is the principle for which the United Nations not only has sent troops, but is spending large sums of money to get self-determination for the people of Congo. It is the principle that makes other nations eager to welcome into the UN numerous African countries, however, uneducated they may be in the art of self-government. But nobody seems to be willing to champion the cause of "Germany for the Germans."

Germans Want Freedom

The failure to do so is usually glossed over with apologetic arguments that public sentiment in Europe isn't ready for this step and that people in western countries, as well as in Russia, still fear the Germans. It is really more of an excuse than a valid reason.

The German people as a whole are inherently interested in freedom and liberty. Germans in other parts of Europe and in the United States have become as devoted to the cause of democracy as any other citizens. The government of West Germany at Bonn, time and again since the war ended sixteen years, ago, has demonstrated that it knows how a democracy should operate.

Indeed, this very month, an election campaign resembling closely those held in the United States or in Great Britain is being conducted in West Germany. Yet this point seems not to be emphasized nowadays in contrast to the continued absence of free elections in East Germany and in other areas behind the Iron Curtain.

The western nations, which pride themselves on their devotion to the cause of democracy, somehow are showing a curious indifference to the need for a world-wide campaign in behalf of the cause of self-determination as it affects the German people. One would have thought that certain Asian and African countries would be the first to cry out for self-determination for the German people, too.

History Is No Drawback

Certainly the progress of the German people in human endeavors is well known, and nobody disputes that they are capable of self-government. The fact that they fell victim to a dictatorship which came about through their economic collapse should not disqualify them today from being accorded full independence.

There would have been no economic collapse in Germany, no dictatorship, and probably no second world war, if the Western nations had helped the Weimar Republic in an economic sense in the 1920s with something resembling the Marshall Plan. Instead of cancelling or reducing to manageable proportions the indemnities or reparations accruing from World War I, the western allies unwittingly helped to bring about the very economic depression that give Hitler his chance.

If the western governments which profess today to be interested in the principles of the United Nations charter are really in favor of the principle of the self-determination of peoples, then the opportunity is at hand for a reunified Germany to emerge as a peaceful partner in Europe. The Soviet Union should be required by world opinion to keep hands off East Germany, while the people there decide for themselves their future destiny. This would mean withdrawal of all Soviet troops from East Germany and giving the people there a chance to join with their fellow-countrymen in a new German republic.

Do the western allies really believe in self-determination, or do they weakly accept the theory that it is impractical because the Soviets oppose the idea? Does a spirit of revenge still prevail in Western Europe as wartime bitterness is allowed to attain an exaggerated importance in the present situation? For if Germany isn't reunited, it could happen that the German problem would become a festering sore and someday the German people might be stimulated to take measures themselves that could produce another crisis. Consistency requires that the Allies at least stand up for the self-determination of the German people or admit that the principle no longer has validity and that World Wars I and II were fought in vain.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. Sept. 12 —For weeks, I have been barnstorming like an old-time actor, a Denman Thompson in "Way Down East" or a William Hodge in "The Man From Home." In Indianapolis I found myself in the same hotel with an old friend, Charles Coburn, who said he had often been mistaken for me even with his single barrel eye-glass, the only actor in the United States who had worn this device since George Arliss. (New low-calorie beer)

a couple of cases of it last weekend. Asked them what they thought of it.

Some said it looked a little more golden in color. Some thought it tasted great. Most thought it was a fine cooling beer.

Whether you'll be a liker or non-liker on your first swallow, we just can't tell.

But we're certain of one thing. You'll agree it's a real red letter day for beer drinkers when a person can do something about lowering calorie intake and still drain a refreshing golden brew of beer. Both at the same time.

For what we've done is cut the calories, but not the flavor in beer.

About 1/3 fewer calories

As we said before there are less than 100 calories per can of Trommers Red Letter Beer.

Less than 50 calories per 6-ounce glass.

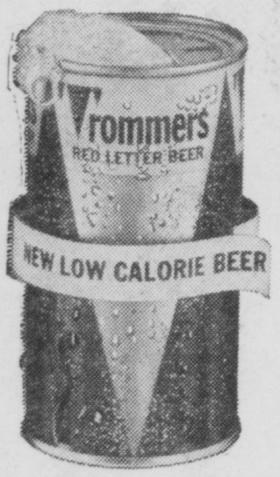
Figured out—that's about ⅓ fewer calories per bottle or can.

And this is no substitute beer. This is true beer. Brewed from a special blend of malts.

The very best domestic hops, and choice imported hops have been precisely blended together.

Truth is Trommers Red Letter Beer is naturally brewed in such a unique manner, that it makes it possible for us to bring in this Trommers Red Letter Beer at a controlled, low-calorie rate—under 100 calories—plus or minus about 2 or 3 calories.

A special independent laboratory regularly checks on our brewmaster, to make sure this beer is always less than 100 calories per can.



Golden color—plenty beery

We've cut the calories in beer—not the flavor.

You'll notice, the minute you pour it, that it's a little more golden.

And the head has a look of an imported beer.

There's a little bit of snap to the taste. Kind of springy and tart. Plenty beery.

So no matter which group you are in—the group that likes this low-calorie beer right off—or the group that sort of wonders about it—keep on drinking it for a while. A week. May be two.

It grows on you

You'll find that you acquire a liking for this golden malt brew—just the way you'll like the low-calorie idea.

Look for Trommers Red Letter Beer at your regular dealer.

JFK Loses Plea, Senate Approves School Aid Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy took a prestige-denting political licking when the Senate sided with the House in voting to continue two school aid programs until 1963.

For all practical purposes this action, accomplished Tuesday on a 45-40 Senate vote, probably means that Kennedy will not get the full-fledged aid to education program he is certain to propose again next year.

Congress may enact some fringe benefits for colleges in 1962, but the classroom construction and teacher salary assistance he has plugged for seems to have little chance for enactment. The House pigeonholed a measure of this nature after it had been passed by the Senate.

The theory is that these controversial proposals need to be sugar coated with extension of the popular impacted areas and National Defense Education Act programs. The first of these gives federal aid to school districts crowded with children of federal workers. The second provides scholarship grants as well as loans for scientific equipment.

Kennedy showed he was well aware that the extension of these two programs for two years, as the House and Senate now have voted, would make it difficult to get any education legislation thru next year.

He wrote Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana urging a one-year extension so the impacted areas and NDEA programs could be re-examined in 1962.

Mansfield read the letter to the Senate shortly before it voted on a proposal by Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., for a one-year extension of both measures. But the President's prestige wasn't sufficient in this case and a 45-40 defeat resulted.

Wilderness Law Seen Weakening Status for Areas

UTICA, N.Y. (AP)—Legislation to establish wilderness areas within the State Forest Preserve is under attack as weakening the preserve's constitutional "forever wild" status.

Michael G. Paravati of the Izaak Walton League of Utica said that designating certain areas as wilderness areas implied the rest of the preserve "can be tampered with and become something other than a wilderness area."

Another opponent of the bill said it would act "as an opening wedge for future encroachment upon our preserve by financial interests."

Edwin G. Hein of Utica, representing the Greenfield Fish and Game Club, did not specify what "financial interests" in his testimony last night at one of a series of legislative hearings on the proposal.

Opponents outnumbered proponents of the bill at the hearing, which was attended by approximately 125 persons.

Assemblyman R. Watson Pomeroy, R-Dutchess, who conducted the hearing, earlier had defended his legislation.

Under the proposal, all types of motorized transportation would be barred from the areas, which were expected to total nearly a million acres. The areas would be reserved for camping, hunting, fishing, hiking and nature study. No man-made facilities would be available.

Pomeroy said "gross misunderstandings were threatening to undermine the true purposes of this legislation."

Police Officer Grave

Police Lieut. Harvey Boyd of Poughkeepsie, was reported in grave condition Tuesday at St. Francis' Hospital where he was admitted last Wednesday.

Chief John L. Martin said Boyd suffered a "cerebral vascular accident." Boyd has been a member of the department the last 38 years, and presently works in the identification bureau.

Focus on Health In Science Field

The danger of flu outbreaks this fall, a poisonous bean on a garden plant, and a look at seasickness are subjects for Focus on Health: Get Flu Shots

Health authorities warn that there is likely to be an upswing in influenza outbreaks this fall and winter—and they urge vaccination now.

Because various flu outbreaks come in definite cycles, the U.S. Public Health Service predicts the nation is due for some Asian flu and overdue for Type B flu this year. Both types have been prevalent elsewhere in the world this past season.

Persons over 65, pregnant women and persons suffering from heart disease, diabetes or other chronic illnesses are urged to get flu shots now.

The National Tuberculosis Association warns that persons with respiratory ailments like TB, and emphysema are in especial danger.

Beware the Castor Bean

If you have small children roaming your yard, beware of the castor oil plant and its fruit, the castor bean.

Many gardeners grow these plants because of their decorative appearance and large leaves. They often substitute as a quick-growing shrub about new homes.

But if any unwary child should chew the castor bean, fatal poisoning can result, says a University of Michigan pediatrician, Dr. George H. Lowrey.

Symptoms appear in one to two days. They include vomiting, drowsiness, stupor and stomach ache, with death occuring within 12 days.

Sailing, Sailing

Who's most likely to get seasick?

A study of U.S. soldiers riding troopships back and forth across the Atlantic indicated these findings:

More seasickness for those under 25 years of age, than those above.

Those in the forward and after sections of the ship were more often seasick than those amidships.

Heavier persons were more susceptible than lighter individuals.

Those making their first ocean crossing were more susceptible than more experienced hands.

The most effective seasickness pills contained the drug meseclizine.

Civil War Body Still Without Executive Leader

WASHINGTON (AP) — No successor has been chosen for the executive director of the federal Civil War Centennial Commission, whose ouster reportedly led to the resignations of two commission members.

A special committee of the commission failed Tuesday to agree on a replacement for Karl S. Betts, who was removed from his $17,600-a-year job.

Rep. Frank E. Smith, D-Miss., spokesman for the committee, said Betts was demoted because commission members "had the general feeling he lacked the capacity to carry out the ideas that predominated in the commission."

In the wake of Betts' dismissal, Maj. Gen. Ulysses S. Grant III, of Clinton, N.Y., commission chairman, resigned.

Grant, a grandson of the Civil War commander of the Union forces, said he was leaving because of "arbitrary and inconsiderate demands" made upon him by other commission members. He also cited his wife's illness.

Smith said after the meeting Tuesday that several names had been suggested as Betts' replacement and that another meeting in October might produce a selection.

Port Ewen

The Town of Esopus board will meet tonight, 8 o'clock, at the town auditorium.

Novena to Our Lady of Perpetual Help will be offered tonight 7:30 at Presentation Church followed by benediction and confession. Daily Mass is at 8 a. m.

The WSCS of the Methodist Church will hold its first meeting of the fall season on Wednesday, Sept. 27, 7:30 p. m. All members may attend and new members are welcome. Following the regular meeting there will be a discussion led by two guest officials of the WSCS from neighboring churches. Hostesses for the evening will be the Mmes. William Schweigel, C. Charchian. Devotions will be conducted by Mrs. Arthur Fowler.

Members of the Port Ewen Methodist Church who wish to attend the Protestant Women's communion breakfast Sept. 24 at 7 a. m. at the Reformed Church Hall may obtain tickets from Mrs. Robert Graves no later than Sept. 17.

West had an opening bid by Jacoby - Smith standards. We just don't pass originally when we hold a five card suit to the ace-king and side ace.

If West had opened the bidding the chances are that South would not have reached game, and if he had reached game the chances are overwhelming that he would have been set.

West opened the king of diamonds and continued with the ace and another. South ruffed and led a spade, toward dummy. West rose with the ace and returned the suit. South drew East's last trump. Then he played all his hearts, taking dummy's ace last and thought things over.

West had shown up with the ace and king of diamonds and the ace of spades. It was impossible for him to have the queen of clubs also. South decided that the club finesse just wasn't going to work.

Still there was a way to make the hand. Maybe West would have the ten of clubs. South played the jack of clubs from dummy and the hand was home. Actually, East ducked and South let the jack ride, but it would have done him no good to cover. In that cacse, South would have won with the ace and finessed against West's ten spot.

Berlin-for-Moscow Trade Is Held Unlikely

Nixon Doubts Any War If Start Is Up to Reds

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—Richard M. Nixon, 1960 Republican presidential nominee, says Soviet Premier Khrushchev must ask himself, before taking any action which would precipitate war, "Am I willing to trade Berlin for Moscow?"

In an address to the American Legion's 43rd convention Tuesday night, Nixon predicted there will be no war over Berlin or other places "if Khrushchev and the Communists have to take the initiative" in starting it.

Nixon said Khrushchev is motivated entirely by self-interest. He said the Soviet premier "knows the destructive power of the very weapons he rattles in our faces" and knows he would face retaliatory blows.

Nixon called for the United States to take a firm position when dealing with the Communists over territory.

Shortly after his arrival, Nixon told newsmen he will announce in the Los Angeles area within "10 days or two weeks" whether he will seek the Republican nomination for governor of California. He also said former Gov. Goodwin Knight did not consult him before announcing as a candidate for the nomination.

Tonight Nixon will address a Colorado Republican rally, which state leaders call the kickoff of their 1962 campaign. The occasion will be a $10 per person box supper at the University of Denver Arena.

Nixon said his decision on whether to seek the Republican nomination for governor of California will be made "without regard to decisions of others."

The entry of Knight, as well as two or three other candidates, indicates the Republican primary will be "an open race and no deals," Nixon said.

Lipton Contract At Rhinebeck Is Signed by Board

Members of the Rhinebeck School District Board of Education at a meeting Monday night, completed negotiations with Julius Lipton, owner of the Bee Line Bus Co. of Kingston, by signing a contract for the company to transport children to school on eight district routes.

The Bee Line bid was $31,887.

The State Department of Education two weeks ago overruled the board's decision to award the contract to S. Richard Lloyd, Rhinebeck. The school board had accepted Lloyd's bid, members said, because it met specifications but the state ruled the Bee Line company was the lowest bidder, qualifying for the contract.

There was no opposition to the contract Monday night.

Hope Seems Dim For UAW Accord

By A. F. MAHAN

DETROIT (AP)—Hope vanished today that General Motors Corp. and the United Auto Workers Union could reach agreement by Thursday on a new contract and end crippling local-level strikes that have closed more than 90 GM plants.

The UAW, however, ordered all local unions which already have reached at-the-plant agreements to go back to work, and it told others to end strikes as quickly as they reach settlements.

Meeting Off

Hope of settlement was dashed when the UAW called off a scheduled 2 p.m. Thursday meeting of its General Motors Conference, which had been called to wrap up a new three-year contract with the world's largest automaker.

The UAW said, in effect, there was no possibility of getting a sufficient number of at-the-plant agreements by Thursday where strikes are in progress.

The union urged intensification of local-level bargaining "to reach sensible and satisfactory solutions to local problems at the earliest possible date." It said the GM conference meeting was being delayed to permit local union officers to remain at their plant bargaining tables.

More than 90 plants out of GM's 129 were idled by strikes in support of local-level working agreement demands.

Local-level agreements have been worked out at 43 GM plants since walkouts began at 10 a.m. Monday. None of the plants had gotten back in operation by Tuesday night.

'62 Models Halted

The strikes completely shut off the flow of new 1962 model cars which had just started to come in volume from assembly lines of the highly integrated GM empire.

The GM conference was postponed to a date and time to be announced later. The meeting had been considered, in effect, a deadline for local-level settlements.

Some sources expressed the opinion the conference meeting was delayed because locals of possibly a majority of the 280 members had not yet settled. Majority vote rules in the conference.

Spokesmen for GM declined any immediate comment on the delay or its possible effects upon national negotiations.

Thirty-six plants continued in operation Tuesday. Some local agreements had been reached prior to Monday. Others operated while negotiations progressed, but no assembly lines were operating.

GM and the UAW have agreed on a national wage and fringe benefits package which the union estimates is worth 12.04 cents hourly in take-home pay. They also have resolved one of the knottier non-economic national issues — relief time allowed assembly line workers.

Four Settlements

Both sides have asserted repeatedly, however, there must be settlement of all local-level and national non-economic issues before a new contract is completed. A three year-old contract has been extended since Aug. 31.

Four settlements were reported Tuesday—at two plants in Tarrytown, N.Y., and single plants at Livonia, Mich., and Marion, Ind.

One new walkout erupted at the Chevrolet engineering plant at GM Technical Center in Warren Mich., where 800 men quit work.

First cookstoves were marketed in 1830. Built to burn wood, they had built-in ovens and a tank at the end for heating water.

Switches Plans

JFK to See Neutralist Emissaries Separately

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy, in a last-minute switch in plans today, arranged separate conferences with two neutralist emissaries instead of a joint meeting with the two.

The White House said the change in plans was requested by the two visitors, President Sukarno of Indonesia and President Modibo Keita of Mali. No additional reason was given.

Kennedy was expected to tell them this country wants and expects negotiations with the Soviet Union on a peaceful settlement of the Berlin crisis, but that he sees no prospect of a summit conference with Soviet Premier Khrushchev unless advance negotiations give promise of a successful outcome.

Keita Is First

The White House said Kennedy would meet Keita and his aides first, then with Sukarno and the Indonesian president's advisers. Original plans had been for a joint midmorning meeting.

A short combined meeting was arranged just before Kennedy plays host to Sukarno and Keita at lunch.

The two arrived late Tuesday as representatives of the Belgrade, Yugoslavia, conference of 25 unaligned nations which met in the Yugoslav capital 10 days ago.

They delivered to Kennedy a letter calling for direct negotiations between him and Khrushchev to save the world from the dangers of a nuclear war.

Kennedy met them and gave them a full dress airport reception complete with red carpet, 21-gun salute and a military honor guard.

Another Nuclear Test

At almost the same instant that their big jet landed, the Atomic Energy Commission announced that the Soviet Union had exploded another nuclear weapons test device — the seventh in the series which started after Moscow announced two weeks ago that nunuclear tests were being resumed.

Kennedy has had some exploratory soundings made, chiefly by U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson in Moscow, to find out whether Khrushchev is seriously interested in negotiating a Berlin settlement other than on his own terms; that is, a settlement providing for abandonment of West Berlin by the Western powers.

So far, U.S. officials report, the Soviets have offered no encouragement for terms of negotiation acceptable to the West.

Judges Do It in Shifts

Mino, Tucker Share Crowded Court Room for Cases Today

Need for additional court room facilities was clearly demonstrated today when two terms of Ulster County Criminal Court and a session of civil trial work were crowded in the court room of the Ulster County Court House.

County Judge Raymond J. Mino opened court at 10 a. m. with a criminal calendar, followed by a civil calendar call which resulted in the selection of a trial jury.

Selection of the trial jury was suspended while Acting County Judge Francis X. Tucker presided at a call of his criminal calendar and disposition of criminal matters. Later, selection of the civil action jury was resumed before Judge Mino.

Recesses to Find Place

Judge Tucker meanwhile recessed his court "until a suitable room can be secured" at which time he was scheduled to begin trial of an assault, second degree, charge against Levon Avak Telian. Both Assistant District Attorney Joseph Torraca and Howard C. St. John, attorney for defendant, were ready to commence the trial.

The civil action on trial before Judge Mino is a negligence action brought by Lucy Perry, Port Ewen taxi concern, against Harold Mackey of Kingston and involves an accident at Savoy Street and Harding Avenue on January 1957. Roy L. Featherstone by R. J. Drake, appears for plaintiff and George A. Beck for defendant.

Arraigned before Judge Mino, by District Attorney David Corwin, was James Kiernan, charged with violation of a gambling statute. Seymour Werbalowsky appeared and a plea of innocent was entered. Bail was continued and the case set down for September 25, at 10 a. m.

Peter William Smith, New York City, who had been employed in Poughkeepsie, was arraigned on a charge of second degree forgery, alleged to have been committed on June 18, 1961. Joseph Avis was assigned as counsel and the matter adjourned to September 18 at 10 a. m.

Pleads Innocent

Wilbur H. Schleede, charged with burglary, second degree, and grand larceny, second degree, alleged to have been committed February 18, 1961, entered a plea of innocent. Seymour Werbalowsky appeared for defendant and the case was adjourned to' September 25 at 10 a. m.

Allen Walker, indicted along with Peter William Smith, for second degree forgery alleged to have been committed on June 9, 1961, was remanded to jail after arraignment and Martin Comeau was assigned as counsel. Adjourned to September 18 at 10 a. m.

Frederick Smith, arraigned on a charge of incest, entered a plea of innocent through his counsel Charles Saccoman and bail was continued until September 25 at 10 a. m.

Criminal matters before Judge Tucker included an indictment which charged Vernon E. Grant and John Lee Grant, town of Shandaken brothers, with second degree forgery, alleged to have been committed on April 18, 1961. Represented by Joseph Avis, they entered pleas of guilty to the first count of the forgery indictment. Sentences of from 1 to 2 years at hard labor in Clinton State Prison were suspended. A second count of the indictment second count of the indictment was dismissed.

Spent 132 Days in Jail

Prior to pleading to the forgery indictment, John Lee Grant, had entered a plea of guilty to petit larceny, growing out of a grand larceny charge alleged to have been committed on June 18, 1960. On his plea to the misdemeanor charge he was given 132 days in the county jail, the time he had already served. The grand larceny count was dismissed by Judge Tucker on motion of Attorney Avis and with consent of District Attorney David Corwin.

Two Brought Back

The cases of Michael Christoforo and Howard Quick Jr., both of whom were brought to Ulster County from the Sullivan County jail, were set down for September 18, at 10 a. m. They were indicted for third degree burglary and unlawful entry.

In the case of Andrew LaMela, charged with buying and receiving stolen property, concealing and withholding stolen property and removing identification marks, his attorney Michael Nardone moved to have the case disposed of under the Youthful Offender Law. Decision was reserved by Judge Tucker pending an investigation.

Francis Edmond Loomis, now confined to Greenhaven Prison, was arraigned on a charge of second degree forgery, alleged to have been committed March 19, 1960, and his case was adjourned to Friday when counsel will be assigned. He was remanded to custody of the sheriff by Judge Tucker.

Catskill Man Is Held in Albany For Cop Assault

A 22-year-old Catskill man has been indicted by an Albany county grand jury on charges of first the concealment of a dangerous weapon and the intent to kill and the concealment of a danger ous weapon, according to District Attorney John Garry.

John Seebode, of West Bridge Street, Catskill, had been held on an attempted murder charge involving the shooting of an Albany patrolman on August 12.

Authorities said Seebode allegedly tried to force a patron of a Catskill tavern to take him to Albany where the defendant alledgly shot Patrolman George Sparks, when the officer attempted to apprehend a speeding car. The officer subsequently recovered.

Leeds State Police BCI officers said Seebode took an automatic pistol from his home.

No bail has been set for the defendant.

Robot Astronaut

spaceman will fly the route on a three-turn orbit.

An automatic timing device fired the three small slow-down rockets attached to the base of the capsule at 10:33 a.m. as the vehicle neared the end of its single whirl around the globe. As a backup, a ground station at Guaymas, Mexico, sent a radio signal to ignite the rockets.

The intention was to slow the capsule by 350 miles from its orbital speed of 17,520 m.p.h. This is enough to ease the craft gradually back to earth under the pull of gravity.

The flawless performance of the Atlas and spacecraft were reported by the Mercury control center from the instant of launch.

In Orbit Quickly

Shortly after the rocket blasted off in a swirl of flame the tracking station on Bermuda picked up clean signals from the booster and capsule.

The NASA confirmed that the capsule had achieved orbit 20 minutes after liftoff.

An announcement said the Atlas engine flung the two-ton capsule free at a point 500 miles down range from Cape Canaveral at an altitude of 99 miles.

The shot could start this nation on the long road to overtake the Soviet Union's lead in the space Race. Two Soviets, Yuri Gagarin and Gherman Titov, have been reported returned safely from orbital trips.

The United States also has two experienced spaceman in Alan B. Shepard Jr. and Virgil I. Grissom. They survived brief 15-minute suborbital flights which provided valuable data for the orbital rides. No further suborbital launches are planned.

Berlin-for-Moscow Trade Is Held Unlikely

Nixon Doubts Any War If Start Is Up to Reds

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—Richard M. Nixon, 1960 Republican presidential nominee, says Soviet Premier Khrushchev must ask himself, before taking any action which would precipitate war, "Am I willing to trade Berlin for Moscow?"

In an address to the American Legion's 43rd convention Tuesday night, Nixon predicted there will be no war over Berlin or other places "if Khrushchev and the Communists have to take the initiative" in starting it.

Nixon said Khrushchev is motivated entirely by self-interest. He said the Soviet premier "knows the destructive power of the very weapons he rattles in our faces" and knows he would face retaliatory blows.

Nixon called for the United States to take a firm position when dealing with the Communists over territory.

Shortly after his arrival, Nixon told newsmen he will announce in the Los Angeles area within "10 days or two weeks" whether he will seek the Republican nomination for governor of California. He also said former Gov. Goodwin Knight did not consult him before announcing as a candidate for the nomination.

Tonight Nixon will address a Colorado Republican rally, which state leaders call the kickoff of their 1962 campaign. The occasion will be a $10 per person box supper at the University of Denver Arena.

Nixon said his decision on whether to seek the Republican nomination for governor of California will be made "without regard to decisions of others."

The entry of Knight, as well as two or three other candidates, indicates the Republican primary will be "an open race and no deals," Nixon said.

Lipton Contract At Rhinebeck Is Signed by Board

Members of the Rhinebeck School District Board of Education at a meeting Monday night, completed negotiations with Julius Lipton, owner of the Bee Line Bus Co. of Kingston, by signing a contract for the company to transport children to school on eight district routes.

The Bee Line bid was $31,887.

The State Department of Education two weeks ago overruled the board's decision to award the contract to S. Richard Lloyd, Rhinebeck. The school board had accepted Lloyd's bid, members said, because it met specifications but the state ruled the Bee Line company was the lowest bidder, qualifying for the contract.

There was no opposition to the contract Monday night.

Hope Seems Dim For UAW Accord

By A. F. MAHAN

DETROIT (AP)—Hope vanished today that General Motors Corp. and the United Auto Workers Union could reach agreement by Thursday on a new contract and end crippling local-level strikes that have closed more than 90 GM plants.

The UAW, however, ordered all local unions which already have reached at-the-plant agreements to go back to work, and it told others to end strikes as quickly as they reach settlements.

Meeting Off

Hope of settlement was dashed when the UAW called off a scheduled 2 p.m. Thursday meeting of its General Motors Conference, which had been called to wrap up a new three-year contract with the world's largest automaker.

The UAW said, in effect, there was no possibility of getting a sufficient number of at-the-plant agreements by Thursday where strikes are in progress.

The union urged intensification of local-level bargaining "to reach sensible and satisfactory solutions to local problems at the earliest possible date." It said the GM conference meeting was being delayed to permit local union officers to remain at their plant bargaining tables.

More than 90 plants out of GM's 129 were idled by strikes in support of local-level working agreement demands.

Local-level agreements have been worked out at 43 GM plants since walkouts began at 10 a.m. Monday. None of the plants had gotten back in operation by Tuesday night.

'62 Models Halted

The strikes completely shut off the flow of new 1962 model cars which had just started to come in volume from assembly lines of the highly integrated GM empire.

The GM conference was postponed to a date and time to be announced later. The meeting had been considered, in effect, a deadline for local-level settlements.

Some sources expressed the opinion the conference meeting was delayed because locals of possibly a majority of the 280 members had not yet settled. Majority vote rules in the conference.

Spokesmen for GM declined any immediate comment on the delay or its possible effects upon national negotiations.

Thirty-six plants continued in operation Tuesday. Some local agreements had been reached prior to Monday. Others operated while negotiations progressed, but no assembly lines were operating.

GM and the UAW have agreed on a national wage and fringe benefits package which the union estimates is worth 12.04 cents hourly in take-home pay. They also have resolved one of the knottier non-economic national issues — relief time allowed assembly line workers.

Four Settlements

Both sides have asserted repeatedly, however, there must be settlement of all local-level and national non-economic issues before a new contract is completed. A three year-old contract has been extended since Aug. 31.

Four settlements were reported Tuesday—at two plants in Tarrytown, N.Y., and single plants at Livonia, Mich., and Marion, Ind.

One new walkout erupted at the Chevrolet engineering plant at GM Technical Center in Warren Mich., where 800 men quit work.

First cookstoves were marketed in 1830. Built to burn wood, they had built-in ovens and a tank at the end for heating water.

Switches Plans

JFK to See Neutralist Emissaries Separately

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy, in a last-minute switch in plans today, arranged separate conferences with two neutralist emissaries instead of a joint meeting with the two.

The White House said the change in plans was requested by the two visitors, President Sukarno of Indonesia and President Modibo Keita of Mali. No additional reason was given.

Kennedy was expected to tell them this country wants and expects negotiations with the Soviet Union on a peaceful settlement of the Berlin crisis, but that he sees no prospect of a summit conference with Soviet Premier Khrushchev unless advance negotiations give promise of a successful outcome.

Keita Is First

The White House said Kennedy would meet Keita and his aides first, then with Sukarno and the Indonesian president's advisers. Original plans had been for a joint midmorning meeting.

A short combined meeting was arranged just before Kennedy plays host to Sukarno and Keita at lunch.

The two arrived late Tuesday as representatives of the Belgrade, Yugoslavia, conference of 25 unaligned nations which met in the Yugoslav capital 10 days ago.

They delivered to Kennedy a letter calling for direct negotiations between him and Khrushchev to save the world from the dangers of a nuclear war.

Kennedy met them and gave them a full dress airport reception complete with red carpet, 21-gun salute and a military honor guard.

Another Nuclear Test

At almost the same instant that their big jet landed, the Atomic Energy Commission announced that the Soviet Union had exploded another nuclear weapons test device — the seventh in the series which started after Moscow announced two weeks ago that nuclear tests were being resumed.

Kennedy has had some exploratory soundings made, chiefly by U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson in Moscow, to find out whether Khrushchev is seriously interested in negotiating a Berlin settlement other than on his own terms; that is, a settlement providing for abandonment of West Berlin by the Western powers.

So far, U.S. officials report, the Soviets have offered no encouragement for terms of negotiation acceptable to the West.

Juages Do It in Shifts

Mino, Tucker Share Crowded Court Room for Cases Today

Need for additional court room facilities was clearly demonstrated today when two terms of Ulster County Criminal Court and a session of civil trial work were crowded in the court room of the Ulster County Court House.

County Judge Raymond J. Mino opened court at 10 a. m. with a criminal calendar, followed by a civil calendar call which resulted in the selection of a trial jury.

Selection of the trial jury was suspended while Acting County Judge Francis X. Tucker presided at a call of his criminal calendar and disposition of criminal matters. Later, selection of the civil action jury was resumed before Judge Mino.

Recesses to Find Place

Judge Tucker meanwhile recessed his court "until a suitable room can be secured" at which time he was scheduled to begin trial of an assault, second degree, charge against Levon Avak Teian. Both Assistant District Attorney Joseph Torraca and Howard C. St. John, attorney for defendant, were ready to commence the trial.

The civil action on trial before Judge Mino is a negligence action brought by Lucy Perry, Port Ewen taxi concern, against Harold Mackey of Kingston and involves an accident at Savoy Street and Harding Avenue on January 1957. Roy L. Featherstone by R. J. Drake, appears for plaintiff and George A. Beck for defendant.

Arraigned before Judge Mino, by District Attorney David Corwin, was James Kiernan, charged with violation of a gambling statute. Seymour Werbalowsky appeared and a plea of innocent was entered. Bail was continued and the case set down for September 25, at 10 a. m.

Peter William Smith, New York City, who had been employed in Poughkeepsie, was arraigned on a charge of second degree forgery, alleged to have been committed on June 18, 1961. Joseph Avis was assigned as counsel and the matter adjourned to September 18 at 10 a. m.

Pleads Innocent

Wilbur H. Schleede, charged with burglary, second degree, and grand larceny, second degree, alleged to have been committed February 18, 1961, entered a plea of innocent. Seymour Werbalowsky appeared for defendant and the case was adjourned to September 25 at 10 a. m.

Allen Walker, indicted along with Peter William Smith, for second degree forgery alleged to have been committed on June 9, 1961, was remanded to jail after arraignment and Martin Comeau was assigned as counsel. Adjourned to September 18 at 10 a. m.

Frederick Smith, arraigned on a charge of incest, entered a plea of innocent through his counsel Charles Saccoman and bail was continued until September 25 at 10 a. m.

Criminal matters before Judge Tucker included an indictment which charged Vernon E. Grant and John Lee Grant, town of Shandaken brothers, with second degree forgery, alleged to have been committed on April 18, 1961. Represented by Joseph Avis, they entered pleas of guilty to the first count of the forgery indictment. Sentences of from 1 to 2 years at hard labor in Clinton State Prison were suspended. A second count of the indictment second count of the indictment was dismissed.

Spent 132 Days in Jail

Prior to pleading to the forgery indictment, John Lee Grant, had entered a plea of guilty to petit larceny, growing out of a grand larceny charge alleged to have been committed on June 18, 1960. On his plea to the misdemeanor charge he was given 132 days in the county jail, the time he had already served. The grand larceny count was dismissed by Judge Tucker on motion of Attorney Avis and with consent of District Attorney David Corwin.

Two Brought Back

The cases of Michael Christoforo and Howard Quick Jr., both of whom were brought to Ulster County from the Sullivan County jail, were set down for September 18, at 10 a. m. They were indicted for third degree burglary and unlawful entry.

In the case of Andrew LaMela, charged with buying and receiving stolen property, concealing and withholding stolen property and removing identification marks, his attorney Michael Nardone moved to have the case disposed of under the Youthful Offender Law. Decision was reserved by Judge Tucker pending an investigation.

Francis Edmond Loomis, now confined to Greenhaven Prison, was arraigned on a charge of second degree forgery, alleged to have been committed March 19, 1960, and his case was adjourned to Friday when counsel will be assigned. He was remanded to custody of the sheriff by Judge Tucker.

Catskill Man Is Held in Albany For Cop Assault

A 22-year-old Catskill man has been indicted by an Albany county grand jury on charges of first the concealment of a dangerous weapon and the intent to kill and the concealment of a danger ous weapon, according to District Attorney John Garry.

John Seebode, of West Bridge Street, Catskill, had been held on an attempted murder charge involving the shooting of an Albany patrolman on August 12.

Authorities said Seebode allegedly tried to force a patron of a Catskill tavern to take him to Albany where the defendant alledgly shot Patrolman George Sparks, when the officer attempted to apprehend a speeding car. The officer subsequently recovered.

Leeds State Police BCI officers said Seebode took an automatic pistol from his home.

No bail has been set for the defendant.

Robot Astronaut

spaceman will fly the route on a three-turn orbit.

An automatic timing device fired the three small slow-down rockets attached to the base of the capsule at 10:33 a.m. as the vehicle neared the end of its single whirl around the globe. As a backup, a ground station at Guaymas, Mexico, sent a radio signal to ignite the rockets.

The intention was to slow the capsule by 350 miles from its orbital speed of 17,520 m.p.h. This is enough to ease the craft gradually back to earth under the pull of gravity.

The flawless performance of the Atlas and spacecraft were reported by the Mercury control center from the instant of launch.

In Orbit Quickly

Shortly after the rocket blasted off in a swirl of flame the tracking station on Bermuda picked up clean signals from the booster and capsule.

The NASA confirmed that the capsule had achieved orbit 20 minutes after liftoff.

An announcement said the Atlas engine flung the two-ton capsule free at a point 500 miles down range from Cape Canaveral at an altitude of 99 miles.

The shot could start this nation on the long road to overtake the Soviet Union's lead in the space Race. Two Soviets, Yuri Gagarin and Gherman Titov, have been reported returned safely from orbital trips.

The United States also has two experienced spaceman in Alan B. Shepard Jr. and Virgil I. Grissom. They survived brief 15-minute suborbital flights which provided valuable data for the orbital rides. No further suborbital launches are planned.

TORNADO AFTER HURRICANE — The garage doors of a home almost completely destroyed by a tornado that swept the Channelview, Texas, area frames a less damaged house. The tornado, an offshot of Hurricane Carla, destroyed almost a score of homes and buildings in the area. (AP Wirephoto)

Alert Without Evacuation Meaningless

Man's Reaction to Storm Warning One Way to Tame Killer Hurricane

centers and small places as huge tides, winds and rains diminished.

Many residents who fled northward will not be permitted to return, however, until water, sewer and power service are restored.

One of the more dramatic scenes was in Galveston, an island city cut off from the mainland since Saturday and target for a tornado before dawn Tuesday.

Girls waved and blew kisses as a convoy of 78 National Guard troops rolled into battered Galveston. It took them three hours to make the 50-mile trip from Houston, at times creeping through three feet of water covering the causeway.

Dead Identified

Hospital attendants listed among Galveston's six tornado dead Mrs. J. N. Olson, 62, a city school board member; Marie Harris, 57, and Ennie Miles, about 50. Another tornado wrecked the village of Fullbright in north Texas but caused no deaths or injuries.

Four persons died in a tornado striking at Jonesboro, La. It leveled at least two dozen houses and several persons were listed as missing.

Texas City and Freeport, mainland points on opposite sides of Galveston, were among Texas areas sharing some of the heaviest property loss. After an aerial survey, Associated Press staff writer Charles Green reported thousands who fled those cities would be shocked.

Water Up to Rooftops

"I'm glad they couldn't see those homes yesterday when four of us flew in a light plane over the Galveston-Texas City-Freeport area," Green said. "They would have cried. Many will anyway, because they'll find nothing but debris. Some won't even find debris."

There was still muddy water up to the rooftops of houses and pouring through business places in Texas City. About 2,000 persons trapped by the storm were rescued from emergency shelters in Texas City. Food and water was rationed and they were without electricity.

At Freeport, slowly dropping water remained eight feet deep in parts of the big complex of Dow Chemical Co. plarts. From the air only debris could be seen at Hoskins Mound near Freeport, where 50 persons made their homes.

Brad Messer, assistant executive editor of the Galveston News, estimated it would take a week to search tornado wreckage alone for other possible victims.

Down the coast at Edna, a city of 10,000 ripped by 150-mile winds, Associated Press staff member Ronnie Thompson found damage heaviest along the Lavaca Bay waterfront and along part of Matagorda Bay, which caught the center of the hurricane.

Highway Closed Again

A highway from Victoria to Port Lavaca, once reopened, was closed again late Tuesday because of food and water shortages and danger from snakes driven from their dens by high tides.

Practically nothing remained of Port O'Connor, the small point on Mustang Island where Carla's center struck inland. Edgar A. Munsch, who sat out the hurricane there with about a dozen others, has lived at Port O'Connor since 1914.

"This is my 10th hurricane," Munsch said, "and I've never seen a bigger one."

By ROBERT E. FORD

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP)—Sixty-one years ago almost to the week Isaac Cline hopped into his buggy, whipped up the horses and raced along Galveston Beach crying that a hurricane was coming.

Skeptics scoffed at him.

Within hours began a terrible two days during which the hurricane that Cline predicted washed away about 6,000 lives on the island of Galveston. Some estimates say as many as 8,000 died.

90 PC of Island Covered

Two days ago a still more powerful hurricane threw its Sunday punch — the southeast quadrant, squarely at Galveston.

Hurricane Carla covered 90 per cent of the island with water deep enough in some places to hide automobiles.

But late reports indicate that no persons died as a direct result of the hurricane in the city, although a tornado took some lives after the hurricane passed.

What happened? Have hurricanes become tired old men no longer able to batter a city into rubble?

Not at all. Hurricanes possess as much vitality as ever.

It is man himself that has, in a way, tamed hurricanes by rolling with their punches.

Man began to react to Carla long before the hurricane was expected.

Careful Watch Vital

Carla named, and from that moment weathermen watched her as carefully as though she were a maniac with a pistol.

Isaac Cline and his brother, Joseph, were pioneer weathermen. They had few instruments to help them, certainly no airplanes or radar.

They watched the tides, the colors of the ocean and cloud formations. Wise in the ways of the Gulf of Mexico, they knew nature was about to strike.

It was 10 a.m. last Saturday that the Weather Bureau issued the advisory that kicked off the greatest exodus in American history.

The bureau forecast severe tides and high winds. It is the walls of water thrown up by the really big hurricanes that make man cringe with fears.

Already, evacuations from Texas low offshore islands and some parts of Louisiana had begun.

But the 10 a.m advisory caused an emergency meeting of Port Arthur Civil Defense Director Sawyer Wolston with coast guardsmen, weathermen, and law-enforcement agencies.

About 100,000 Got Out

Within minutes they decided to order the evacuation of the Port Arthur area — where 135,000 persons live. An estimated 100,000 got out.

That action triggered movement all along the coast toward safety inland.

There was an endless stream of humanity as far as Dallas as the refugees filled hotels and motels and later arrivals kept moving on.

So evacuation was added to advance, long-range warning to keep the death toll remarkably low for one of the most powerful hurricanes in history. Many towns were ghost communities when Carla passed.

Warning without evacuation is meaningless. Four years ago, Cameron, La., received warning but many people refused to leave. Hurricane Audrey took 590 lives, mostly in and around Cameron. This time they got out.

Carla to Bring Rain and Wind To Parts of N.Y.

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Ex-hurricane Carla, now a low pressure system over Oklahoma, is and strong winds in New York expected to produce heavy rain State.

The Weather Bureau said the storm's center would skirt the state late Thursday and Friday. This is expected to bring showers, some of them heavy and winds up to 45 miles an hour Thursday, the bureau said.

Cooler weather is forecast for the state Friday.

Air Force Hopes To Snare Space Capsule Saturday

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—The Air Force hopes to recover the orbiting capsule of Discoverer XXX by Saturday.

The 300-pound, gold-plated capsule was blasted into orbit here Tuesday at 12:28 p.m. It is orbiting every 92.4 minutes in a path from 154 to 345 statute miles away from the earth.

It was the 20th Discoverer to orbit. The Air Force said it would attempt the recovery from one to four days after launch.

Four Discoverer capsules were caught in the air. Three were pulled from the Pacific Ocean in the Hawaiian recovery area.

Bronx Man Fair After Ridge Crash

The condition of Carmen Even, 25, of the Bronx, severely injured Tuesday afternoon in an automobile accident in Stone Ridge, is reported as fair today at Benedictine Hospital where he is under treatment for a possible fractured skull and fractured pelvis.

State Police said Even was a passenger in a car operated by William Patcheo, 27, also of the Bronx, which crossed a double white line near the intersection of Routes 209 and 213, continued on across the highway and into the home of Mrs. Mary Bloomer. Trooper W. E. Wiedemann, who investigated, said considerable damage was done to the Bloomer residence.

The trooper issued a summons to Patcheo on a charge of crossing the double white line and the Bronx man is scheduled to appear before Marlboro Justice of the Peace Scott Patty on Sept. 23.

New Storm Moves

Esther to the U.S. mainland. But he emphasized it was too early to determine if other weather factors would alter Esther's course.

Hurricane Debbie was northbound through the North Atlantic at about 14 m.p.h., well east of Nova Scotia. She presented no danger to land areas and was doomed to die in the cold northern waters.

Distantly Related

Hurricanes Carla and Esther are only distantly related and originated in entirely different areas more than 1,000 miles apart, Hill said.

Carla, which battered the coasts of Louisiana and Texas, was spawned in the western Caribbean between Jamaica and Panama, and moved up the Gulf of Mexico.

Betsy, Debbie and Esther originated west of the Cape Verdes, off the west coast of Africa, Hill said.

ister Godefroid Munongo, have fled. Munongo is considered the strong man of the province.

About 150 U.N. Irish soldiers were reported surrounded by 500 Katanga soldiers in the mining mining town of Jadotville about 60 miles from Elisabethville.

Adoula said that Tuesday night Katanga forces set fire to a U.N. garage and when U. N. troops went to put out the blaze they were fired on by mercenaries from the Belgian consulate.

A Katanga tank later fired on a U. N. vehicle near the post office and a general battle broke out, he said.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market had to struggle to maintain a morning advance as profit-taking clipped back gains early this afternoon. Trading was moderate.

The Associated Press 60-stock average at noon was up 0.40 at 256.20 with industrials up 0.90, rails up 0.10 and utilities up 0.10.

Ford and Chrysler were up nearly a point. General Motors, American Motors and Studebaker-Packard were slightly higher.

Steels, most rubber shares, aircrafts, most metals and tobaccos also were higher. Oils weakened and rails failed to follow through on their strength of Tuesday.

The advance among auto shares came despite the uncertainties hanging over the General Motors strike. Although some plants were working, prospects dimmed for a general, over-all settlement before Friday.

Key issues rose fractionally, with here and there an occasional issue climbing a couple of points or so.

Says Reds Could Ruin NATO Bases With Smaller Arms

MOSCOW (AP) — Marshal Kiril S. Moskalenko, commander of Soviet rocket forces, said today the U.S.S.R. could wipe out North Atlantic Treaty Organization defense bases with short-range tactical nuclear rockets alone.

"To defeat these, ballistic long-range rockets are not needed," Moskalenko wrote in an article in the Defense Ministry paper Red Star and distributed by the Soviet news agency Tass. "Even operational tactical rocket arms would suffice."

Moskalenko said the Russians have intercontinental rockets which can deliver anywhere on earth "a nuclear warhead with the TNT equivalent of several million tons."

GOP Big Winner In Michigan for Convention Rule

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan's first constitutional convention in 54 years will convene next month with the Republican party in control. Democratic delegates are outnumbered better than 2 to 1.

Republican captured at least 99 of the 144 delegate seats in a special election Tuesday which drew about one-fifth of the state's estimated four million voters to the polls.

Republicans won in more than a score of districts where Democrats now are represented in the legislature. The sweep included normally Democratic Wayne (Detroit) County districts. Democratic National Committeewoman Mildred Jeffrey was among the losers.

"This means the Republican party philosophy has been accepted by the people." said State Chairman George Van Peursem. "the results make it crystal clear the Republican party is on the move."

For a number of years the Republicans have been less than successful in major Michigan politics, Former Gov. G. Mennen Williams, a Democrat, held office for six successive two-year terms.

Democratic Gov. John B. Swainson expressed disappointment at Tuesday's results. He said it was unfortunate that so few people voted in an election "of so great import to all the people of Michigan."

Delegates were elected on the basis of one for each senator and representative in the legislature, now controlled by the Republicans by an over-all 78-66 margin.

The convention will decide on legislative reapportionment, the state's fiscal structure, and other matters.

River Fill Beach Is Almost Sure For Germantown

Germantown residents, who have been anticipating a sandy beach on the Hudson River as a result of the dredging operations in the channel, may still get their beach. Town officials contacted Congressman J. Ernest Wharton (R), and Assemblyman Willard Drumm, (R), of Columbia County in regard to the situation. Congressman Wharton in turn contacted the House Appropriations Committee and Assemblyman Drumm has discussed the situation with state engineers.

The situation came about when terms of a written agreement between army engineers and town officials went awry. An agreement had been made for dumping of Hudson River fill along the North and South docks at Germantown, resulting in a sandy beach for the community.

Later Peru Dredging Company, which began operations several months ago, apparently changed existing plans and Germantown folk appeared to be on the verge of losing their beach.

When confronted by town officials, the company produced literature in booklet form from the New York Central Railroad, which discouraged the carrying out of the agreement. At this point Congressman Wharton and Assemblyman Drumm came into the picture in an effort to settle the problem with engineers and dredgers.

Town officials learned that if the original plan to dump along the Germantown docks were not carried out it would cost the dredging company large sums of money to dump on the west shore as lines would have to be disconnected to permit ships to pass.

A meeting was held yesterday with engineers, town officials, dredgers and railroad officials present and it was stated later that although permission was still to be acquired from the Central to extend operations to the South Dock area, assurance has been given that there is no apparent reason why permission cannot be granted and Germantown folk have their beach and perhaps boating facilities.

Nuclear War . . .

chinery, machine tools, generators, building materials—the essentials to generate power, start factories, build more machines, transport people and goods, and assure communications.

3. Planning organized efforts to carry people through the terrible early days, and the hard, demanding, cooperative labor to rebuild modern civilization.

Stresses Preparedness

It would cost billions of dollars, perhaps an average of $4 billions for some years, Dr. Teller says.

"A first step could be simply to distribute our surplus foods to strategic places throughout the country. This could be done in half a year.

"I believe the Russians will be more likely to attack if we are not prepared."

No More U. S.

Dr. Teller warns the time is short.

Soviet resumption of nuclear testing is frightening, he says. For it could mean the Soviets have been testing new weapons secretly underground in the past two or three years, and have decided to make open tests simply to answer some final questions.

The Soviets knew open testing would force or irritate the United States into more testing, and arouse adverse opinion.

But an edge won through secret testing could mean "they are so far ahead in weaponry they don't care what we do."

Says Time Short

Dr. Teller says "if we don't prepare, 100 million Americans could die in the first days of an all-out war. Thirty to forty millions more could die from starvation and disease. The United States would cease to exist."

"But I firmly believe 90 per cent of our population could be saved. It means 20 million would die, and this is terrible to contemplate. But why not try to give 90 per cent a decent chance for survival?"

Nuclear war "would be one of the most horrible things imaginable, and everything should be done to prevent it."

Dismayed by Attitude

But, he adds, he is dismayed by "those who say that a nuclear war necessarily means the end of everything."

"The fear of radiation is much greater than it deserves to be. It is not true that radiation, even from an all-out war, would destroy all forms of life.

"And it is simply not true that if war came, everything is hopeless.

"We can prepare."

Wagner Peruses School Board List

NEW YORK (AP) — Mayor Robert F. Wagner conferded today a list from which he must choose a new nine-member city board of education within a week.

No member of the present board is on the list, which was handed Wagner Tuesday by a special selection panel named by the State Legislature.

The names on the list were not made public.

However, Charles H. Silver, president of the board since 1952, will remain the city education picture.

Wagner announced Tuesday night the appointment of Silver as his executive assistant for education and industrial director. Silver, 72, will continue to serve without salary.

Don't Dump Known Stock for Untried

ROGER E. SPEAR

Q) "A distant cousin passed on a few months ago and left me 150 shares of Minnesota Mining and Mfg. I don't know much about either the company or the stock market. It has been suggested that I sell and re-invest the proceeds in a stock which has only recently sold some shares to the public. What do you think I should do?" O.B.

A) My advice is to stay with your present holdings. Minnesota Mining and Mfg. is one of the best stocks a person could have owned during the post-war stock market upsurge. In the last ten years company sales increased by over 200 per cent and share earnings rose over 350 per cent. From a 1951 low of 6¼, 3-M shares climbed to a peak of 88 last year, and I believe that considerably higher levels will eventually be seen. But 3-M management is not one to rest on its laurels and today the company has a stake in several diversified and promising fields. This aggressiveness, backed by experience and sound judgement, is very important to you as a stockholder.

Some impressive profits have been made in stocks of smaller companies which have recently "gone public." Success in these issues, however, requires a degree of market knowledge and skill which the average investor does not usually possess.

Minnesota Mining and Mfg. is an outstanding, seasoned stock. I recommend that you hold your shares for further growth gains.

Q) "I want good dividends and some appreciation. Is Liggett and Myers a good stock to buy?" H.B.

A) The current yield (5.2 per cent) on Liggett and Myers (NYSE) is well above average. However, the company has been somewhat affected by the move toward filter-type cigarettes. Earnings slipped slightly in recent years, and I see no evidence of early improvement.

For the investment combination your desire, I suggest a look at P. Lorrillard (NYSE). The return is around 1 per cent lower, but I think that the prospects for share gains are considerably better.

Mr. Spear cannot answer all mail personally but will answer all questions possible in his column.

On Mercy Mission

Task Force Sails From Florida Base

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP)—Navy warships head for a peacetime mercy mission on the devastated Texas coast today, carrying doctors and helicopters instead of soldiers and jet fighters.

The ships—two aircraft carriers, two destroyers and a transport—hope to reach the ravaged Texas coastlands of Hurricane Carla by first light Thursday. All are part of Task Force 135, commanded by Rear Adm. F. J. Brush.

Some 50 military doctors, four nurses and 40 helicopters were to join the carriers Shangri-la and Antietam early today at Pensacola. The carriers also will carry emergency supplies, including hundreds of disposable diapers, nursing bottles and baby food.

The destroyers Compton and Gainard and the transport Francis Marion were under full steam to the disaster scene.

Bluejacket landing force parties to augment the Marines are on both the carriers and destroyers.

Lt. George W. Milland, the Shangri-la's medical administrative officer, said the carriers can be converted to hospitals.

The transport can act as a floating hotel, taking aboard hurricane victims who do not need medical care. Over 2,300 beds are available.

Twenty-seven of the helicopters are Marine troop transport helicopters, equipped with hoists, rafts, and capable of 12-person loads. They flew in to Pensacola Tuesday with 60 pilots and over 100 crewmen.

New York, the county and the students.

Illustrating the increasing importance of other community colleges in the state, Kalish pointed out that they were becoming increasingly successful in placing interested graduates of their two-year programs in some of the nation's leading senior colleges and universities. Another interesting facet of their increasing educational importance to their respective counties is their adult education programs, each of which is designed to meet local needs.

When questioned about the possible location of an Ulster County Community College, Kalish stated that it would seem logical to have it within a 10-mile radius of the county's population center. However, he added, this is a matter for the board of trustees to decide once the citizens of Ulster County favor the establishment of a college through a referendum this fall.

Alert Without Evacuation Meaningless

By ROBERT E. FORD

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP)—Sixty-one years ago almost to the week Isaac Cline hopped into his buggy, whipped up the horses and raced along Galveston Beach crying that a hurricane was coming.

Skeptics scoffed at him.

Within hours began a terrible two days during which the hurricane that Cline predicted washed away about 6,000 lives on the island of Galveston. Some estimates say as many as 8,000 died.

90 PC of Island Covered

Two days ago a still more powerful hurricane threw its Sunday punch — the southeast quadrant, squarely at Galveston.

Hurricane Carla covered 90 per cent of the island with water deep enough in some places to hide automobiles.

But late reports indicate that no persons died as a direct result of the hurricane in the city, although a tornado took some lives after the hurricane passed.

What happened? Have hurricanes become tired old men no longer able to batter a city into rubble?

Not at all. Hurricanes possess as much vitality as ever.

It is man himself that has, in a way, tamed hurricanes by rolling with their punches.

Man began to react to Carla long before the hurricane was expected.

Careful Watch Vital

Carla named, and from that moment weathermen watched her as carefully as though she were a maniac with a pistol.

Isaac Cline and his brother, Joseph, were pioneer weathermen. They had few instruments to help them, certainly no airplanes or radar.

They watched the tides, the colors of the ocean and cloud formations. Wise in the ways of the Gulf of Mexico, they knew nature was about to strike.

It was 10 a.m. last Saturday that the Weather Bureau issued the advisory that kicked off the greatest exodus in American history.

The bureau forecast severe tides and high winds. It is the walls of water thrown up by the really big hurricanes that make man cringe with fears.

Already, evacuations from Texas low offshore islands and some parts of Louisiana had begun.

But the 10 a.m advisory caused an emergency meeting of Port Arthur Civil Defense Director Sawyer Wolston with coast guardsmen, weathermen, and law-enforcement agencies.

About 100,000 Got Out

Within minutes they decided to order the evacuation of the Port Arthur area — where 135,000 persons live. An estimated 100,000 got out.

That action triggered movement all along the coast toward safety inland.

There was an endless stream of humanity as far as Dallas as the refugees filled hotels and motels and later arrivals kept moving on.

So evacuation was added to advance, long-range warning to keep the death toll remarkably low for one of the most powerful hurricanes in history. Many towns were ghost communities when Carla passed.

Warning without evacuation is meaningless. Four years ago, Cameron, La., received warning but many people refused to leave. Hurricane Audrey took 590 lives, mostly in and around Cameron. This time they got out.

Carla Debris . . .

centers and small places as huge tides, winds and rains diminished.

Many residents who fled northward will not be permitted to return, however, until water, sewer and power service are restored.

One of the more dramatic scenes was in Galveston, an island city cut off from the mainland since Saturday and target for a tornado before dawn Tuesday.

Girls waved and blew kisses as a convoy of 78 National Guard troops rolled into battered Galveston. It took them three hours to make the 50-mile trip from Houston, at times creeping through three feet of water covering the causeway.

Dead Identified

Hospital attendants listed among Galveston's six tornado dead Mrs. J. N. Olson, 62, a city school board member; Marie Harris, 57, and Ennie Miles, about 50. Another tornado wrecked the village of Fullbright in north Texas but caused no deaths or injuries.

Four persons died in a tornado striking at Jonesboro, La. It leveled at least two dozen houses and several persons were listed as missing.

Texas City and Freeport, mainland points on opposite sides of Galveston, were among Texas areas sharing some of the heaviest property loss. After an aerial survey, Associated Press staff writer Charles Green reported thousands who fled those cities would be shocked.

Water Up to Rooftops

"I'm glad they couldn't see those homes yesterday when four of us flew in a light plane over the Galveston-Texas City-Freeport area," Green said. "They would have cried. Many will anyway, because they'll find nothing but debris. Some won't even find debris."

There was still muddy water up to the rooftops of houses and pouring through business places in Texas City. About 2,000 persons trapped by the storm were rescued from emergency shelters in Texas City. Food and water was rationed and they were without electricity.

At Freeport, slowly dropping water remained eight feet deep in parts of the big complex of Dow Chemical Co. plants. From the air only debris could be seen at Hoskins Mound near Freeport, where 50 persons made their homes.

Brad Messer, assistant executive editor of the Galveston News, estimated it would take a week to search tornado wreckage alone for other possible victims.

Down the coast at Edna, a city of 10,000 ripped by 150-mile winds, Associated Press staff member Ronnie Thompson found damage heaviest along the Lavaca Bay waterfront and along part of Matagorda Bay, which caught the center of the hurricane.

Highway Closed Again

A highway from Victoria to Port Lavaca, once reopened, was closed again late Tuesday because of food and water shortages and danger from snakes driven from their dens by high tides.

Practically nothing remained of Port O'Connor, the small point on Mustang Island where Carla's center struck inland. Edgar A. Munsch, who sat out the hurricane there with about a dozen others, has lived at Port O'Connor since 1914.

"This is my 10th hurricane," Munsch said, "and I've never seen a bigger one."

Four Discoverer capsules were caught in the air. Three were pulled from the Pacific Ocean in the Hawaiian recovery area.

Bronx Man Fair After Ridge Crash

The condition of Carmen Even, 25, of the Bronx, severely injured Tuesday afternoon in an automobile accident in Stone Ridge, is reported as fair today at Benedictine Hospital where he is under treatment for a possible fractured skull and fractured pelvis.

State Police said Even was a passenger in a car operated by William Patcheo, 27, also of the Bronx, which crossed a double white line near the intersection of Routes 209 and 213, continued on across the highway and into the home of Mrs. Mary Bloomer. Trooper W. E. Wiedemann, who investigated, said considerable damage was done to the Bloomer residence.

The trooper issued a summons to Patcheo on a charge of crossing the double white line and the Bronx man is scheduled to appear before Marlboro Justice of the Peace Scott Patty on Sept. 23.

New Storm Moves

Esther to the U.S. mainland. But he emphasized it was too early to determine if other weather factors would alter Esther's course.

Hurricane Debbie was northbound through the North Atlantic at about 14 m.p.h., well east of Nova Scotia. She presented no danger to land areas and was doomed to die in the cold northern waters.

Distantly Related

Hurricanes Carla and Esther are only distantly related and originated in entirely different areas more than 1,000 miles apart, Hill said.

Carla, which battered the coasts of Louisiana and Texas, was spawned in the western Caribbean between Jamaica and Panama, and moved up the Gulf of Mexico.

Betsy, Debbie and Esther originated west of the Cape Verdes, off the west coast of Africa, Hill said.

Green is suffering from a heart block discovered Friday when he entered the hospital for a check.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market had to struggle to maintain a morning advance as profit-taking clipped back gains early this afternoon. Trading was moderate.

The Associated Press 60-stock average at noon was up 0.40 at 256.20 with industrials up 0.90, rails up 0.10 and utilities up 0.10.

Ford and Chrysler were up nearly a point. General Motors, American Motors and Studebaker-Packard were slightly higher.

Steels, most rubber shares, aircrafts, most metals and tobaccos also were higher. Oils weakened and rails failed to follow through on their strength of Tuesday.

The advance among auto shares came despite the uncertainties hanging over the General Motors strike. Although some plants were working, prospects dimmed for a general, over-all settlement before Friday.

Key issues rose fractionally, with here and there an occasional issue climbing a couple of points or so.

Says Reds Could Ruin NATO Bases With Smaller Arms

MOSCOW (AP) — Marshal Kiril S. Moskalenko, commander of Soviet rocket forces, said today the U.S.S.R. could wipe out North Atlantic Treaty Organization defense bases with short-range tactical nuclear rockets alone.

"To defeat these, ballistic long-range rockets are not needed," Mosicalenko wrote in an article in the Defense Ministry paper Red Star and distributed by the Soviet news agency Tass. "Even operational tactical rocket arms would suffice."

Moskalenko said the Russians have intercontinental rockets which can deliver anywhere on earth "a nuclear warhead with the TNT equivalent of several million tons."

GOP Big Winner In Michigan for Convention Rule

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan's first constitutional convention in 54 years will convene next month with the Republican party in control. Democratic delegates are outnumbered better than 2 to 1.

Republican captured at least 99 of the 144 delegate seats in a special election Tuesday which drew about one-fifth of the state's estimated four million voters to the polls.

Republicans won in more than a score of districts where Democrats now are represented in the legislature. The sweep included normally Democratic Wayne (Detroit) County districts. Democratic National Committeewoman Mildred Jeffrey was among the losers.

"This means the Republican party philosophy has been accepted by the people." said State Chairman George Van Peursem. "the results make it crystal clear the Republican party is on the move."

For a number of years the Republicans have been less than successful in major Michigan politics, Former Gov. G. Mennen Williams, a Democrat, held office for six successive two-year terms.

Democratic Gov. John B. Swainson expressed disappointment at Tuesday's results. He said it was unfortunate that so few people voted in an election "of so great import to all the people of Michigan."

Delegates were elected on the basis of one for each senator and representative in the legislature, now controlled by the Republicans by an over-all 78-66 margin.

The convention will decide on legislative reapportionment, the state's fiscal structure, and other matters.

Pennsy Doctor Dies

River Fill Beach Is Almost Sure For Germantown

Germantown residents, who have been anticipating a sandy beach on the Hudson River as a result of the dredging operations in the channel, may still get their beach. Town officials contacted Congressman J. Ernest Wharton (R), and Assemblyman Willard Drumm, (R), of Columbia County in regard to the situation. Congressman Wharton in turn contacted the House Appropriations Committee and Assemblyman Drumm has discussed the situation with state engineers.

The situation came about when terms of a written agreement between army engineers and town officials went awry. An agreement had been made for dumping of Hudson River fill along the North and South docks at Germantown, resulting in a sandy beach for the community.

Later Peru Dredging Company, which began operations several months ago, apparently changed existing plans and Germantown folk appeared to be on the verge of losing their beach.

When confronted by town officials, the company produced literature in booklet form from the New York Central Railroad, which discouraged the carrying out of the agreement. At this point Congressman Wharton and Assemblyman Drumm came into the picture in an effort to settle the problem with engineers and dredgers.

Town officials learned that if the original plan to dump along the Germantown docks were not carried out it would cost the dredging company large sums of money to dump on the west shore as lines would have to be disconnected to permit ships to pass.

A meeting was held yesterday with engineers, town officials, dredgers and railroad officials present and it was stated later that although permission was still to be acquired from the Central to extend operations to the South Dock area, assurance has been given that there is no apparent reason why permission cannot be granted and Germantown folk have their beach and perhaps boating facilities.

Nuclear War . . .

chinery, machine tools, generators, building materials—the essentials to generate power, start factories, build more machines, transport people and goods, and assure communications.

3. Planning organized efforts to carry people through the terrible early days, and the hard, demanding, cooperative labor to rebuild modern civilization.

Stresses Preparedness

It would cost billions of dollars, perhaps an average of $4 billions for some years, Dr. Teller says.

"A first step could be simply to distribute our surplus foods to strategic places throughout the country. This could be done in half a year.

"I believe the Russians will be more likely to attack if we are not prepared."

No More U. S.

Dr. Teller warns the time is short.

Soviet resumption of nuclear testing is frightening, he says. For it could mean the Soviets have been testing new weapons secretly underground in the past two or three years, and have decided to make open tests simply to answer some final questions.

The Soviets knew open testing would force or irritate the United States into more testing, and arouse adverse opinion.

But an edge won through secret testing could mean "they are so far ahead in weaponry they don't care what we do."

Says Time Short

Dr. Teller says "if we don't prepare, 100 million Americans could die in the first days of an all-out war. Thirty to forty millions more could die from starvation and disease. The United States would cease to exist."

"But I firmly believe 90 per cent of our population could be saved. It means 20 million would die, and this is terrible to contemplate. But why not try to give 90 per cent a decent chance for survival?"

Nuclear war "would be one of the most horrible things imaginable, and everything should be done to prevent it."

Dismayed by Attitude

But, he adds, he is dismayed by "those who say that a nuclear war necessarily means the end of everything."

"The fear of radiation is much greater than it deserves to be. It is not true that radiation, even from an all-out war, would destroy all forms of life.

"And it is simply not true that if war came, everything is hopeless.

"We can prepare."

Wagner Peruses School Board List

NEW YORK (AP) — Mayor Robert F. Wagner conferded today a list from which he must choose a new nine-member city board of education within a week.

No member of the present board is on the list, which was handed Wagner Tuesday by a special selection panel named by the State Legislature.

The names on the list were not made public.

Wagner announced Tuesday night the appointment of Silver as his executive assistant for education and industrial director. Silver, 72, will continue to serve without salary.

ROGER E. SPEAR

Q) "A distant cousin passed on a few months ago and left me 150 shares of Minnesota Mining and Mfg. I don't know much about either the company or the stock market. It has been suggested that I sell and re-invest the proceeds in a stock which has only recently sold some shares to the public. What do you think I should do?" O.B.

A) My advice is to stay with your present holdings. Minnesota Mining and Mfg. is one of the best stocks a person could have owned during the post-war stock market upsurge. In the last ten years company sales increased by over 200 per cent and share earnings rose over 350 per cent. From a 1951 low of 6¼, 3-M shares climbed to a peak of 88 last year, and I believe that considerably higher levels will eventually be seen. But 3-M management is not one to rest on its laurels and today the company has a stake in several diversified and promising fields. This aggressiveness, backed by experience and sound judgement, is very important to you as a stockholder.

Some impressive profits have been made in stocks of smaller companies which have recently "gone public." Success in these issues, however, requires a degree of market knowledge and skill which the average investor does not usually possess.

Minnesota Mining and Mfg. is an outstanding, seasoned stock. I recommend that you hold your shares for further growth gains.

Q) "I want good dividends and some appreciation. Is Liggett and Myers a good stock to buy?" H.B.

A) The current yield (5.2 per cent) on Liggett and Myers (NYSE) is well above average. However, the company has been somewhat affected by the move toward filter-type cigarettes. Earnings slipped slightly in recent years, and I see no evidence of early improvement.

For the investment combination your desire, I suggest a look at P. Lorrillard (NYSE). The return is around 1 per cent lower, but I think that the prospects for share gains are considerably better.

Mr. Spear cannot answer all mail personally but will answer all questions possible in his column.

On Mercy Mission

Task Force Sails From Florida Base

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP)—Navy warships head for a peacetime mercy mission on the devastated Texas coast today, carrying doctors and helicopters instead of soldiers and jet fighters.

The ships—two aircraft carriers, two destroyers and a transport—hope to reach the ravaged Texas coastlands of Hurricane Carla by first light Thursday. All are part of Task Force 135, commanded by Rear Adm. F. J. Brush.

Some 50 military doctors, four nurses and 40 helicopters were to join the carriers Shangri-la and Antietam early today at Pensacola. The carriers also will carry emergency supplies, including hundreds of disposable diapers, nursing bottles and baby food.

The destroyers Compton and Gainard and the transport Francis Marion were under full steam to the disaster scene.

Bluejacket landing force parties to augment the Marines are on both the carriers and destroyers.

Lt. George W. Milland, the Shangri-la's medical administrative officer, said the carriers can be converted to hospitals.

The transport can act as a floating hotel, taking aboard hurricane victims who do not need medical care. Over 2,300 beds are available.

Twenty-seven of the helicopters are Marine troop transport helicopters, equipped with hoists, rafts, and capable of 12-person loads. They flew in to Pensacola Tuesday with 60 pilots and over 100 crewmen.

New York, the county and the students.

Illustrating the increasing importance of other community colleges in the state, Kalish pointed out that they were becoming increasingly successful in placing interested graduates of their two-year programs in some of the nation's leading senior colleges and universities. Another interesting facet of their increasing educational importance to their respective counties is their adult education programs, each of which is designed to meet local needs.

When questioned about the possible location of an Ulster County Community College, Kalish stated that it would seem logical to have it within a 10-mile radius of the county's population center. However, he added, this is a matter for the board of trustees to decide once the citizens of Ulster County favor the establishment of a college through a referendum this fall.

Wallkill Group To Distribute Code of Ethics

New teachers in the Wallkill Central School District will be presented copies of codes of ethics for the teaching profession by the Wallkill Teachers' Association at the Fall meeting on Monday, Sept. 18.

The booklet contains two codes, one adopted by the New York State Teachers' Association at its House of Delegates and the other developed jointly by the New York State School Boards' Association and the Teachers' Association.

Each code lists principles of belief and proper fellow teachers, encouragement of young people to enter teaching, use of proper business channels, and participation in professional groups.

Others concern resignation, relation with commercial firms, pride and loyalty to the teaching profession, fairness to students, keeping confidences, honoring agreements and intellectual honesty.

Mrs. Beverly Howell, president of the local teachers association at Wallkill Central, pointed out that the codes summarize the ideals and principles by which teachers can direct their own action for good.

"The very word ethics," explained Mrs. Howell, "comes from a Greek word meaning 'character.' Ethical codes are especially important in such fields as education, nursing, medicine, or law where people entrust their minds or bodies to the teacher, nurse, physician, or attorney. A code of ethics is helpful to both a profession and the public which it serves.

'Paar' for the Course

Is View of Javits On Controversial TV Show in Berlin

NEW YORK (AP)—"About all you can say was that it was typically Jack Paar."

That was the reaction of Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., to the highly controversial "Jack Paar in Berlin" film telecast Tuesday night.

Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., had declared after the film was made last week on Berlin's tense East-West border that "to say I was disturbed is an understatement."

Asked in Washington today whether he had watched the telecast, the Senate majority leader replied: "No—Lord, no! The incident is closed as far as I am concerned!"

The furor stirred by the filming had caused concern even in the White House, which approved a Defense Department investigation of the use of U.S. Army troops by Paar.

It admonished a second — Col. J. R. Deane Jr. of San Francisco —for "exercising poor judgment" in providing troops filmed by Paar.

Javits said he saw "nothing fatal" in the NBC show but added he didn't "think anything so sensitive should be handled in this manner."

"I hope this kind of approach will not be repeated," he said.

There was no mention on the telecast of the controversy raised by the filming.

Paar said earlier in Paris he was "just sick about the whole thing."

Official Washington's primary concern appeared to be whether Paar had received undue cooperation in the filming from Army officials in Berlin.

Paar maintained he had received no undue cooperation from the Army—that many officers at the scene were curiosity seekers, and that the soldiers were there for a changing of the guard.

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Newspapermen who cover the Alabama Legislature took a ribbing from the Senate.

Sen. Alton Turner of Crenshaw County and 20 of his colleagues introduced a bill Tuesday to require newspapers to print news in black ink and editorials and opinions in red.

Going along with the gag, Lt. Gov. Albert Boutwell dutifully referred the bill to the Judiciary Committee despite Turner's request to have it sent to his Military Affairs Committee.

Wallkill Group To Distribute Code of Ethics

New teachers in the Wallkill Central School District will be presented copies of codes of ethics for the teaching profession by the Wallkill Teachers' Association at the Fall meeting on Monday, Sept. 18.

The booklet contains two codes, one adopted by the New York State Teachers' Association at its House of Delegates and the other developed jointly by the New York State School Boards' Association and the Teachers' Association.

Each code lists principles of belief and proper fellow teachers, encouragement of young people to enter teaching, use of proper business channels, and participation in professional groups.

Others concern resignation, relation with commercial firms, pride and loyalty to the teaching profession, fairness to students, keeping confidences, honoring agreements and intellectual honesty.

Mrs. Beverly Howell, president of the local teachers association at Wallkill Central, pointed out that the codes summarize the ideals and principles by which teachers can direct their own action for good.

"The very word ethics," explained Mrs. Howell, "comes from a Greek word meaning 'character.' Ethical codes are especially important in such fields as education, nursing, medicine, or law where people entrust their minds or bodies to the teacher, nurse, physician, or attorney. A code of ethics is helpful to both a profession and the public which it serves.

Filing Urged Now By Children for War Scholarships

Children of deceased or disabled New York State veterans who are eligible to compete for the Regents Scholarships for Children of Deceased or Disabled veterans which will be available in 1962, were reminded today by Charles L. Culver, state veteran counselor, New York State Division of Veterans Affairs and John B. Tyler, director, Ulster County Veterans Service Agency, that they should apply for the examination now.

To qualify for one of these New York State scholarships the candidate must be a resident of the state, a graduate of an approved high school by June 1962, the child of a deceased or disabled New York State veteran, and must take the Regents Scholarship Examination to be held Octc. 5, at approved secondary schools in the state. In order to qualify for the scholarship and to be admitted to the examination, a candidate must file an application with the principal of his school and must complete and send by registered mail his application with supporting evidence to the Bureau of Examinations and Testing, State Education Department, Albany 1, as soon as possible.

Assistance in securing necessary evidence of veteran status, copies of discharge papers and complete information concerning the rights and entitlements of children of deceased or disabled veterans may be obtained by contacting the New York State Division of Veterans Affairs and the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency office at 32 Main Street, Kingston. Branch offices are located in Ellenville, Highland, Kerhonkson and Saugerties.

An Ellenville man is in Veterans Memorial Hospital there with head and internal injuries as the result of an automobile accident on Route 52, two miles west of the village at 3:50 a. m. today.

Edward Hellicliff of 103 Canal Street, Ellenville, told state police he was cut off by an unidentified vehicle as he traveled east on Route 52. He said he lost control, swerved across the road and overturned on the north shoulder.

Is View of Javits On Controversial TV Show in Berlin

NEW YORK (AP)—"About all you can say was that it was typically Jack Paar."

That was the reaction of Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., to the highly controversial "Jack Paar in Berlin" film telecast Tuesday night.

Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., had declared after the film was made last week on Berlin's tense East-West border that "to say I was disturbed is an understatement."

Asked in Washington today whether he had watched the telecast, the Senate majority leader replied: "No—Lord, no! The incident is closed as far as I am concerned!"

The furor stirred by the filming had caused concern even in the White House, which approved a Defense Department investigation of the use of U.S. Army troops by Paar.

It admonished a second — Col. J. R. Deane Jr. of San Francisco —for "exercising poor judgment" in providing troops filmed by Paar.

Javits said he saw "nothing fatal" in the NBC show but added he didn't "think anything so sensitive should be handled in this manner."

"I hope this kind of approach will not be repeated," he said.

There was no mention on the telecast of the controversy raised by the filming.

Paar said earlier in Paris he was "just sick about the whole thing."

Official Washington's primary concern appeared to be whether Paar had received undue cooperation in the filming from Army officials in Berlin.

Paar maintained he had received no undue cooperation from the Army—that many officers at the scene were curiosity seekers, and that the soldiers were there for a changing of the guard.

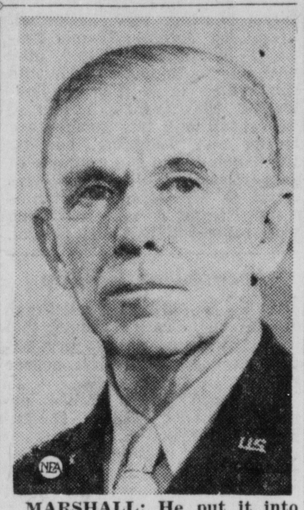
Berlin Crisis Has Tangled Roots Running Back to History of '40s

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Who in the U. S. government blocked 1943-44 proposals to connect Berlin and West Germany—Proposals that would have made today's Berlin Crisis impossible?

Here are the incredible facts.

John G. Winant, the U. S. ambassador negotiating in London with Britain and the Soviet Union on German occupation zones, favored a plan to write a guarantee of Allied access to Berlin into the original document setting up the zones. Winant made a journey back to the U. S. in May, 1944, to sell his idea. He talked to the assitsant secretary of war. He talked to high State Department officers.



MARSHALL: He put it into channels.

What these men told him isn't known, but it is known he went back to London convinced his case was hopeless. (Winant committed suicide three years later.)

The State Department division head concerned favored a plan that would connect West Germany and Berlin. He proposed to the State, War and Navy committee set up to coordinate such matters—the Working Security Committee—that a corridor be cut through Saxony-Anhalt and Brandenburg from West Germany to Berlin.

He pushed his plan to superiors in the Department of State. The plan died in the office of an assistant secretary of state for reasons unknown to this day.

Even President Roosevelt personally pushed a plan for hooking up the American Zone of Occupation with Berlin.

ROOSEVELT: He drew the map.

That map would have given the Soviet Union East Germany up to Berlin. The U. S. would have occupied northwest Germany up to Berlin. The British would have occupied southwest Germany. There would have been no problem of access to Berlin. For the American zone and Berlin would have been firmly connected instead of 110 miles apart.

The President gave his map to Army Chief of Staff Gen. George C. Marshall, who gave it to Maj. Gen. Thomas T. Handy the same day. Handy sent it through military channels to the above mentioned State, War and Navy Working Security Committee, where it arrived three months later, in late February, 1944.

The War Department insisted that the map be sent to Ambassador Winant with instructions that he "demand its acceptance" in his zone-of-occcupation negotiations with the British and Soviet Union.

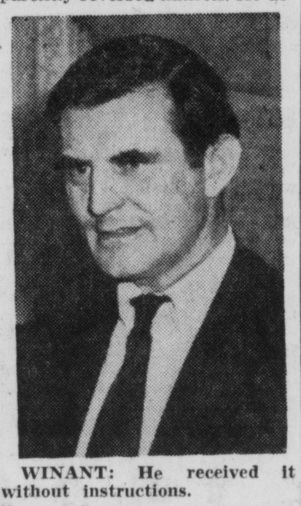
The map was sent to Winant, but apparently with no State Department backing or instructions or seemingly any indication that it was the President's proposal. Winant apparently didn't know what to do with it. It was a map without any backup. Apparently nothing was done, therefore, with this proposal.

So the United States ended up with no plan at all.

Meanwhile, the British had circulated, in January, 1944, a proposal that would give the Russians 40 per cent of Germany, put Berlin 110 miles within the Russian zone of occupation, but under joint control. The Russians hadn't asked for this much of Germany, but they accepted this proposal quickly without any of their usual bargaining. This suggested to same observers that the plan gave the Reds considerably more than they had expected to get. There were, in fact, indications that Stalin had expected to occupy Germany only east of Berlin.

The U. S. hadn't accepted the British plan, even though the Soviet Union had. Months went by. Apparently there was a great deal of pressure brought by one source of another on high U. S. officials to accept the Britiish-proposed Russian zone as a fait accompli. Stories were circulated that it would "wound" the Russians if what they thought they were getting under the British proposal were to be taken away from them by the U. S.

In May, 1944, the President apparently reversed himself. He accepted the British idea of a Russian occupation zone encompassing all of eastern Germany and extending 110 miles west of Berlin. He accepted the idea of not asking for written access rights to Berlin.



WINANT: He received it without instructions.

This Presidential decision came right after a quick trip that George Kennan, then advisor to Winant, made to the U.S. in April. Kennan talked to the President. Some sources imply Kennan was responsible for the President's reversal. But the late Adm. William D. Leahy, who was present, afterward gave no indication to friends that Kennan had discussed access routes.

Although the President reversed himself and accepted the big Russian zone without question, he then got into a long and involved fight with the British over what part of Germany that remained should be held by the British and what by the Americans.

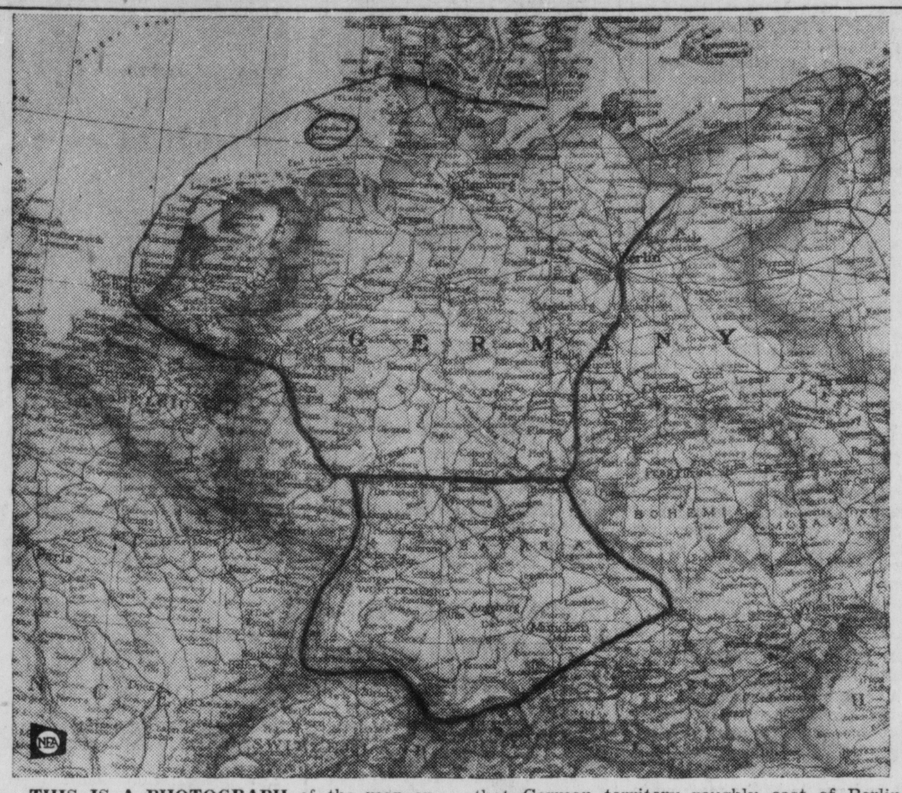
When that fight was settled, U. S. negotiators in Europe, who argued with the Russians not at all about access routes to Berlin through the Russian zone, got into a hard-fisted fight with the British over access routes to the sea through the British zone. The U. S. negatiators insisted not only on a carefully written description of the access routes to the sea through the British zone, but insisted further that these access-to-the-sea routes through the British zone be controlled by Americans.

Officials involved in these negotiations are unable to explain why their instructions compelled them to be so insistent in the one case and so uninsistent in the other.

State Department officials talking privately say that high American officials in 1944 and 1945 believed they could win over the Russians if the U. S. showed its complete trust and confidence in the Soviet Union by bending over backwards without seeming to doubt them in any way. There was a good deal of belief in high circles at that time that the Russians could be charmed into the circle of nations, one diplomat admits.

It turned out they couldn't be.

(Next: Two lost chances in 1945.)



THIS IS A PHOTOGRAPH of the map on which President Roosevelt in November, 1943, drew his proposed occupation zones. The U. S. was to hold the northwest portion, the British the southwest. The Soviets were to have only that German territory roughly east of Berlin. The final agreement placed the Soviet zone 110 miles west of the city. The British wound up in the northwest and the Americans in the southwest.

Use of Sports Vehicles Banned On School Sites

The board of education at its meeting Monday evening decided that is must decline to permit use in the future of any of the school grounds, roads, and properties in the district for the operation of "go carts" or "hot rods" or the flying of model airplanes.

The board made this decision because it has been advised that accidents to operators of these devices might add heavily to the insurance costs of the district and thereby cause an unnecessary increase in school taxes.

Other business discussed during the meeting included the following reports:

Saugerties Central Schools missed their annual average increase in enrollment this year by one. This year there are 199 more pupils in Saugerties schools than there were in September last year. Forty-nine of these are in the high school; 150 in the grades.

It was reported to the board that the increase in enrollment at the high school, which now stands at a total of 1068, is compelling the use of portions of the building for classrooms that were not intended for such purposes. Many of the class enrollments at the high school, too, are large.

Sarkis Arkell of the architectural firm was present at the board meeting and furnished the board members with a time table which needs to be followed in order to make a vote on a bond issue for proposed buildings possible next February 15. Meanwhile, plans as to just what buildings will be proposed have not been finally determined.

Mrs. Ruth Jacobson, tax collector for the local school district, reported that to date a total of $118,754.74 in school taxes has been collected.

The board approved the low bid by the Poughkeepsie Iron and Metal Company on a fire escape to be built on the east side of the Main Street School at a cost of $4,369.

The attendance of Miss A. Frances Larned, director of guidance, at a meeting of 100 guidance counselors from the United States sponsored by the Massachusetts Institute of Technology on Oct. 1, 2 and 3 was approved.

Use of Sports Vehicles Banned On School Sites

The board of education at its meeting Monday evening decided that is must decline to permit use in the future of any of the school grounds, roads, and properties in the district for the operation of "go carts" or "hot rods" or the flying of model airplanes.

The board made this decision because it has been advised that accidents to operators of these devices might add heavily to the insurance costs of the district and thereby cause an unnecessary increase in school taxes.

Other business discussed during the meeting included the following reports:

Saugerties Central Schools missed their annual average increase in enrollment this year by one. This year there are 199 more pupils in Saugerties schools than there were in September last year. Forty-nine of these are in the high school; 150 in the grades.

It was reported to the board that the increase in enrollment at the high school, which now stands at a total of 1068, is compelling the use of portions of the building for classrooms that were not intended for such purposes. Many of the class enrollments at the high school, too, are large.

Sarkis Arkell of the architectural firm was present at the board meeting and furnished the board members with a time table which needs to be followed in order to make a vote on a bond issue for proposed buildings possible next February 15. Meanwhile, plans as to just what buildings will be proposed have not been finally determined.

Mrs. Ruth Jacobson, tax collector for the local school district, reported that to date a total of $118,754.74 in school taxes has been collected.

The board approved the low bid by the Poughkeepsie Iron and Metal Company on a fire escape to be built on the east side of the Main Street School at a cost of $4,369.

The attendance of Miss A. Frances Larned, director of guidance, at a meeting of 100 guidance counselors from the United States sponsored by the Massachusetts Institute of Technology on Oct. 1, 2 and 3 was approved.

David Hildebrandt, superintendent of buildings and grounds, reported to the board that the following work projects were completed during the summer: Roof replaced on part of the Malden building, classrooms repainted at Malden, ventilating fans installed in Malden toilet rooms, concrete landings at Malden repaired, concrete walk installed at the high school, roadways and parking lot at the high school oiled and stoned, bus roadway at the Main Street School from the addition to Division Street replaced, cafeterias at Main Street School painted, new asphalt tile floors installed in the North Flatbush School, fluorescent lighting installed in two rooms in the Glasco School, two classrooms painted in the Glasco School, additional wiring in the print shop at the high school.

Plane Lands Safely

SEATTLE (AP) —A Western Airlines 720 jet landed safely Tuesday night after trouble developed in the hydraulic system, cutting braking power.

Turbo-fans on the plane were reversed and it landed without incident.

Accused of Holdup

A 27-year-old New Jersey man was in the Orange County jail today awaiting grand jury action on charges of first degree robbery.

Newburgh State Police arrested Chester Wallace Thompson, of Passaic, N. J. and accused him of holding up a liquor store proprietor on Route 300, Town of Newburgh, the night of July 29 and taking $400.

14 Autos Are Involved in Six Thruway Mishaps

ELMSFORD, N. Y. (AP)—Six accidents involving 14 automobiles occurred within 1½ hours Tuesday night at the Elmsford exit of the State Thruway. Eight persons were injured, none seriously.

The same state trooper investigated them all.

He said the first accident occurred when a car crashed into the Thruway's center mall. The others occurred at intervals as motorists stopped to view the earlier mishaps.

"Your chances of being KILLED are 5 TIMES greater if you are THROWN from your car. SEAT BELTS will help keep you in your car."

Rockefeller, Six Other Governors To Study Defense

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller and six other governors have been invited to a defense department briefing next Sunday on its new civil defense program.

Rockefeller is chairman and the other governors are members of the Civil Defense Committee of the governor's conference.

The governors will be dinner geusts of Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara after the meeting.

The other invitations went to Govs. Edmund Brown of California, Farris Bryant of Florida, Ernest Vandiver of Georgia, John A. Volpe of Massachusetts, Elmer L. Anderson of Minnesota and George D. Clyde of Utah.

Iowa and eastern Kansas have the greatest number of tornadoes, with about 15 per square mile annually, according to Encyclopedia Britannica.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — After all the expressions of alarm, headlines and admonishments growing out of the taping of a Jack Paar show on the threshold of East Berlin, the least a viewer could expect Tuesday night was an enlightening, informative show.

Alas, the well-publicized program proved as dreary and dull as the Berlin weather.

Paar, jaunty in cap and raincoat, stood with his back to East Berlin during most of the show, excitedly rehashing stories already thoroughly explored in American newspapers and calling attention to passing traffic and remote buildings.

For about two-thirds of the longest hour in recent TV, the most interesting sight was East Berlin cameramen eagerly taking pictures of Paar and his aide, actress Peggy Cass.

When Paar's cameras did turn on West Berlin and the American soldiers, there seemed to be comparatively few of them. The comedian had a brief, serious interview with Col. J. R. Deane Jr., who later was admonished by the Defense Department for his part in the show.

Deane said that he "didn't expect any trouble here," that his wife and five children "wouldn't leave Germany for all the tea in China," and praised a new rifle recently issued to his command.

Miss Cass climbed to the second-floor command post overlooking the Friedrichstrasse entrance to East Berlin and asked the soldiers on duty where they came from and how many children they had.

We left Jack sitting on a curb in a downpour of rain explaining, "We just wanted to bring you some natural stumbling around here."

Had it not been for the excitement surrounding the taping, the program would have attracted no attention at home at all. It certainly was not worth taking chances in a delicate situation for a program like that.

Two Airports Are To Get Improved Direction Finders

WASHINGTON (AP) — Airports at Glens Falls and Watertown, N. Y., are to get new, improved direction finders to increase flight safety.

The airports now are not equipped with radar.

The systems, which use a cathode-ray tube and a display screen and show the direction and bearing of aircraft in a fraction of a second, will be installed by the Federal Aviation Agency.

The system "is not only much faster than the older direction finders, but it is also more accurate," the agency said.

In all, the agency plans to install the equipment at 100 air fields. Most of the units will be put into use in Alaska and the Western states.

Force of a hurricane is strongest when it moves over water because it does not run into objects which could break its force.

Rockefeller, Six Other Governors To Study Defense

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller and six other governors have been invited to a defense department briefing next Sunday on its new civil defense program.

Rockefeller is chairman and the other governors are members of the Civil Defense Committee of the governor's conference.

The governors will be dinner guests of Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara after the meeting.

The other invitations went to Govs. Edmund Brown of California, Farris Bryant of Florida, Ernest Vandiver of Georgia, John A. Volpe of Massachusetts, Elmer L. Anderson of Minnesota and George D. Clyde of Utah.

Iowa and eastern Kansas have the greatest number of tornadoes, with about 15 per square mile annually, according to Encyclopedia Britannica.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — After all the expressions of alarm, headlines and admonishments growing out of the taping of a Jack Paar show on the threshold of East Berlin, the least a viewer could expect Tuesday night was an enlightening, informative show.

Alas, the well-publicized program proved as dreary and dull as the Berlin weather.

Paar, jaunty in cap and raincoat, stood with his back to East Berlin during most of the show, excitedly rehashing stories already thoroughly explored in American newspapers and calling attention to passing traffic and remote buildings.

For about two-thirds of the longest hour in recent TV, the most interesting sight was East Berlin cameramen eagerly taking pictures of Paar and his aide, actress Peggy Cass.

When Paar's cameras did turn on West Berlin and the American soldiers, there seemed to be comparatively few of them. The comedian had a brief, serious interview with Col. J. R. Deane Jr., who later was admonished by the Defense Department for his part in the show.

Deane said that he "didn't expect any trouble here," that his wife and five children "wouldn't leave Germany for all the tea in China," and praised a new rifle recently issued to his command.

Miss Cass climbed to the second-floor command post overlooking the Friedrichstrasse entrance to East Berlin and asked the soldiers on duty where they came from and how many children they had.

We left Jack sitting on a curb in a downpour of rain explaining, "We just wanted to bring you some natural stumbling around here."

Had it not been for the excitement surrounding the taping, the program would have attracted no attention at home at all. It certainly was not worth taking chances in a delicate situation for a program like that.

Two Airports Are To Get Improved Direction Finders

WASHINGTON (AP) — Airports at Glens Falls and Watertown, N. Y., are to get new, improved direction finders to increase flight safety.

The airports now are not equipped with radar.

The systems, which use a cathode-ray tube and a display screen and show the direction and bearing of aircraft in a fraction of a second, will be installed by the Federal Aviation Agency.

The system "is not only much faster than the older direction finders, but it is also more accurate," the agency said.

In all, the agency plans to install the equipment at 100 air fields. Most of the units will be put into use in Alaska and the Western states.

Accomplishments, Setbacks Are Impressive

More Forceful Leadership Might Have Brought JFK More Gains

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has had to live with trouble from the day he took office. He has had some successes, suffered some major jolts, and much of the time has been on the defensive.

After almost eight months, although he has remained outwardly calm through it all, the central question of his presidency is would he have done better if he had tried to assert more leadership?

Main Dilemma Is K

Abroad, his main dilemma is premier Khrushchev who from the beginning threatened a showdown on Berlin and has never stopped jabbing him. The great bulk of Kennedy's actions have been simply reactions to Khrushchev's actions.

At home, from the start, concern about unemployment has hovered over him from the day he took office. Then it was 5,400,000. Now it is 4,542,000. This is still an unsolved problem.

His major domestic task has been dealing with Congress.

Fear that a combination of conservatives in both parties in Congress could flatten him and his programs pushed him into compromises, some of them perhaps unnecessary.

With Congress his list of accomplishments is impressive. So is his list of setbacks.

Here are programs he wanted and got from congress:

Some Victories

Housing, increased minimum wage, aid to depressed areas, liberalized social security, beginning of a new, long-term Latin American aid program, a start toward effective civil defense, creation of 73 federal judgeships, an increase in manpower and materials for the armed forces.

Congress chopped to pieces his ideas on federal aid to education, brushed aside the crux of his farm program, disregarded his plea for medical care for the aged, set aside his tax reform suggestions until next year, and, while approving a long-term foreign aid program, rejected his plan for borrowing money for it —one of his cardinal points in this field.

He and his Democratic leaders in Congress, particularly in the House, have been criticized for plain ineptitude in handling the education program. He gave up on one item altogether.

Dropped '60 Pledge

This was his 1960 campaign promise to push a civil rights program through Congress early in 1961. He not only didn't push such a program. He didn't even offer it.

In dealing with this very conservative Congress he knew from the beginning he faced serious trouble, perhaps defeat, on civil rights, medical care for the aged, school aid.

1. He could try to dicker and compromise item and item with his opponents, like any politician in Congress.

2. Through far more forceful leadership he could seek to over come the opposition—by direct appeal to the people over the heads of Congress—to try to bring public pressure, in addition to his own, on senators and representatives.

He chose to dicker and compromise, a method familiar to anyone who, like himself, had served in congress. Except on national defense, he made no direct appeal for popular support.

Museums After Old Steamboat

WASHINGTON (AP) — Time may be running out for an old Mississippi River steamboat the Army wants to sell and which three cities would like for a museum.

The old sternwheeler — named the Mississippi — is tied up at Memphis, Tenn., no longer needed by the Army in its flood control work along the river. It has been replaced by a motor ship.

The Army put the 761-ton boat up for sale earlier this year but deferred its plans pending congressional action on bills to do one of three things—turn it over to Illinois, dismantle it for decent burial or transfer it to the General Service Administration for sale.

Although no bills have been introduced in their behalf, St. Louis and Elmira, N.Y., have also expressed interest in the 34-year-old boat.

St. Louis interests want to place the boat in a steamship museum while a group in Elmira wants to turn it into a Mark Twain museum on the Chemung River which flows through Elmira. Twain did much of his writing at Elmira.

Rep. Howard W. Robison, R-N.Y., said he is willing to introduce a bill in Elmira's behalf similar to those already introduced in behalf of Cairo, Ill.

The Elmira group would float the steamboat up the Mississippi River, through the Great Lakes and the New York State canals to Watkins Glen where it would be moved overland to Elmira.

U.S. Denies Move To Halt Sale of Upstate Station

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—A motion for a preliminary injunction stopping the sale of a Rochester television station has been denied by Federal District Judge John O. Henderson.

The National Association of Broadcast Employes and Technicians claimed Tuesday that the prospective buyers of WROC-TV were obligated to keep a collective bargaining agreement in force. The agreement was between the association and the present owners of the station, the Transcontinent Television Corp. It expires June 8, 1962.

The association claimed the terms of the sale did not include the obligation.

Police Seek Thieves

Poughkeepsie police are investigating the reported thefts of a $30 bracelet from a parked car and three rolls of pennies from a service station.

George H. Darling, 106 Main Street, Poughkeepsie, told authorities someone broke a glass in his parked car and stole a bracelet from a pocketbook. A baby car bed and the pocketbook also were taken but later found by police.

Kenneth Croft complained to police that some one stole $1.50 in pennies from his Hooker Avenue service station.

State Dress Review

Miss Genevieve Switz of Lomontville had the honor of being chosen by Miss Martha Leighton, Association State 4-H Club Agent, to participate in the State Dress Review at Syracuse. The review was held Sept. 8. She was one of 120 4-H girls selected state wide to participate in this fashion review. Each girl had made the garment which she modeled in her 4-H club project work this year. This event is one of the top honors for a 4-H club girl in clothing work, and is certainly a high climax to the conclusion of a club year.

Agriculture Exhibits

John will compete in a judging school at Ithaca in competition for the state poultry team.

FOOD FOR AMERICANS

Soup, Sandwiches Regale Editors

ATTRACTIVE setting like this introduced newspaper food editors to new soups—chili beef and vegetable bean.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

More than 150 prominent newspaper food editors, who gathered for the week-long 1961 Newspaper Food Editors Conference in Chicago to learn about new foods and their uses, attended a Soup and Sandwich luncheon hosted by Campbell Soup Co. in the Drake Hotel.

The two new soups introduced were canned condensed chili beef and vegetable bean soup. With them were served a selection of sandwiches on enriched, whole wheat, wheat germ and rye breads with fillings of crab salad, sliced roast beef and chicken.

From white cups on walnut trays, the editors tasted, first, zesty chili beef—a thick, hearty soup, full of plump beans and the flavors of lean beef, tomatoes and onion. Next, they spooned into a nourishing vegetable bean soup. It, too, is hefty and beany with seven vegetables. California pink beans and tender lentils all combined in a beefy broth.

Roy D. Wooster, executive vice president of the Borden Company, discussed the company's two new products—Sharp Cheddspread, a cold-pack cheese food available in a 5½-ounce plastic serving dish and Gail Borden natural Cheddar cheese in 8-ounce bars, either medium sharp, sharp or extra sharp.

He listed other new products being introduced: au gratin potatoes, dehydrated sliced potatoes with Cheddar cheese sauce. Also Flake Style Gem Rolls, ready for baking made of refrigerated dough; and dry hand-rubbed oregano from Greece in 2⅝ ounce jars; and potato soup with leek, dehydrated, in foil-wrapped packages.

Chili Beef and Macaroni Soup
(Makes 2 to 3 servings)

1 can (11 ounces) condensed chili beef soup
1 soup can water
½ cup cooked shell macaroni (about ¼ cup uncooked)

Combine soup and water; add macaroni. Heat, stirring now and then.

Vegetable Bean with Corned Beef
(Makes 2 to 3 servings)

½ cup corned beef strips
2 tablespoons chopped onion
¼ teaspoon dry mustard
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1 can (10¾ ounces) condensed vegetable bean soup
1 soup can water

Brown corned beef and cook onion with mustard in butter until tender. Blend in soup and water. Heat, stirring now and then.

Nuclear Blast Shelter Ruled Weak by County

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — A Dayton man planned to build a nuclear blast shelter.

The original design was produced for testing at the Nevada proving grounds. Nuclear engineers claimed it would withstand five times the pressure of an atomic blast and keep out gamma rays and fallout.

Its estimated cost was above $2,500.

The resident hired a contractor. An engineer approved the plans. A 17-foot pit was dug in his backyard.

Then he applied to Montgomery County officials for a building permit.

His application was denied.

County engineers questioned whether the shelter would hold up the six feet of earth the man planned to pile on top of it.

To Seize Rice

MANILA (AP)—President Carlos P. Garcia declared a nationwide state of public calamity Tuesday because of a shortage of rice, the Philippines' staple food.

The president's proclamation permits seizure of all hoarded rice stocks for public sale and sets ceiling prices. Garcia said the action was needed to avert panic and disorder.

Posner to Huddle With Top Dems, May Head N.Y.

WASHINGTON (AP) —William Posner, a New York State Democratic leader, planned to meet today with national party officials, possibly for discussions of the chairmanship of the Democratic organization in his home state.

Posner, 46-year-old accountant, has been mentioned as a possible replacement for the present chairman, Michael H. Prendergast.

Prendergast backed the losing candidate for the party nomination for mayor of New York City and is expected to be among the party officials purged by the winning candidate, Mayor Robert F. Wagner.

If Prendergast resigned, the Democratic state committee technically would have the job of appointing a successor, but would an appointee designated by national party leaders and Wagner.

Posner is a former Monroe County Democratic chairman. He resigned in June and said he wanted to devote more time to private business affairs.

The official purpose of this Washington visit was a meeting of a Post Office Department Committee on Commemoratives Stamps.

It was learned, however, that he would meet with officials of the Kennedy administration. Posner declined to discuss his visit.

State Fair Demonstrators

Four Ulster County 4-H Girls presented foods demonstrations at the New York State Fair. Each of these girls were chosen for excellent quality demonstration work at the 4-H Sub-District Day held here in Kingston in April.

The four young ladies were Mary Jane Capozzi, Clintondale, who received a blue award in dairy foods; Bernadette Brennie, Highland, who received a red award in bread; Judy Wildrick, Wallkill, who received a blue award in poultry foods and Estelle Cleveland, Wallkill, who received a red award in vegetable foods.

The 4-H Demonstration program was presented at the Boys and Girls Buildings on the State Fair grounds daily. Girls chosen statewide demonstrated at this event and were judged by Extension Food Specialists from Cornell University.

State Dress Review

Miss Genevieve Switz of Lomontville had the honor of being chosen by Miss Martha Leighton, Association State 4-H Club Agent, to participate in the State Dress Review at Syracuse. The review was held Sept. 8. She was one of 120 4-H girls selected state wide to participate in this fashion review. Each girl had made the garment which she modeled in her 4-H club project work this year. This event is one of the top honors for a 4-H club girl in clothing work, and is certainly a high climax to the conclusion of a club year.

Agriculture Exhibits

Six Ulster County 4-H members exhibited dairy animals at the New York State Fair. These animals were selected from the competition at the County Fair held in August.

Following is a list of awards won by the members as announced by Carlton Conklin, assistant 4-H club agent.

Receiving a red award were Eric Abrahamsen, Louis Zajicek, Douglas McCord, and V. Bruce McCord all from Wallkill. Receiving a white award were: Toni Zajicek and Brenda Zwart of Wallkill.

Each member also won a blue award in the herdmanship contest.

In the poultry contests, Ulster was 10th in the grading division and 14th in the judging division. Members of the team were John Sherwood, New Hurley; Bob Dolan, New Hurley and Gordon Switz, Lomontville. John Sherwood was high scorer and placed in the top 15 of the contests. John will compete in a judging school at Ithaca in competition for the state poultry team.

FOOD FOR AMERICANS

Soup, Sandwiches Regale Editors

ATTRACTIVE setting like this introduced newspaper food editors to new soups—chili beef and vegetable bean.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

More than 150 prominent newspaper food editors, who gathered for the week-long 1961 Newspaper Food Editors Conference in Chicago to learn about new foods and their uses, attended a Soup and Sandwich luncheon hosted by Campbell Soup Co. in the Drake Hotel.

The two new soups introduced were canned condensed chili beef and vegetable bean soup. With them were served a selection of sandwiches on enriched, whole wheat, wheat germ and rye breads with fillings of crab salad, sliced roast beef and chicken.

From white cups on walnut trays, the editors tasted, first, zesty chili beef—a thick, hearty soup, full of plump beans and the flavors of lean beef, tomatoes and onion. Next, they spooned into a nourishing vegetable bean soup. It, too, is hefty and beany with seven vegetables. California pink beans and tender lentils all combined in a beefy broth.

Roy D. Wooster, executive vice president of the Borden Company, discussed the company's two new products—Sharp Cheddspread, a cold-pack cheese food available in a 5½-ounce plastic serving dish and Gail Borden natural Cheddar cheese in 8-ounce bars, either medium sharp, sharp or extra sharp.

He listed other new products being introduced: au gratin potatoes, dehydrated sliced potatoes with Cheddar cheese sauce. Also Flake Style Gem Rolls, ready for baking made of refrigerated dough; and dry hand-rubbed oregano from Greece in 2⅝ ounce jars; and potato soup with leek, dehydrated, in foil-wrapped packages.

Chili Beef and Macaroni Soup
(Makes 2 to 3 servings)

1 can (11 ounces) condensed chili beef soup
1 soup can water
½ cup cooked shell macaroni (about ¼ cup uncooked)

Combine soup and water; add macaroni. Heat, stirring now and then.

Vegetable Bean with Corned Beef
(Makes 2 to 3 servings)

½ cup corned beef strips
2 tablespoons chopped onion
¼ teaspoon dry mustard
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1 can (10¾ ounces) condensed vegetable bean soup
1 soup can water

Brown corned beef and cook onion with mustard in butter until tender. Blend in soup and water. Heat, stirring now and then.

Nuclear Blast Shelter Ruled Weak by County

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — A Dayton man planned to build a nuclear blast shelter.

The original design was produced for testing at the Nevada proving grounds. Nuclear engineers claimed it would withstand five times the pressure of an atomic blast and keep out gamma rays and fallout.

Its estimated cost was above $2,500.

The resident hired a contractor. An engineer approved the plans. A 17-foot pit was dug in his backyard.

Then he applied to Montgomery County officials for a building permit.

His application was denied.

County engineers questioned whether the shelter would hold up the six feet of earth the man planned to pile on top of it.

To Seize Rice

MANILA (AP)—President Carlos P. Garcia declared a nationwide state of public calamity Tuesday because of a shortage of rice, the Philippines' staple food.

The president's proclamation permits seizure of all hoarded rice stocks for public sale and sets ceiling prices. Garcia said the action was needed to avert panic and disorder.

Posner to Huddle With Top Dems, May Head N.Y.

WASHINGTON (AP) —William Posner, a New York State Democratic leader, planned to meet today with national party officials, possibly for discussions of the chairmanship of the Democratic organization in his home state.

Posner, 46-year-old accountant, has been mentioned as a possible replacement for the present chairman, Michael H. Prendergast.

Prendergast backed the losing candidate for the party nomination for mayor of New York City and is expected to be among the party officials purged by the winning candidate, Mayor Robert F. Wagner.

If Prendergast resigned, the Democratic state committee technically would have the job of appointing a successor, but would an appointee designated by national party leaders and Wagner.

Posner is a former Monroe County Democratic chairman. He resigned in June and said he wanted to devote more time to private business affairs.

The official purpose of this Washington visit was a meeting of a Post Office Department Committee on Commemoratives Stamps.

It was learned, however, that he would meet with officials of the Kennedy administration. Posner declined to discuss his visit.

Braves Pitching Plans Undecided

Of one thing the Kingston Braves can be sure. There will be no tomorrow if they lose the second game of the NY-NJ League championship series against the Poughkeepsie Ho-Bos Saturday night at Dietz Stadium.

The Eastern Division leaders edged Kingston, 8-7, last Saturday night, and can wrap it up this weekend.

The Braves can be reasonably sure of another thing. They will be facing Big Tom Acker, the former Cincinnati Redleg pitcher, who has beaten them twice this season. But that shouldn't surprise anybody. Acker finished the regular 1961 season with a 12-0 record.

The Mayor's Committee headed by Addison Jones has announced it would award several merchandise prizes in order to boost attendance for the last game of the season in Kingston for NY-NJ baseball. But Acker will not be giving any runs away.

Pitching Is Key

Kingston's pitching plans are pretty scrambled for this one. Mike Spada pitched three strong innings in the opener then ran into trouble, partly because of a leaky defensive which committed eight errors. Southpaw Frank Horan was just so-so in middle relief and Bob Maines finished up to get charged with the loss on an unearned run.

Pitching is what the Braves desperately need and it will have to come from this trio or John Risley. There was no faulting the Braves' batting performance in the series opener. They collected 12 hits with Doug Holmquist and Richie DeMauro setting a hot pace.

Against Acker, who uses his fast ball only in spots, it will be a different story. Runs will be scarce and the pressure will be on the Kingston pitching and defense.

It's been a long time since Kingston has beaten Poughkeepsie in the New York-New Jersey League. They couldn't pick a better spot than Saturday night to recapture the winning touch over the Bridge City nemesis. Matter of fact, a win is a must.

AREA WORKSHOP — Sixteen cities were represented in the area workshop conducted by the Kingston Woman's Bowling Association Tuesday night at the Governor Clinton Hotel. Among the top ranking officials present were, from the left: Mrs. Clover Bayley, secretary of the New York State Women's Bowling Association; Gladys Banker, Seneca Falls, president of the NYSWBA; Marge Furst, New York, director and Mrs. Nell Glennon, president of the KWBA, host to the workshop. Six Home Games Slated

Cadets to Open Grid Season Sept. 23 Against Richmond

WEST POINT—Army is readying its football forces for a ten-game schedule which features the most active home campaign in more than two decades.

When the cadets host the University of Richmond at Michie Stadium on Sept. 23rd, it will mark the first of six games at West Point. The last time the cadets played six at home was in 1938.

After three weeks of practice, two aspects of the football situation seem clear. Coach Dale Hall has made up his mind, more or less conclusively, on the starting line-up. Also, the search for a break-away halfback has proved in vain if early season work-outs are any criterion.

The starting alignment which was formed on the opening day of practice and based on spring practice performances has withstood all competition. With only a week remaining before the opening with Richmond, there is little likelihood that the elected eleven will undergo any last minute changes unless injury or illness should interfere.

A Set Lineup

Hall and his associates have settled on the following personnel to man the guns on opening day; ends, John Ellerson and Paul Zmuida; tackles, Dale Kuhns and Chet Kempinski; guards, Captain Mike Casp and Barry Butzer; center, Mike Miller; quarterback, Dick Eckert; halfbacks, George Kirschenbauer and Pete King; and fullback, Al Rushatz.

All are lettermen except Kempinski who is the only yearling in the lineup. Ellerson, Kuhns and Rushatz are regarded as having all-America potential.

While the starting team has jelled, the second and third teams are putting on a dogged determined battle for the runner-up posts. The best of these alternates appears to be Dick Nowak, a yearling guard; George Pappas, junior fullback, and Bruce Heim, junior end.

Untimely early season injuries played havoc with Hall and his plans. Lost for the season possibly are Bob Wright, halfback; Bill Chescavage, end; Mike Vopatek, halfback; and quarterback, Joe Blackgrove, who may get into the line-up near the midway point in the season. Blackgrove suffered torn ligaments in his right knee during the first week of practice this fall and has been on the sidelines since.

This marks the first appearance of Richmond on an Army schedule. Upon meeting Richmond, the Cadets will have met 141 foes in football over a span of 71 years.

Beman Ousted

Three Ex-Champions Advance in Tourney

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) Three former champs and an Irish belter kept the United States Amateur Golf championship from being completely wide open today in play that will see only 36 survivors by nightfall.

Defending champion Deane Beman fell Tuesday before veteran Billy Joe Patton, but ex-titlists Harvie Ward Jr.. Charlie Coe and Jack Nicklaus all whipped through the second round.

So did three-time British champion Joe Carr of Ireland, a witty fellow who laced a couple of drives about 300 yards while overwhelming Claude Wright of Englewood, Colo., 6 and 5. Not in 29 years has a foreigner won the U.S. Amateur title.

Exacting conditions of play over the 6,747-yard Pebble Beach course, with small greens, and weather conditions that vary almost hourly, give the advantage to the experienced golfer.

Even the dark horses were golfers with experience—Bob Gardner of Elmsford, N.Y., two-time former California champ and last year runner-up in the National to Beman and ex-pro Glen Fowler of Oklahoma City, both sub-par shooters the past two days.

Putter Fails

Patton, 39, ousted Beman 2-up. The 1960 champ missed six putts of eight feet or less as his usually reliable putter failed.

Ward was 2 under par in dispatching Harlan Lane of Houston, 7 and 5, to put him against Dudley Wysong Jr., of McKinney, Tex., today. The San Franciscan, national champ in 1955 and 1956 didn't lose a hole. Wysong beat Andy Gard of Wayland, Mass., 2-up, after Gard staged one of the few first-round upsets by eliminating ex-Walker Cup star Bill Campbell.

Oklahoma City's Coe, titlist in 1949 and 1958, triumphed 5 and 4 over John Nichols of Downey, Calif. Nicklaus, eve after nine, rallied to win the next three holes against Oregon champ Donald Krieger of Portland and go on to a 4 and 3 triumph. The big blond from Ohio State drew Bill Edwards of Garden City, N.Y., today. Edwards advanced with a 2 and 1 triumph over Dick Giddings of Modesto, Calif.

Congressman Jack Westland of Everett, Wash., national champion in 1952, went to the sidelines with Beman as collegian Frank James of Grinnell, Iowa, beat him 6 and 4.

Maris Blasts Ump Hank Soar, Says He Made Three Bad Calls

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Roger Maris really put on the blast Tuesday night.

But it didn't add to his season's home run total which remained at 56 when the best he could do was collect a single in four times at bat in New York's 4-3 victory over Chicago.

The blast was directed at plate umpire Hank Soar. Maris accused the arbiter of making at least three bad calls against him.

Soar, who has been an American League umpire for 15 years, blasted right back.

"Those pitchers didn't throw me too many strikes tonight," complained Maris, "yet they were being called strikes. I had to swing in self defense."

Soar shot back:

Soar Talks Back

"He's so tight he can't breathe. You can't call a strike on him without getting an argument."

Maris cited three instances when he believed Soar erred in his judgment of balls and strikes. The first time was in the second inning when, with runners on second and third, Roger bluffed a bunt but did not swing. Soar called it a strike.

"The pitch was high—up here," Maris said, raising his arm above his shoulder.

The second bad call, according to Maris, was when Soar called him out on strikes a few moments later.

"I didn't swing," he asserted. "My body moved but my bat didn't."

"What am I supposed to be—a mind reader?" asked Soar. "When he swings, he swings."

In the sixth inning, Maris disagreed with a strike call, an inside pitch. Roger raised a high foul caught outside first base on the pitcher's next delivery.

"They are pitching him inside," said Soar, "and he's letting them go by."

Said Maris: "I realize an umpire can have a bad day just as a player can have one. But I don't like it when it happens every time I come to bat. I'm not looking for any favors. All I want is a fair shake."

Connecticut Bowman Sets Record in Local Tourney

George Fairchild, a Connecticut bowman, set a new course record for instinctive shooting with scores of 435 and 450 for a 456-target score of 885 in the Kingston Archery Club shoot last weekend.

In addition to setting the record, Fairchild took first place in the men's 400 instinctive class and won three Federation 20 pins for 45, 50 and 55 yards, respectively. 20-pin awards are won by shooting four consecutive arrows into the bull's eye for a perfect 20 point score.

The Kingston club produced 11 winners in the field of 60 which included bowmen from Connecticut, New Jersey, New York City and the Hudson valley area.

Here are the winners of each class based on 28 targets and a possible 560 score:

Smith Winner Of Tennis Title

Dick Smith captured the Kingston Tennis tournament singles title by defeating his doubles partner, Dick Little, in straight sets of the finals on Saturday. The scores were 6-0, 6-2.

It was erroneously reported in a headline Monday that Little was the winner, although the body of the story was accurate and credited Smith with the victory. Our apologies to Dick Smith.

Schatzel Shoots 595

Rose Schatzel had a near miss in the Bowlerama Quads League with nifty games of 201, 192 and 202 for a 595 triple. Judy Halsey stroked a 222 middle effort and other lines of 189 and 156 for 565. Rosemary Pillsworth shot 515, Nell Alverson 502, June VanKleeck 500.

HTA Title Race Set for Yonkers

YONKERS, N. Y. — National championship honors in harness racing's 4-year-old trotting division will be decided Thursday night (Sept. 14) at Yonkers Raceway when eight of the sport's best young trotters meet in the $50,000 Harness Tracks of America mile.

The HTA championship culminates a six-race series sponsored by Harness Tracks of America, an association of 23 of the leading pari-mutuel harness tracks in this country and Canada. The series, limited to 4-year-olds, carried a gross value of $112,500 and brought to the forefront a brilliant pair of performers in the magnificent trotting mare Elaine Rodney and the champion gelding Merrie Duke.

Elaine Rodney won three of the five races contested so far at various HTA tracks and Merrie Duke won the other two. The pair split all even in their only two HTA series meetings this year, each winning a race, and Thursday night's $50,000 championship encounter provides an appropriate setting for their series' rubber match.

Braves Pitching Plans Undecided

Of one thing the Kingston Braves can be sure. There will be no tomorrow if they lose the second game of the NY-NJ League championship series against the Poughkeepsie Ho-Bos Saturday night at Dietz Stadium.

The Eastern Division leaders edged Kingston, 8-7, last Saturday night, and can wrap it up this weekend.

The Braves can be reasonably sure of another thing. They will be facing Big Tom Acker, the former Cincinnati Redleg pitcher, who has beaten them twice this season. But that shouldn't surprise anybody. Acker finished the regular 1961 season with a 12-0 record.

The Mayor's Committee headed by Addison Jones has announced it would award several merchandise prizes in order to boost attendance for the last game of the season in Kingston for NY-NJ baseball. But Acker will not be giving any runs away.

Pitching Is Key

Kingston's pitching plans are pretty scrambled for this one. Mike Spada pitched three strong innings in the opener then ran into trouble, partly because of a leaky defensive which committed eight errors. Southpaw Frank Horan was just so-so in middle relief and Bob Maines finished up to get charged with the loss on an unearned run.

Pitching is what the Braves desperately need and it will have to come from this trio or John Risley. There was no faulting the Braves' batting performance in the series opener. They collected 12 hits with Doug Holmquist and Richie DeMauro setting a hot pace.

Against Acker, who uses his fast ball only in spots, it will be a different story. Runs will be scarce and the pressure will be on the Kingston pitching and defense.

It's been a long time since Kingston has beaten Poughkeepsie in the New York-New Jersey League. They couldn't pick a better spot than Saturday night to recapture the winning touch over the Bridge City nemesis. Matter of fact, a win is a must.

Maris Blasts Ump Hank Soar, Says He Made Three Bad Calls

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Roger Maris really put on the blast Tuesday night.

But it didn't add to his season's home run total which remained at 56 when the best he could do was collect a single in four times at bat in New York's 4-3 victory over Chicago.

The blast was directed at plate umpire Hank Soar. Maris accused the arbiter of making at least three bad calls against him.

Soar, who has been an American League umpire for 15 years, blasted right back.

"Those pitchers didn't throw me too many strikes tonight," complained Maris, "yet they were being called strikes. I had to swing in self defense."

Soar shot back:

Soar Talks Back

"He's so tight he can't breathe. You can't call a strike on him without getting an argument."

Maris cited three instances when he believed Soar erred in his judgment of balls and strikes. The first time was in the second inning when, with runners on second and third, Roger bluffed a bunt but did not swing. Soar called it a strike.

"The pitch was high—up here," Maris said, raising his arm above his shoulder.

The second bad call, according to Maris, was when Soar called him out on strikes a few moments later.

"I didn't swing," he asserted. "My body moved but my bat didn't."

"What am I supposed to be—a mind reader?" asked Soar. "When he swings, he swings."

In the sixth inning, Maris disagreed with a strike call, an inside pitch. Roger raised a high foul caught outside first base on the pitcher's next delivery.

"They are pitching him inside," said Soar, "and he's letting them go by."

Said Maris: "I realize an umpire can have a bad day just as a player can have one. But I don't like it when it happens every time I come to bat. I'm not looking for any favors. All I want is a fair shake."

Connecticut Bowman Sets Record in Local Tourney

George Fairchild, a Connecticut bowman, set a new course record for instinctive shooting with scores of 435 and 450 for a 456-target score of 885 in the Kingston Archery Club shoot last weekend.

In addition to setting the record, Fairchild took first place in the men's 400 instinctive class and won three Federation 20 pins for 45, 50 and 55 yards, respectively. 20-pin awards are won by shooting four consecutive arrows into the bull's eye for a perfect 20 point score.

The Kingston club produced 11 winners in the field of 60 which included bowmen from Connecticut, New Jersey, New York City and the Hudson valley area.

Here are the winners of each class based on 28 targets and a possible 560 score:

Smith Winner Of Tennis Title

Dick Smith captured the Kingston Tennis tournament singles title by defeating his doubles partner, Dick Little, in straight sets of the finals on Saturday. The scores were 6-0, 6-2.

It was erroneously reported in a headline Monday that Little was the winner, although the body of the story was accurate and credited Smith with the victory. Our apologies to Dick Smith.

Six Home Games Slated

Cadets to Open Grid Season Sept. 23 Against Richmond

WEST POINT—Army is readying its football forces for a ten-game schedule which features the most active home campaign in more than two decades.

When the cadets host the University of Richmond at Michie Stadium on Sept. 23rd, it will mark the first of six games at West Point. The last time the cadets played six at home was in 1938.

After three weeks of practice, two aspects of the football situation seem clear. Coach Dale Hall has made up his mind, more or less conclusively, on the starting line-up. Also, the search for a break-away halfback has proved in vain if early season work-outs are any criterion.

The starting alignment which was formed on the opening day of practice and based on spring practice performances has withstood all competition. With only a week remaining before the opening with Richmond, there is little likelihood that the elected eleven will undergo any last minute changes unless injury or illness should interfere.

A Set Lineup

Hall and his associates have settled on the following personnel to man the guns on opening day; ends, John Ellerson and Paul Zmuida; tackles, Dale Kuhns and Chet Kempinski; guards, Captain Mike Casp and Barry Butzer; center, Mike Miller; quarterback, Dick Eckert; halfbacks, George Kirschenbauer and Pete King; and fullback, Al Rushatz.

All are lettermen except Kempinski who is the only yearling in the lineup. Ellerson, Kuhns and Rushatz are regarded as having all-America potential.

While the starting team has jelled, the second and third teams are putting on a dogged determined battle for the runner-up posts. The best of these alternates appears to be Dick Nowak, a yearling guard; George Pappas, junior fullback, and Bruce Heim, junior end.

Untimely early season injuries played havoc with Hall and his plans. Lost for the season possibly are Bob Wright, halfback; Bill Chescavage, end; Mike Vopatek, halfback; and quarterback, Joe Blackgrove, who may get into the line-up near the midway point in the season. Blackgrove suffered torn ligaments in his right knee during the first week of practice this fall and has been on the sidelines since.

This marks the first appearance of Richmond on an Army schedule. Upon meeting Richmond, the Cadets will have met 141 foes in football over a span of 71 years.

Beman Ousted

Three Ex-Champions Advance in Tourney

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) Three former champs and an Irish belter kept the United States Amateur Golf championship from being completely wide open today in play that will see only 36 survivors by nightfall.

Defending champion Deane Beman fell Tuesday before veteran Billy Joe Patton, but ex-titlists Harvie Ward Jr.. Charlie Coe and Jack Nicklaus all whipped through the second round.

So did three-time British champion Joe Carr of Ireland, a witty fellow who laced a couple of drives about 300 yards while overwhelming Claude Wright of Englewood, Colo., 6 and 5. Not in 29 years has a foreigner won the U.S. Amateur title.

Exacting conditions of play over the 6,747-yard Pebble Beach course, with small greens, and weather conditions that vary almost hourly, give the advantage to the experienced golfer.

Even the dark horses were golfers with experience—Bob Gardner of Elmsford, N.Y., two-time former California champ and last year runner-up in the National to Beman and ex-pro Glen Fowler of Oklahoma City, both sub-par shooters the past two days.

Putter Fails

Patton, 39, ousted Beman 2-up. The 1960 champ missed six putts of eight feet or less as his usually reliable putter failed.

Ward was 2 under par in dispatching Harlan Lane of Houston, 7 and 5, to put him against Dudley Wysong Jr., of McKinney, Tex., today. The San Franciscan, national champ in 1955 and 1956 didn't lose a hole. Wysong beat Andy Gard of Wayland, Mass., 2-up, after Gard staged one of the few first-round upsets by eliminating ex-Walker Cup star Bill Campbell.

Oklahoma City's Coe, titlist in 1949 and 1958, triumphed 5 and 4 over John Nichols of Downey, Calif. Nicklaus, eve after nine, rallied to win the next three holes against Oregon champ Donald Krieger of Portland and go on to a 4 and 3 triumph. The big blond from Ohio State drew Bill Edwards of Garden City, N.Y., today. Edwards advanced with a 2 and 1 triumph over Dick Giddings of Modesto, Calif.

Congressman Jack Westland of Everett, Wash., national champion in 1952, went to the sidelines with Beman as collegian Frank James of Grinnell, Iowa, beat him 6 and 4.

Maris, Mantle Lose Ground; Cincinnati Lead Is 4½ Games

Fail to Connect As Yanks Win, 4-3 Six Inning Game

There's been a claim of foul in that home run race that's heading into the homestretch with Roger Maris holding a three-length lead over fast-closing Babe Ruth and Mickey Mantle losing ground.

Maris, the leader with 56 home runs, angrily criticized plate umpire Hank Soar Tuesday night after the New York Yankees edged the Chicago White Sox 4-3 in a rain-shortened contest that cost Maris and Mantle at least one at-bat apiece.

Reduced to a three-game edge over Ruth's record 60 homer pace of 1927, Maris cited Soar for what he called poor balls and strikes calls. "I didn't get too many strikes," complained the Yankee slugger, "yet they were being called strikes. I was swinging in self defense."

Both Maris, who now needs four homers in the next nine decisions to tie Ruth's mark in the allotted time, and Mantle were held homerless by Billy Pierce and Frank Baumann. But each had a single before the game was called in the last of the sixth.

The triumph kept the Yankees 11½ games ahead of the Detroit Tigers, and lowered their magic number to seven. Any combination of seven wins or Detroit losses will bring New York its 11th pennant in the last 13 years and the first for rookie manager Ralph Houk.

The Tigers kept pace by beating Kansas City 3-1 for Frank Lary's 20th victory. And Washington whipped Boston 5-1 on Pete Burnside's three-hitter. Los Angeles-Minnesota was postponed. Baltimore and Cleveland were not scheduled.

Maris and Mantle were instrumental in the Yankees 13th consecutive triumph with Maris wheeling home with the winning run in the fifth on Elston's Howard single. He had opened with a single and moved up on Mantle's base hit. Maris, who went to the plate four times, also walked in the first and scored, while Mantle who has 53 homers, struck out and flied deep to center in his other at-bats.

Ralph Terry (14-2) won it for the Yanks although tagged for eight hits—one the game's only homer by little Luis Aparicio.

Al Smith began the final inning with a double to left center and Nellie Fox moved him to third with a sacrifice. The Yanks pulled the infield in and held Smith at third while Jim Landis grounded out. Then the rains came.

Pierce (9-9) who lasted one inning—he gave up three runs and four hits—was charged with the loss.

Lary (20-9) won his 20th on the fourth go-round with a five-hitter when the Tigers came up with two in the eighth against Jerry Walker (7-12). Billy Bruton's triple, a walk, Norm Cash's sacrifice fly and singles by Dick McAuliffe and Steve Boros got the job done after Dick Brown tied it in the fifth with his 13th homer. Homer No. 8 for Deron Johnson accounted for the A's run.

Reds Score Win Over Cubs, 7-2 LA Routed, 19-10

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Darrell Johnson, acquired by Cincinnati in mid-August, drove in three runs with a pair of doubles Tuesday night as the Reds beat the Chicago Cubs 7-2 and boosted their National League lead over second place Los Angeles to 4½ games.

Johnson, 34, with a .233 major league batting average, has been hitting at a .275 clip since he was purchased from Philadelphia but his exploits had to share top billing with Don Demeter's.

Hits Three Homers

Demeter made the woeful Phils anything but as he crashed three homers and a single, driving in seven runs in a 19-10 rout of the pennant-chasing Dodgers. Joe Gibbon's three-hitter for Pittsburgh blanked San Francisco 3-0 and a five-hitter by St. Louis' Bob Gibson checked Milwaukee 4-1.

Johnson and Wally Post formed a formidable 1-2 punch for the Reds against starter Dick Ellsworth (8-11) and his successors.

Post hit his 19th homer in the fourth and drove in the clincher for Jim O'Toole (15-8) with a sixth inning single that scored Elio Chacon.

In a game that had nine homers—five by the Phils—29 hits and the most runs scored against the Dodgers since they moved to Los Angeles in 1958, Demeter's performance was easily the standout. The former Dodger hit a two-run homer in the first, drove in a run with a single in a nine-run second, homered with two on in the seventh and hit a solo shot in the ninth.

Koufax Loses

That nine-run second inning won it for the Phils, who chased starter Sandy Koufax (15-11).

Dick Stuart homered twice, driving in all Pittsburgh's runs off Mike McCormick (12-15) as Gibbon (11-10) snapped the Giants' four-game winning streak.

Run-producing singles by Charlie James and Don Taussig and an error on a throw home won it for Gibson (11-11) as the Cardinals chased Milwaukee starter Bob Hendley with three runs in the seventh.

Middletown Is Loaded With Talent

Though Middletown High lost 12 boys, 11 of them linemen from last year's 6-1-1 club, Coach John Whitehead isn't exactly crying the blues. He has an outstanding backfield and some promising youngsters up front. The Middies are solid favorites to win DUSO laurels this season.

Three ends, George Horne, Carl Gross and Steve White will have to be replaced. Also missing are tackles Ang Vellake, Harv Cushing, Lou Clemmer and Jack Holihan plus guards Charlie Smith and Norm Bailey. Jon Rodiek and George Gould, two centers, have been graduated as well as fullback Bob Marsh.

The backfield is loaded with talent. Quarterback Bill Kindberg, halfbacks Ron Smith and Steve Grodin and fullback Dick Collins are all set. Backing up these four are Bob Keener, a fullback and halfback Harry Brown.

Returning linemen are ends George Cline, Bob Hoffman, Gene McGowan and Charles Hunt; tackles Charlie Loidice, Dave Hyde and Joe Radivoy; guards Jim Wright, Jack Hinton and Stan Zolnoski and center Jack Brennan.

Jayvees expected to contend for positions on the varsity are ends Rick Ferrara, Bill Gray, Paul Davis and Bob Brennan; tackles Joe Bellotto, Larry McDowell, Jim Botti and Butch Warnke; guards Dick Sters, Clayton Smith and Paul Myers and centers Bruce Rich and Dave Wright.

Bob Scott and Nick Barber have been promoted to the varsity as quarterbacks as well as backs Max Simmons, Jim Randolph, Bruce Birnbaum, Vince Monaco, Gus Myers and Walt Domanski.

The Middies open on Sept. 30 against Poughkeepsie and they're looking forward to that one.

Fifty Prospects At Port Jervis

Coach Joe Viglione has been working a record turnout of 50 boys through their paces as the Port Jervis Red Raiders prep for their opener on Friday, Sept. 22 against Nyack. The veteran coach is building his squad around six returning first stringers.

Leading the returnees is quarterback Dick Crine. He'll be filling in for all-DUSO performer Tom Coleman, who has graduated along with Tex Harding, Doug Parsons, Steve Crine, Rich Reinhardt, Jim Cherry, Steve Biccum and Paul Ferrari.

Halfback T. A. Mackey, a proven speedster and fullback Jack Hinkley are back to provide punch in the backfield. A newcomer to the school, Leroy Johnson, has looked good in practice and could be the fourth starter in the backfield. Others expected to see action are Bill Morgan and sophomores Jim Quick and Joe Nolan plus Mike Connelly.

Gibby Romaine, a second string All-DUSO last season, will operate from one of the end positions. The other is up for grabs between Jack Waycie, Bill McCooey, Les Friedman, Tom Roberts and Alan Cherny.

At the tackles Viglione will have Syd Decker and Larry Latino, two boys with experience. The guards are new and sophomores Brian Seeber and Jack McAndrew look good. Brian Bushweller, Corrado and Frank Markiwicz are also available.

Dick Dutton may start at center and Paul Hogencamp is the number one reserve.

Viglione, who expects to carry 28 boys on the varsity, sees a strong backfield and a questionable line at this stage. Some of the linemen are rugged but inexperienced.

After the Nyack game the Porters will host Goshen, a newcomer to the slate and then comes the DUSO opener against Newburgh.

Assisting Viglione are three newcomers — Al Wilgard, Ed Polanis and Jim Smart. Phil Chase will handle the frosh team. The school is also expected to have a jayvee squad because of the good turnout for both varsity and freshman squads.

Sawyers Stress Blocking, Tackling in Early Drills

Saugerties High School's Sawyers have been stressing blocking and tackling in their pre-season grid drills. Head Coach Fred Seither will evaluate the club's chances after a scrimmage this Saturday against Hudson.

Last year's powerhouse, which rolled over seven straight opponents, was noted for its crisp blocking and excellent tackling. Seither is hoping some of that will rub off on this year's club.

The new head coach is impressed with the work of Senior John Marshall. He's been switched to center this season and his attitude has inspired the other gridders. Guard Bill Vickery and end Bill Schirmer have also been willing workers.

Newcomer Bill Smythe, a 1961 graduate of Cortland State Teachers, has assumed the backfield coaching duties. He reports that Al Hrdlicka and Lou Spada have looked good. Hrdlicka will probably be shifted from fullback to halfback and Spada may do the running from fullback.

Rich Giannotti, Ted Faulkner, Glen Davis and Joe Ollinger are trying for a starting backfield berth. Dick Reissler, a defensive star last year, will be shifted to end.

Several stars of Coach Bud Smith's frosh squad and a few newcomers are expected to bolster the team this season. The defending DCSL champs open their regular season on Saturday, Sept. 23 against Red Hook and have a big night game listed for Friday, Sept. 29, at Dietz Stadium against Arlington.

N. Savino Scores 614

The 500 hitters included Aaron Bahl 202-543, Larry Jacobs 501, Murray Greene a 227 solo, Diehl 234-587, Irv Basch 533, All Werbalowsky 514. Results: Al's Appliances 4, Feyes Liquor 0; Gov. Maris, Mantle Lose Ground; Cincinnati Lead Is 4½ Games

Fail to Connect As Yanks Win, 4-3 Six Inning Game

There's been a claim of foul in that home run race that's heading into the homestretch with Roger Maris holding a three-length lead over fast-closing Babe Ruth and Mickey Mantle losing ground.

Maris, the leader with 56 home runs, angrily criticized plate umpire Hank Soar Tuesday night after the New York Yankees edged the Chicago White Sox 4-3 in a rain-shortened contest that cost Maris and Mantle at least one at-bat apiece.

Reduced to a three-game edge over Ruth's record 60 homer pace of 1927, Maris cited Soar for what he called poor balls and strikes calls. "I didn't get too many strikes," complained the Yankee slugger, "yet they were being called strikes. I was swinging in self defense."

Both Maris, who now needs four homers in the next nine decisions to tie Ruth's mark in the allotted time, and Mantle were held homerless by Billy Pierce and Frank Baumann. But each had a single before the game was called in the last of the sixth.

The triumph kept the Yankees 11½ games ahead of the Detroit Tigers, and lowered their magic number to seven. Any combination of seven wins or Detroit losses will bring New York its 11th pennant in the last 13 years and the first for rookie manager Ralph Houk.

The Tigers kept pace by beating Kansas City 3-1 for Frank Lary's 20th victory. And Washington whipped Boston 5-1 on Pete Burnside's three-hitter. Los Angeles-Minnesota was postponed. Baltimore and Cleveland were not scheduled.

Maris and Mantle were instrumental in the Yankees 13th consecutive triumph with Maris wheeling home with the winning run in the fifth on Elston's Howard single. He had opened with a single and moved up on Mantle's base hit. Maris, who went to the plate four times, also walked in the first and scored, while Mantle who has 53 homers, struck out and flied deep to center in his other at-bats.

Ralph Terry (14-2) won it for the Yanks although tagged for eight hits—one the game's only homer by little Luis Aparicio.

Al Smith began the final inning with a double to left center and Nellie Fox moved him to third with a sacrifice. The Yanks pulled the infield in and held Smith at third while Jim Landis grounded out. Then the rains came.

Pierce (9-9) who lasted one inning—he gave up three runs and four hits—was charged with the loss.

Lary (20-9) won his 20th on the fourth go-round with a five-hitter when the Tigers came up with two in the eighth against Jerry Walker (7-12). Billy Bruton's triple, a walk, Norm Cash's sacrifice fly and singles by Dick McAuliffe and Steve Boros got the job done after Dick Brown tied it in the fifth with his 13th homer. Homer No. 8 for Deron Johnson accounted for the A's run.

Reds Score Win Over Cubs, 7-2 LA Routed, 19-10

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Darrell Johnson, acquired by Cincinnati in mid-August, drove in three runs with a pair of doubles Tuesday night as the Reds beat the Chicago Cubs 7-2 and boosted their National League lead over second place Los Angeles to 4½ games.

Johnson, 34, with a .233 major league batting average, has been hitting at a .275 clip since he was purchased from Philadelphia but his exploits had to share top billing with Don Demeter's.

Hits Three Homers

Demeter made the woeful Phils anything but as he crashed three homers and a single, driving in seven runs in a 19-10 rout of the pennant-chasing Dodgers. Joe Gibbon's three-hitter for Pittsburgh blanked San Francisco 3-0 and a five-hitter by St. Louis' Bob Gibson checked Milwaukee 4-1.

Johnson and Wally Post formed a formidable 1-2 punch for the Reds against starter Dick Ellsworth (8-11) and his successors.

Post hit his 19th homer in the fourth and drove in the clincher for Jim O'Toole (15-8) with a sixth inning single that scored Elio Chacon.

In a game that had nine homers—five by the Phils—29 hits and the most runs scored against the Dodgers since they moved to Los Angeles in 1958, Demeter's performance was easily the standout. The former Dodger hit a two-run homer in the first, drove in a run with a single in a nine-run second, homered with two on in the seventh and hit a solo shot in the ninth.

Koufax Loses

That nine-run second inning won it for the Phils, who chased starter Sandy Koufax (15-11).

Dick Stuart homered twice, driving in all Pittsburgh's runs off Mike McCormick (12-15) as Gibbon (11-10) snapped the Giants' four-game winning streak.

Run-producing singles by Charlie James and Don Taussig and an error on a throw home won it for Gibson (11-11) as the Cardinals chased Milwaukee starter Bob Hendley with three runs in the seventh.

Middletown Is Loaded With Talent

Though Middletown High lost 12 boys, 11 of them linemen from last year's 6-1-1 club, Coach John Whitehead isn't exactly crying the blues. He has an outstanding backfield and some promising youngsters up front. The Middies are solid favorites to win DUSO laurels this season.

Three ends, George Horne, Carl Gross and Steve White will have to be replaced. Also missing are tackles Ang Vellake, Harv Cushing, Lou Clemmer and Jack Holihan plus guards Charlie Smith and Norm Bailey. Jon Rodiek and George Gould, two centers, have been graduated as well as fullback Bob Marsh.

The backfield is loaded with talent. Quarterback Bill Kindberg, halfbacks Ron Smith and Steve Grodin and fullback Dick Collins are all set. Backing up these four are Bob Keener, a fullback and halfback Harry Brown.

Returning linemen are ends George Cline, Bob Hoffman, Gene McGowan and Charles Hunt; tackles Charlie Loidice, Dave Hyde and Joe Radivoy; guards Jim Wright, Jack Hinton and Stan Zolnoski and center Jack Brennan.

Jayvees expected to contend for positions on the varsity are ends Rick Ferrara, Bill Gray, Paul Davis and Bob Brennan; tackles Joe Beliotto, Larry McDowell, Jim Botti and Butch Warnke; guards Dick Sters, Clayton Smith and Paul Myers and centers Bruce Rich and Dave Wright.

Bob Scott and Nick Barber have been promoted to the varsity as quarterbacks as well as backs Max Simmons, Jim Randolph, Bruce Birnbaum, Vince Monaco, Gus Myers and Walt Domanski.

The Middies open on Sept. 30 against Poughkeepsie and they're looking forward to that one.

Fifty Prospects At Port Jervis

Coach Joe Viglione has been working a record turnout of 50 boys through their paces as the Port Jervis Red Raiders prep for their opener on Friday, Sept. 22 against Nyack. The veteran coach is building his squad around six returning first stringers.

Leading the returnees is quarterback Dick Crine. He'll be filling in for all-DUSO performer Tom Coleman, who has graduated along with Tex Harding, Doug Parsons, Steve Crine, Rich Reinhardt, Jim Cherry, Steve Biccum and Paul Ferrari.

Halfback T. A. Mackey, a proven speedster and fullback Jack Hinkley are back to provide punch in the backfield. A newcomer to the school, Leroy Johnson, has looked good in practice and could be the fourth starter in the backfield. Others expected to see action are Bill Morgan and sophomores Jim Quick and Joe Nolan plus Mike Connelly.

Gibby Romaine, a second string All-DUSO last season, will operate from one of the end positions. The other is up for grabs between Jack Waycie, Bill McCooey, Les Friedman, Tom Roberts and Alan Cherny.

At the tackles Viglione will have Syd Decker and Larry Latino, two boys with experience. The guards are new and sophomores Brian Seeber and Jack McAndrew look good. Brian Bushweller, Corrado and Frank Markiwicz are also available.

Dick Dutton may start at center and Paul Hogencamp is the number one reserve.

Viglione, who expects to carry 28 boys on the varsity, sees a strong backfield and a questionable line at this stage. Some of the linemen are rugged but inexperienced.

After the Nyack game the Porters will host Goshen, a newcomer to the slate and then comes the DUSO opener against Newburgh.

Assisting Viglione are three newcomers — Al Wilgard, Ed Polanis and Jim Smart. Phil Chase will handle the frosh team. The school is also expected to have a jayvee squad because of the good turnout for both varsity and freshman squads.

Sawyers Stress Blocking, Tackling in Early Drills

Saugerties High School's Sawyers have been stressing blocking and tackling in their pre-season grid drills. Head Coach Fred Seither will evaluate the club's chances after a scrimmage this Saturday against Hudson.

Last year's powerhouse, which rolled over seven straight opponents, was noted for its crisp blocking and excellent tackling. Seither is hoping some of that will rub off on this year's club.

The new head coach is impressed with the work of Senior John Marshall. He's been switched to center this season and his attitude has inspired the other gridders. Guard Bill Vickery and end Bill Schirmer have also been willing workers.

Newcomer Bill Smythe, a 1961 graduate of Cortland State Teachers, has assumed the backfield coaching duties. He reports that Al Hrdlicka and Lou Spada have looked good. Hrdlicka will probably be shifted from fullback to halfback and Spada may do the running from fullback.

Rich Giannotti, Ted Faulkner, Glen Davis and Joe Ollinger are trying for a starting backfield berth. Dick Reissler, a defensive star last year, will be shifted to end.

Several stars of Coach Bud Smith's frosh squad and a few newcomers are expected to bolster the team this season. The defending DCSL champs open their regular season on Saturday, Sept. 23 against Red Hook and have a big night game listed for Friday, Sept. 29, at Dietz Stadium against Arlington.

N. Savino Scores 614

Nick Savino led the shooting in the Good Neighbor league with 199-224-191-614. Jerry Kaplan was a close second with 228-168-212-608.

The 500 hitters included Aaron Bahl 202-543, Larry Jacobs 501, Murray Greene a 227 solo, Diehl 234-587, Irv Basch 533, All Werbalowsky 514. Results: Al's Appliances 4, Feyes Liquor 0; Gov. Pirates Feel Cincy Can Defeat Yankees

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates, 1960 world champions of baseball, feel strongly that the Cincinnati Reds will repeat the Pirates' performance by whipping the New York Yankees in the 1961 World Series — if the Reds win the National League pennant.

That appraisal came after San Francisco's 4-3 win Monday over Pittsburgh wiped out the last mathematical chance for the Pirates to win the pennant. The Pirates have 66 victories and only 18 games left to play. The Reds possess 85 victories.

But if the Los Angeles Dodgers win the NL flag?

"Any club capable of winning the pennant in our league can beat the Yanks." said Pirate Manager Danny Murtaugh.

Three Big Factors

"The Reds have three basic ingredients — good pitching, a good defense and good hitting including fair power hitting."

Pirate hurler Tom Sturdivant, who once pitched for the Yankees, said the Reds have something big going for them in pitching coach Jim Turner, a former Yankee.

"He knows the history of the whole Yank pitching staff and how to pitch to all their hitters," Sturdivant said.

"Fred Hutchinson, Reds manager, won't need any scouting reports on the Yankees. He can lean on him for first-hand advice."

Pirate Dick Stuart said Cincinnati has the pitching to cope with New York's "M and M" home run combine — Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris.

"Remember, the Yanks didn't hit our front-line pitching too good," Stuart said.

"Their big innings in the 1960 World Series were off our secondary guys, Fred Green and George Witt. The Reds have three first-class starters and Jim Brosnan and Bill Henry are fine relievers."

Yankees So Sure, Says Rocky, That He's Not Gambling

HUDSON, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller says his wager of apples with the governor of Michigan was not a violation of the state gambling laws because the New York Yankees are sure to win the American League pennant.

Michael Le Sawyer, a Hudson attorney, said in a letter to Rockefeller, "I hope the jury drawn for your trial on a charge of violating the (state) penal law will be predominantly Yankee fans and successful apple growers."

Rockefeller replied that, in his opinion, "The success of the Yankees is a certainty." Therefore, he said, the matter does not violate the law.

Rockefeller told Gov. John B. Swainson of Michigan he would give him three bushels of New York State apples if the Detroit Tigers beat the Yankees in the pennant race.

The Yankees led the second-place Tigers by 11½ games today.

Pitt Is Picked To Beat Miami In TV Battle

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) —Punts or putts? Touchdowns or tee shots? Halfbacks or hooks? Picking this year's first football winners at the scene of the National Amateur Golf Tournament.

Pittsburgh over Miami: Your first TV dish of the season. The visiting easterners are proud of their line, bulwarked by Kaltenbach and Vignali.

Iowa State over Drake: Once this one was the climax of the year for both clubs, now it is the opener with Big Eight Cyclones the heavy favorites because of their dedication.

West Virginia over Richmond: The Mountaineers are on their way back with Holdinsky and Colvard leading the way.

San Jose over Brigham Young: If you can't run the hundred in 10 seconds flat, there's no need for you to try out for the San Jose backfield.

Virginia Tech over William & Mary: Tech is the favorite for the Southern Conference title but William & Mary has a batch of newcomers who could be tough.

Tulsa over Hardin-Simmons: White and Escandon make Tulsa the best in the abbreviated Missouri Valley Conference.

Wyoming over Montana: Football is a way of life with the Wyoming students.

Indians, Birds Want Durocher

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Cleveland Indians and Baltimore Orioles have asked permission to talk to Leo Durocher about managing their clubs, The Associated Press learned today.

But — even before any offers have been made—the 54-year-old Dodger coach has said he isn't interested.

The AP learned from baseball writer Phil Collier of the San Diego Union that general managers Gabe Paul of Cleveland and Lee MacPhail of Baltimore asked and received permission from the Dodgers to approach Durocher.

This reported expression of interest by Cleveland supports an AP story from Chicago today. There AP sports writer Joe Reichler says he has learned Manager Jimmie Dykes will not be retained by the Indians next season.

The manager's job at Baltimore was vacated recently by Paul Richards, who is moving to Houston as general manager of the new National League club there.

At Batavia Downs, Stewart's Dillard came from last at the half to take the $1,200 Class B-3 Pace and return $123, the largest payoff in five years at Batavia. Hugh Stewart Jr. reined the winner over the 2:06 3-5 mile.

Frisco Negroes To Play Sunday

REDWOOD CITY, Calif. (AP)—Negro players on the San Francisco 49er squad said Tuesday they will play in their team's National Football League opener against the Washington Redskins Sunday.

The nine players had been asked by the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) and the San Francisco chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People to refuse to play because the Redskins have never hired a Negro player.

Defensieve back Abe Woodson, selected as spokesman for the players, said, "This is different from situations where there are segregated audiences and things like that."

Chicago to Have Rich Horse Race

CHICAGO (AP) — The world's richest horse race — a $150,000 added, $400,000 gross futurity — will be run in Chicago in 1962 at Arlington Park.

The race, which will be held on the first Saturday in September next year, will combine the Arlington Park and Washington Park futurities, annual tests for 2-year-olds. Announcement of the 1962 combination was made Tuesday by Mrs. Marjorie Lindheimer Everett, president of Chicago Thoroughbred Enterprises, Inc., which operates Washington Park and Arlington.

Hollywood News, Views

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The biggest grossing movie this year is one first released in 1939—"Gone With the Wind."

MGM reports that the screen classic, still the finest movie ever made, has grossed more than 12 millions worldwide in its fifth reissue. It surpassed another studio blockbuster, "Ben-Hur," now in its third year of showings.

The gross for "GWTW" has passed the $75-million mark and it undoubtedly will be the first movie ever to gross $100 million. It's re-issued every five years or so—and with those grosses, you'll never see it on TV's late, late show.

I have always felt that Hollywood could cure most of its headaches if its producers would be required to pass a six-week study course on "Gone With the Wind" before being allowed to make a picture.

David O. Selznick gave the picture a lavish production but not a wasteful one. It had a $5-million budget, high for 1939, but peanuts today with "Ben-Hur" costing $15 million and "Mutiny on the Bounty," not yet finished with the tab at $19 million.

Where Hollywood could really learn a lesson from Selzbick was in his genius at casting. "GWTW" was the best-cast picture in history. After 22 years, there is not a part in it that could have been played better.

Scarlett O'Hara was harder to find. A Selznick aide recalls that a two-year search for Scarlett was much more than good publicity for the picture.

Agent Myron Selznick, David's brother, brought an obscure English actress on the set one day while they were burning Atlanta. It was about the 500th girl Myron had shown his brother.

This time, David's face lit up and Vivien Leigh became Scarlett. The announcement almost rekindled a new War between the States but Selznick was adamant.

Then at the premiere in Atlanta, Miss Leigh shocked some of the natives by exclaiming when the band played "Dixie:"

"Isn't that wonderful? They're playing the song from our picture." But when the movie unreeled, the South forgave.

Pirates Feel Cincy Can Defeat Yankees

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates, 1960 world champions of baseball, feel strongly that the Cincinnati Reds will repeat the Pirates' performance by whipping the New York Yankees in the 1961 World Series — if the Reds win the National League pennant.

That appraisal came after San Francisco's 4-3 win Monday over Pittsburgh wiped out the last mathematical chance for the Pirates to win the pennant. The Pirates have 66 victories and only 18 games left to play. The Reds possess 85 victories.

But if the Los Angeles Dodgers win the NL flag?

"Any club capable of winning the pennant in our league can beat the Yanks," said Pirate Manager Danny Murtaugh.

Three Big Factors

"The Reds have three basic ingredients — good pitching, a good defense and good hitting including fair power hitting."

Pirate hurler Tom Sturdivant, who once pitched for the Yankees, said the Reds have something big going for them in pitching coach Jim Turner, a former Yankee.

"He knows the history of the whole Yank pitching staff and how to pitch to all their hitters," Sturdivant said.

"Fred Hutchinson, Reds manager, won't need any scouting reports on the Yankees. He can lean on him for first-hand advice."

Pirate Dick Stuart said Cincinnati has the pitching to cope with New York's "M and M" home run combine — Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris.

"Remember, the Yanks didn't hit our front-line pitching too good," Stuart said.

"Their big innings in the 1960 World Series were off our secondary guys, Fred Green and George Witt. The Reds have three first-class starters and Jim Brosnan and Bill Henry are fine relievers."

Yankees So Sure, Says Rocky, That He's Not Gambling

HUDSON, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller says his wager of apples with the governor of Michigan was not a violation of the state gambling laws because the New York Yankees are sure to win the American League pennant.

Michael Le Sawyer, a Hudson attorney, said in a letter to Rockefeller, "I hope the jury drawn for your trial on a charge of violating the (state) penal law will be predominantly Yankee fans and successful apple growers."

Rockefeller replied that, in his opinion, "The success of the Yankees is a certainty." Therefore, he said, the matter does not violate the law.

Rockefeller told Gov. John B. Swainson of Michigan he would give him three bushels of New York State apples if the Detroit Tigers beat the Yankees in the pennant race.

The Yankees led the second-place Tigers by 11½ games today.

Pitt Is Picked To Beat Miami In TV Battle

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) —Punts or putts? Touchdowns or tee shots? Halfbacks or hooks? Picking this year's first football winners at the scene of the National Amateur Coll Tournament.

Pittsburgh over Miami: Your first TV dish of the season. The visiting easterners are proud of their line, bulwarked by Kaltenbach and Vignali.

Iowa State over Drake: Once this one was the climax of the year for both clubs, now it is the opener with Big Eight Cyclones the heavy favorites because of their dedication.

West Virginia over Richmond: The Mountaineers are on their way back with Holdinsky and Colvard leading the way.

San Jose over Brigham Young: If you can't run the hundred in 10 seconds flat, there's no need for you to try out for the San Jose backfield.

Virginia Tech over William & Mary: Tech is the favorite for the Southern Conference title but William & Mary has a batch of newcomers who could be tough.

Tulsa over Hardin-Simmons: White and Escandon make Tulsa the best in the abbreviated Missouri Valley Conference.

Wyoming over Montana: Football is a way of life with the Wyoming students.

Indians, Birds Want Durocher

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Cleveland Indians and Baltimore Orioles have asked permission to talk to Leo Durocher about managing their clubs, The Associated Press learned today.

But — even before any offers have been made—the 54-year-old Dodger coach has said he isn't interested.

The AP learned from baseball writer Phil Collier of the San Diego Union that general managers Gabe Paul of Cleveland and Lee MacPhail of Baltimore asked and received permission from the Dodgers to approach Durocher.

This reported expression of interest by Cleveland supports an AP story from Chicago today. There AP sports writer Joe Reichler says he has learned Manager Jimmie Dykes will not be retained by the Indians next season.

The manager's job at Baltimore was vacated recently by Paul Richards, who is moving to Houston as general manager of the new National League club there.

FIGURED FISHERMEN — Tarascan Indian fishermen start out with their five-foot long "butterfly nets" for the daily catch on Lake Patzcuaro in Mexico. Indians work in teams of four on the fresh water lake bringing in sardines and white fish.

Jimmy Dykes Will Not Be Retained

CHICAGO (AP)—Jimmie Dykes will not be retained as manager of the Cleveland Indians, The Associated Press learned today.
One of the current Cleveland coaches, Mel McGaha, is expected to become manager for 1962 with Dykes shifting to a National League club as a coach. Dykes has coached in recent years at both Cincinnati and Pittsburgh.
"I don't know anything about it," Dykes said in Cleveland.
Gabe Paul, the Indians' general manager, would neither confirm nor deny the information.
McGaha, who joined the Indians' coaching staff this season after leading the Toronto Maple Leafs to the 1960 International League pennant, was unavailable to comment.
The 64-year-old Dykes, now in his 45th consecutive baseball season, went to Cleveland last year when he was traded for Joe Gordon of Detroit in an unprecedented swap of managers. He is in his 21st season as a major league manager, having previously handled the Chicago White Sox, Philadelphia Athletics, Baltimore Orioles and Cincinnati Reds in addition to the Tigers.

Dates Are Set for Davis Cup Matches

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—The interzone Davis Cup series between the United States and India will be played in New Delhi on Sept. 29-30, Oct. 1, Lawn Tennis Association sources said Tuesday.
If the United States wins, the team will fly to Rome to play Italy, the European Zone winners, in a 3-day series beginning Oct. 13.
If India wins, the Italian players will come here under an agreement already reached with the Italians.

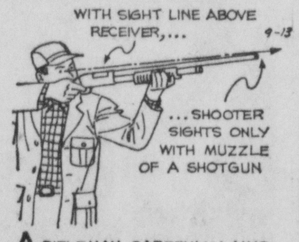
SHOTGUN POINTING



A RIFLEMAN CAREFULLY AIMS WITH A FRONT AND REAR SIGHT, OR A SCOPE SIGHT. A SHOTGUNNER DOES NOT, UNLESS HE'S HUNTING BIG GAME WITH RIFLED SLUGS WHEN HE NEEDS RIFLE-TYPE SIGHTS. A SHOTGUN'S SCATTERING PATTERN OF SHOT ALLOWS A WIDER MARGIN FOR ERROR AND CAN BE LINED UP QUICKLY FOR A FAST SHOT. THIS IS DONE BY POINTING A SCATTER-GUN'S MUZZLE AT THE TARGET, OR IN FRONT OF MOVING TARGETS; IT'S LIKE POINTING YOUR FINGER.

FOR ACCURACY, A SHOTGUN MUST FIT YOU SO IT LINES UP TARGET WITHOUT CONSCIOUS EFFORT; YOU MERELY PUT MUZZLE ON TARGET.

Signs Contract

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Joe Roberts, who scored 332 points in 68 games last year with the Syracuse Nationals, has signed a 1961-62 contract with that National Basketball Association club.
Roberts, whose signing was announced Tuesday, formerly played with Ohio State.

Jets, Buffalo Win Playoffs

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Columbus and Buffalo drew first blood in the opening round of the International League semi-final playoffs Tuesday night as the league champion Jets defeated Rochester 4-1 and the Bisons topped Charleston 3-2.
Jim Umbricht, a nine-game winner for the Jets, fired a seven-hitter.
Back-to-back home runs by Johnny Powers and Donn Clendenon broke the scoreless deadlock in the fourth inning as the Jets scored three runs.
Buffalo scored two runs after two were out in the ninth to derail the Marlins and Ray Washburn.
Alvin Jackson (12-7) will pitch for Columbus tonight against Rochester's John Anderson (14-9) in the second game of the best of seven set. Paul Brown (3-2) or Bill Smith (9-7) will get the call for Buffalo against Charleston's Dean Stone (12-8).

Phillie Rookie Wins Bat Title

NEW YORK (AP)—Ted Savage, rookie outfielder of the Buffalo Bisons, won the 1961 International League batting championship with a .325 average, the final statistics revealed Tuesday.
Savage, owned by the Philadelphia Phillies, also had the most hits, 178, and scored the most runs, 111. He is the third Buffalo player in the last five years to win the batting title. The others were Pancho Herrara in 1959 and Joe Caffie in 1957.
John Powell of Rochester was second in batting with a .320 mark, followed by Tom Tresh, Richmond, .315. Powell captured the home run crown with 32 while Frank Leja of Syracuse had the most runs batted in, 98. The averages were compiled by The Associated Press.
Ray Washburn of Charleston was the top pitcher with 16 victories and a league leading 2.34 earned run average.

Turn About

DETROIT (NEA)—A 15-year-old youngster wrote Yale Lary of the Detroit Lions asking for punting tips and advising he carried a 44.5 yard mark in his games. Lary, one of the National Football League's top punters, replied by asking the lad to send along his punting secret. "After all, wrote Lary, 'I averaged only 43.8 last year.'"

Jimmy Dykes Will Not Be Retained

CHICAGO (AP)—Jimmie Dykes will not be retained as manager of the Cleveland Indians, The Associated Press learned today.

One of the current Cleveland coaches, Mel McGaha, is expected to become manager for 1962 with Dykes shifting to a National League club as a coach. Dykes has coached in recent years at both Cincinnati and Pittsburgh.

"I don't know anything about it," Dykes said in Cleveland.

Gabe Paul, the Indians' general manager, would neither confirm nor deny the information.

McGaha, who joined the Indians' coaching staff this season after leading the Toronto Maple Leafs to the 1960 International League pennant, was unavailable to comment.

The 64-year-old Dykes, now in his 45th consecutive baseball season, went to Cleveland last year when he was traded for Joe Gordon of Detroit in an unprecedented swap of managers. He is in his 21st season as a major league manager, having previously handled the Chicago White Sox, Philadelphia Athletics, Baltimore Orioles and Cincinnati Reds in addition to the Tigers.

A SHOTGUN'S SCATTERING PATTERN OF SHOT ALLOWS A WIDER MARGIN FOR ERROR AND CAN BE LINED UP QUICKLY FOR A FAST SHOT. THIS IS DONE BY POINTING A SCATTERGUN'S MUZZLE AT THE TARGET, OR IN FRONT OF MOVING TARGETS; IT'S LIKE POINTING YOUR FINGER.

FOR ACCURACY, A SHOTGUN MUST FIT YOU SO IT LINES UP TARGET WITHOUT CONSCIOUS EFFORT; YOU MERELY PUT MUZZLE ON TARGET.

Jets, Buffalo Win Playoffs

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Columbus and Buffalo drew first blood in the opening round of the International League semi-final playoffs Tuesday night as the league champion Jets defeated Rochester 4-1 and the Bisons topped Charleston 3-2.

Jim Umbricht, a nine-game winner for the Jets, fired a seven-hitter.

Back-to-back home runs by Johnny Powers and Donn Clendenon broke the scoreless deadlock in the fourth inning as the Jets scored three runs.

Buffalo scored two runs after two were out in the ninth to derail the Marlins and Ray Washburn.

Alvin Jackson (12-7) will pitch for Columbus tonight against Rochester's John Anderson (14-9) in the second game of the best of seven set. Paul Brown (3-2) or Bill Smith (9-7) will get the call for Buffalo against Charleston's Dean Stone (12-8).

Phillie Rookie Wins Bat Title

NEW YORK (AP)—Ted Savage, rookie outfielder of the Buffalo Bisons, won the 1961 International League batting championship with a .325 average, the final statistics revealed Tuesday.

Savage, owned by the Philadelphia Phillies, also had the most hits, 178, and scored the most runs, 111. He is the third Buffalo player in the last five years to win the batting title. The others were Pancho Herrara in 1959 and Joe Caffie in 1957.

John Powell of Rochester was second in batting with a .320 mark, followed by Tom Tresh, Richmond, .315. Powell captured the home run crown with 32 while Frank Leja of Syracuse had the most runs batted in, 98. The averages were compiled by The Associated Press.

Ray Washburn of Charleston was the top pitcher with 16 victories and a league leading 2.34 earned run average.

DETROIT (NEA)—A 15-year-old youngster wrote Yale Lary of the Detroit Lions asking for punting tips and advising he carried a 44.5 yard mark in his games. Foundation Play Is First Drama by Theodore Sturgeon

Excitement is mounting to a fever pitch for the Woodstock Foundation's 1961 production Friday and Saturday at the Woodstock Playhouse and a brief biography of the author, Theodore Sturgeon of Woodstock is in order.

The name of the play, described as a pyschological thriller, is "It Could Be Beautiful." It will be Sturgeon's first venture into the field of dramatic writing for the theatre.

Widely known in the literary world for his novels and short stories, Sturgeon is in almost 60 anthologies. He has had 21 books published and his work appears in the Best American Short Stories for 1960. He won the International Fantasy Award in 1954 for his book, "More Than Human," recently re-issued in paper back by Ballantine Books. His most recent science fiction novels are: Some of Your Blood, Venus Plux X, Pyramid and Voyage to the Bottom of the Sea.

The author of this year's Foundation presentation is no newcomer to the world of the quill. Theodore Sturgeon started writing at the age of 18 and since then, from spare time to full time. Though his is most widely known for his science fiction, he has written westerns and fact stories for comics.

Sturgeon until 1952 worked for Fortune Magazine and then transferred to the international edition of Time. During this period he decided to become his own boss and devote himself totally to his writing and family. The Sturgeon family, who lives happily in Woodstock, consists of Robin 9, Tandy 7, Noel 4, Timothy, nearly 2, and Sturgeon's wife, Marion.

Ran Away to Sea

Sturgeon, who is 43 years old, was born in Staten Island, went to high school in Philadelphia and then to the Merchant Marine Academy on a scholarship. He found the Academy not to his liking so, in keeping with convention for an author, he ran away to sea at 17. During that time, he says, he made the unromantic discovery that going to sea meant going nowhere, really, since one wakes up and sees the same faces every morning. However, he stayed long enough to pick up five ratings in the United States Merchant Marine.

Until he achieved success and security as a writer, Sturgeon earned his bread through a wide variety of occupations, including door-to-door selling, driving truck, short order cook and operating a resort hotel in the West Indies when Pearl Harbor made it such a small world. During the war he became a bulldozer operator for the Army in Jamaica and then for the Navy in Puerto Rico. The armed forces would not enlist him due to a heart condition, but as a civilian he could get himself a 70-hour-a-week job with the military and navy at the gears of the land leveler.

The psychological thriller that will be presented at Woodstock Playhouse Friday and Saturday night represents a new phase of Sturgeon's mastery with the pen. It is a three-act play having nothing to do with science fiction but all to do with steady suspense.

The Woodstock Foundation considers it a fact that the results of Sept. 15-16 will leave Sturgeon with a hit on his hands and the Foundation with a note of national recognition in the theatre world.

Woodstock P-TA Sets Meeting on Thursday

The Woodstock P-TA will hold its first meeting of the season Thursday at 8 p. m, at the Woodstock school auditorium.

P-TA president, Jack Gibson, has announced there will be an open house and the new teachers will be introduced. Refreshments will be served after the meeting.

Dr. George Sullivan, principal of the Onteora Central School District, will be present.

L. Judson Morhouse Speaker At The GOP Rally Saturday

L. Judson Morhouse, chairman of the New York State Republican Committee since 1954, will be the principal speaker at the third annual Woodstock Republican Club rally on Sunday, Sept. 17.

The location selected for the rally is famous Meads Mountain House, set in the beautiful hills overlooking Woodstock township. Rally chairman, Joseph Forno, is planning for a large

The festivities will start with a parade featuring antique automobiles, leaving the Woodstock Playhouse at 12 noon. The speaking program will begin at 1 p. m.

Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson of Woodstock will introduce Morhouse. Also participating will be local county and town candidates.

A steak dinner with all the trimmings will be served at two settings, one at 2:30 p. m. and the other at 5 p. m. The rally has traditionally been a very large and successful Republican activity. This rally has grown each year and Thomas H. Dendy, Republican Club president, says this one will top them all.

The public is invited to attend and tickets may be obtained at the rally location or at the following other locations: Ulster County Republican headquarters in Kingston; Woodstock Garage and Colonial Pharmacy in Woodstock; from Mrs. Kay Vance in the Willow-Lake Hill area and Roger Cashdollar in Wittenberg and Bearsville.

Began at Age 23

Aside from Army service in World War II, Morhouse has been actively interested in Republican politics since the age of 23, when he ran for Justice of the Peace in Ticonderoga. At that time he was studying law in the office of the Essex County attorney. Although defeated on his first try, he ran again four years later in 1941 and was elected.

In 1945 he was elected Assemblyman from Essex County and served in the state legislature for six years. While an assemblyman, he was particularly active in the work of the Labor and Industry Committee and in road improvement. As a member of the Special Committee on Military Affairs, he was instrumental in the passage of the Civil Defense Act. In 1952, Morhouse actively campaigned for Eisenhower and helped to organize the strong support of Republican women throughout the state.

Before his election, at the age of 40, as chairman of the New York Republican State Committee, Morhouse served as executive director of the New York Good Roads Association; president of the National Good Roads Association and chairman of the Committee on Transportation of the Interstate Commission on the Lake Champlain Basin. He was a member of the Real Estate Advisory Board to the Secretary of State and of the Commission on Town and Village Tax Relationships. He resigned from these positions when elected chairman of the State Republican organization in order to devote all of his time and energies to Republican organizational activities.

Father of Four

An alumnus of Middleburg College and a member of the New York State Bar, Morhouse is married and the father of four children. He is a member of the Elks, the American Legion, Commerce and the Automobile Old Timers Association.

Morhouse has emphasized that the best way to advance the Republican party is by giving needed service on the community level. He has urged that all local Republican Party units initiate neighborhood improvement projects including new playgrounds, parks and the like as well as continually striving for better government, soundly administered. He holds that the Republican Party by taking leadership on the local level, "will build into an overwhelming force in state and national elections."

Mele Announces Music Studio

FRANK MELE

Frank Mele of Woodstock, violist and violinist with the Rochester Philharmonic, Pittsburgh Symphony and Symphony of the Air, has announced the opening of his studio for private instruction of the violin and viola in Woodstock.

Mele brings to his teachings a broad and intensive experience gained in a career as varied and colorful as it is distinguished. Born in Rochester, N. Y., he had his early musical studies there and later with Andre Polah at Syracuse University and with Arthur Hartmann, who is known to musicians as one of the greatest violinists of his time.

Mele joined the Rochester Philharmonic at the age of 21. "It was a great and moving event in my life," he said. "It was a season of guest conductors, and they were among the greats: Sir Thomas Beechman, Molinari, Reiner and others. Later the orchestra was under the permanent direction of Jose Iturbi." Mele also held classes in violin in the Rochester Board of Education program of weekly musical instruction.

"Some years afterwards," says Mele, "I undertook the study of the viola, and later joined the Modern Art String Quartet as violist in concerts of contemporary American music and recordings for The Voice of America and Yale University.

Mele was also the founder and director of the "Festino," a yearly summer festival of concerts and readings of new music by American composers held at Woodstock. The fall and winter periods at this time found him playing in the Pittsburgh Symphony with conductors Guido Cantelli, Victor de Sabata, Steinberg and others.

After five years, Mele decided to stay in the East, playing as principal violist with the Vermont State Symphony and in engagements with the Symphony of the Air with Leopold Stokowski and others.

During a visit to Italy in 1955-56, Mele was invited to join with leading European instrumentalists in concerts of chamber music at Florence and was subsequently invited to the principal chair of the Italian Chamber Orchestra, whose recordings (Haydn Society label) have won critical acclaim.

On his return to the states, Mele joined the Knickerbocker Players, a well known chamber orchestra, as its principal violist in transcontinental and Eastern seaboard tours with Eugene List, an American concert pianist who has won the admiration and affection of U.S. and Canadian audiences.

"I am prepared to meet the increasing demand for instruction of high professional quality," said Mele, adding: "and if necessary will open a branch studio in Kingston for those who are pressed for time. I would like to work with students in the progressive and advanced stages. But I will accept some beginners as well, for it is at this point that good or bad habits are formed.

Mele invites inquiries from parents, adult amateurs, string teachers and members of amateur string groups who could profit by expert coaching for private playing or performing in public.

Foundation Play Is First Drama by Theodore Sturgeon

Excitement is mounting to a fever pitch for the Woodstock Foundation's 1961 production Friday and Saturday at the Woodstock Playhouse and a brief biography of the author, Theodore Sturgeon of Woodstock is in order.

The name of the play, described as a pyschological thriller, is "It Could Be Beautiful." It will be Sturgeon's first venture into the field of dramatic writing for the theatre.

Widely known in the literary world for his novels and short stories, Sturgeon is in almost 60 anthologies. He has had 21 books published and his work appears in the Best American Short Stories for 1960. He won the International Fantasy Award in 1954 for his book, "More Than Human," recently re-issued in paper back by Ballantine Books. His most recent science fiction novels are: Some of Your Blood, Venus Plux X, Pyramid and Voyage to the Bottom of the Sea.

The author of this year's Foundation presentation is no newcomer to the world of the quill. Theodore Sturgeon started writing at the age of 18 and since then, from spare time to full time. Though his is most widely known for his science fiction, he has written westerns and fact stories for comics.

Sturgeon until 1952 worked for Fortune Magazine and then transferred to the international edition of Time. During this period he decided to become his own boss and devote himself totally to his writing and family. The Sturgeon family, who lives happily in Woodstock, consists of Robin 9, Tandy 7, Noel 4, Timothy, nearly 2, and Sturgeon's wife, Marion.

Ran Away to Sea

Sturgeon, who is 43 years old, was born in Staten Island, went to high school in Philadelphia and then to the Merchant Marine Academy on a scholarship. He found the Academy not to his liking so, in keeping with convention for an author, he ran away to sea at 17. During that time, he says, he made the unromantic discovery that going to sea meant going nowhere, really, since one wakes up and sees the same faces every morning. However, he stayed long enough to pick up five ratings in the United States Merchant Marine.

Until he achieved success and security as a writer, Sturgeon earned his bread through a wide variety of occupations, including door-to-door selling, driving truck, short order cook and operating a resort hotel in the West Indies when Pearl Harbor made it such a small world. During the war he became a bulldozer operator for the Army in Jamaica and then for the Navy in Puerto Rico. The armed forces would not enlist him due to a heart condition, but as a civilian he could get himself a 70-hour-a-week job with the military and navy at the gears of the land leveler.

The psychological thriller that will be presented at Woodstock Playhouse Friday and Saturday night represents a new phase of Sturgeon's mastery with the pen. It is a three-act play having nothing to do with science fiction but all to do with steady suspense.

The Woodstock Foundation considers it a fact that the results of Sept. 15-16 will leave Sturgeon with a hit on his hands and the Foundation with a note of national recognition in the theatre world.

Woodstock P-TA Sets Meeting on Thursday

The Woodstock P-TA will hold its first meeting of the season Thursday at 8 p. m. at the Woodstock school auditorium.

P-TA president, Jack Gibson, has announced there will be an open house and the new teachers will be introduced. Refreshments will be served after the meeting.

Dr. George Sullivan, principal of the Onteora Central School District, will be present.

L. Judson Morhouse Speaker At The GOP Rally Saturday

L. Judson Morhouse, chairman of the New York State Republican Committee since 1954, will be the principal speaker at the third annual Woodstock Republican Club rally on Sunday, Sept. 17.

The location selected for the rally is famous Meads Mountain House, set in the beautiful hills overlooking Woodstock township. Rally chairman, Joseph Forno, is planning for a large turnout which is symbolic of Republican rallies held in the past.

The festivities will start with a parade featuring antique automobiles, leaving the Woodstock Playhouse at 12 noon. The speaking program will begin at 1 p. m.

Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson of Woodstock will introduce Morhouse. Also participating will be local county and town candidates.

A steak dinner with all the trimmings will be served at two settings, one at 2:30 p. m. and the other at 5 p. m. The rally has traditionally been a very large and successful Republican activity. This rally has grown each year and Thomas H. Dendy, Republican Club president, says this one will top them all.

The public is invited to attend and tickets may be obtained at the rally location or at the following other locations: Ulster County Republican headquarters in Kingston; Woodstock Garage and Colonial Pharmacy in Woodstock; from Mrs. Kay Vance in the Willow-Lake Hill area and Roger Cashdollar in Wittenberg and Bearsville.

Began at Age 23

Aside from Army service in World War II, Morhouse has been actively interested in Republican politics since the age of 23, when he ran for Justice of the Peace in Ticonderoga. At that time he was studying law in the office of the Essex County attorney. Although defeated on his first try, he ran again four years later in 1941 and was elected.

In 1945 he was elected Assemblyman from Essex County and served in the state legislature for six years. While an assemblyman, he was particularly active in the work of the Labor and Industry Committee and in road improvement. As a member of the Special Committee on Military Affairs, he was instrumental in the passage of the Civil Defense Act. In 1952, Morhouse actively campaigned for Eisenhower and helped to organize the strong support of Republican women throughout the state.

Before his election, at the age of 40, as chairman of the New York Republican State Committee, Morhouse served as executive director of the New York Good Roads Association; president of the National Good Roads Association and chairman of the Committee on Transportation of the Interstate Commission on the Lake Champlain Basin. He was a member of the Real Estate Advisory Board to the Secretary of State and of the Commission on Town and Village Tax Relationships. He resigned from these positions when elected chairman of the State Republican organization in order to devote all of his time and energies to Republican organizational activities.

Father of Four

An alumnus of Middleburg College and a member of the New York State Bar, Morhouse is married and the father of four children. He is a member of the Elks, the American Legion, Commerce and the Automobile Old Timers Association.

Morhouse has emphasized that the best way to advance the Republican party is by giving needed service on the community level. He has urged that all local Republican Party units initiate neighborhood improvement projects including new playgrounds, parks and the like as well as continually striving for better government, soundly administered. He holds that the Republican Party by taking leadership on the local level, "will build into an overwhelming force in state and national elections."
